1611—1706.

SECOND PART,

VIZ.,

CREATIONS BY CHARLES I.

27 March 1625 to 30 Jan. 1648/9.

The number of Baronetcies of England that had been created by James I was 204, not reckoning therein the Baronetcy of Vavasour, which was in fact created by his successor, 22 June 1631, tho' with the precedency of 29 June 1611. James had undertaken that the number should not exceed 200, and, allowing for six which had become extinct, they did not exceed 198 at his death. "Charles I, however, had not been long on the throne, when, relying on his royal prerogative as the Fountain of Honour, he disregarded the stipulated limitation of the number of Baronets." III. 1670? SIR HENRY BACON, Bart. [1627], of Heringfleet aforesaid and of Gilllingham, Norfolk, s. and h., which last estate he inherited from his sister's husband, Sir Richard Bacon, 3rd Bart. [1662] of Gillingham aforesaid; suc. to the Baronetcy (on the death of his father), about 1670. He m., 29 June 1671, at Sturston, Suffolk, Sarah, da. of Sir John CASTLETON, 2d Bart. [a] Such surrender, however would have been invalid, according to the decision, 1678, in the case of the Viscountcy of Purbeck. See note sub "STONEHOUSE" Baronetcy, cr. 7 May 1628.

[b] This transaction is supposed to have been effected in consequence of a bribe from Goring to the needy baronet, who (save for such bribe), gained nothing whatever by it. There appears to have been no relationship between the parties, and the connection between them is so ludicrously remote as hardly to be worth any consideration. A certain Sir Henry Bowyer married (as her first husband) Dorothy, da. of George Goring, of Danny, co. Sussex, and died childless in 1606, his widow promptly remarrying. That Henry was great grandson of William Bowyer, from whom, by another of his sons, the grantee of 1678 was a great great great grandson. The said Dorothy was granddaughter of Sir William Goring, of Burton (d. 1553), from whom Henry Goring, the successor to the Baronetcy created in 1678, was (by another son), 4th in descent. Thus James Bowyer, the grantee of 1678 was 2d cousin twice removed to a man who died above seventy years ago, without issue, leaving a widow, who was first cousin (also) twice removed to Henry Goring, the remainder man and subsequent inheritor of the Baronetcy thus created.

He m. 7 Nov. 1724, at the Chapel Royal, Whitehall, Susan, da. of Sir Isaac Rebow, of Colchester. He d. at Bath 4 and was bur. 16 Oct. 1738 at Gillingham. Will pr. 1739. His widow, who was b. Sep. 1687, was living 1771.

VI. 1738. Sir Edmund Bacon, Bart. [1627], of Gillingham aforesaid, s. and h. ; b. 7 and bap. 17 Aug. 1725 at Gillingham ; suc. to the Baronetcy. 5 Oct. 1738 ; ed. at Westm. School, 1741. He d. unm 6, and was bur. 12 April 1750 at Gillingham. Admon. 7 June 1750.

VII. 1750. Sir Henry Bacon, Bart. [1627], of Gillingham aforesaid, uncle and h., being 2d s. of the 4th Bart. by his 1st wife. He was b. 5 and bap. 8 Oct. 1693 at Gillingham ; suc. to the Baronetcy, 6 April 1750. He d. unm., and was bur. 10 April 1753 at Gillingham.

VIII. 1753. Sir Richard Bacon, Bart. [1627], of Colchester, Essex, br. and h., being 3d s. of the 4th Bart., by his 1st wife. He was b. 22 Feb., and bap. 5 March 1695, at Gillingham ; suc. to the Baronetcy, 10 April 1753. By the death of his cousin, Sir Edmund Bacon, 6th Bart. [1611] of Garboldisham, co. Norfolk. he suc. to the Baronetcy, conferred, 22 May 1611, on his ancestor (Sir Nicholas Bacon, of Redgrave, co. Suffolk), becoming thus the premier Baronet. See "Bacon," cr. 22 May 1611, under the 7th Baronet.

Wishing to debar his eldest son from the succession to his estate and title, he obtained a new patent of Baronetcy, 5 May 1670, with a clause granting the precedency of 7 May 1628 to himself for life, but with a spec. rem. to his 2d and younger sons and the heirs male of their bodies respectively, having, for that purpose, surrendered (or rather endeavoured to surrender) the Baronetcy of the last named date.[a] He m. (lic., Archdeaconry of Berks, 22 April 1633, she about 18, to marry at Hurley) Margaret, da. of Richard (LOVELACE), 1st BARON LOVELACE OF HURLEY, by his 2d wife Margaret, da. and h. of William DODSWORTH. He was disinherited "for marrying without his father's consent" [Le Neve's Baronetage], as above stated, but claimed and enjoyed the title of Baronet under the patent of 7 May 1628 (notwithstanding the purported surrender thereof), succeeding to the Baronetcy on his father's death about 1675. ---

[a] It being, however, contrary to English law (as adjudged by the House of Lords in the case of the Viscountcy of Purbeck) to bar any title of honour, this surrender was invalid. A similar attempt to debar the eldest son was made Feb. 1638/9, in the case of the Tyrell Baronetcy, cr. 31 Oct. 1627. See also the purported surrender in 1678 of the Baronetcy of Bowyer, cr. 23 July 1627.

[b] In this will he mentions "that wicked family the Stonhouses of Radley," as also how that his father was by his parents disinherited, "though he never gave them any provocation, and it was for no other reason but by their having taken an antipathy against him."

(a) His later career is thus described in F. Boase's Modern English Biography, 1850—1900. "Officer of a negro regiment in Charlestown, U.S.A., during the war ; tried, convicted, and sent to gaol for defrauding a negro of his pension, 1866 ; dropped name of Stonhouse and called himself Vansittart for some time ; Magistrate and teacher of a coloured school at St. Stephen's, Berkley county ; lived in great poverty at Pineville ; clerk, then book-keeper and postmaster, with P. (b) See an account of this family, by E. Chester Waters, in The Herald and Genealogist, vol. ii, p. 559.

(c) Besides four sons who d. in infancy, he had a son John, bap. 2 Sep. 1605 at Islington, who m. Elizabeth, da. and h. of Aunselyn Fowler, of Gloucestershire, and d. v.p. and s.p. 1 Sep. 1638. He was admitted to Gray's Inn, 10 Feb. 1635/6 ; was M.P. for Northumberland, Nov. 1645 till, apparently (tho' a decided Parliamentarian), secluded in Dec. 1648. He suc. to the Baronetcy in 1658. He m., in or before 1644, Jane, da. of Henry STAPLETON, of Wighill, co. York, by Mary, illegit. da. of Sir John FORSTER, of Alnwicke.[b] She was executrix to her father's will in March 1657. He d., about 1682, aged about 61. Admon. 6 Feb. 1681/2.

III. 1682? to 1697. SIR JOHN FENWICK, Bart. [1628], of Fenwick, Wallington and Hexham aforesaid, s. and h., aged 10 in 1654. He was M.P. for Northumberland (in five Parls.) 1677-87, having suc. to the Baronetcy about 1682. He, in 1685, brought up the bill of attainder against the Duke of Monmouth. He was so prodigal of his wealth that he was forced to alienate nearly all his estates. His fidelity to the hereditary royal race of Stuart was unbounded. He was concerned in a scheme for the restoration of James II, in which it is said that Lord Marlborough, the Duke of Shrewsbury, Admiral Russell and many others who held posts under the established government were implicated. He was apprehended at New Romney, committed to the Tower, and indicted for high treason 28 May 1696. The great national influence of the other conspirators made it good policy to ignore their backslidings, and, though narrowly watched, they were continued in the Government employment, but Sir John Fenwick, being a ruined man and desperate Jacobite, it was thought fit to make an example of him. It was, however, against the law of the land to convict a person of high treason on the oath of only one witness,[c] but an ex post facto law was made to apply to this case (the majority in the Commons being 33, out of 345, and that in the Lords only 7, besides that 40 Peers protested against it), which act promptly, and even it is said gladly[d] received the Royal assent. He was thus legally murdered by an act "which cannot be too much condemned as a breach of the most sacred and unalterable rules of justice." He d. s.p.s., being beheaded on Tower Hill 27 Jan. 1696/7, aged 52. He was bur. the day following in the church of St. Martin's in the fields. The Baronetcy at his death became extinct, but it was not forfeited, as all execution of the act of attainder (excepting only that of the beheading) had been remitted by writ of the 18th inst. He m. 14 July 1663, at St. James', Clerkenwell (Lic. London, he about 19, she about 16), Mary, 1st da. of Charles (HOWARD), 1st EARL OF CARLISLE, by Anne, da. of Edward (HOWARD), 1st BARON HOWARD OF ESCRICK. She, who had been unremitting in her exertions to save her husband's life, d. 27 Oct. 1708, aged 60, and was bur. at York Minster. M.I.

(a) Her only s. John Fenwick, aged 3 years in 1615, was M.P. for Morpeth, 1640 till disabled in Jan. 1643/4, was a Colonel of Dragoons, and d. s.p., v.p., being slain at the battle of Marston Moor, 2 July 1644.

(b) Elizabeth Radcliffe, aged above 5 years in 1626, sister of Francis (Radcliffe), 1st Earl of Derwentwater, is said to have m. "Sir William Fenwick, Baronet" [Mis. Gen. et Her., N.S., vol. ii, p. 297]. That William was, however, only a knight, being of Meldon, co. Northd., and a younger br. of Sir John, the 1st Bart [Genealogist, O.S., pt, ii, p. 17]. His admon 2 May 1653 was granted to Elizabeth, the widow.

(c) This witness was a certain Capt. George Porter, who, it is said, had taken a bribe of £300.

(d) It appears he was personally obnoxious to both their Majesties—(1) to William, for some remarks made on his conduct while serving in the army in Holland ; and (2) to Mary (whom, doubtless, he considered a modern "Tullia") for ostentatiously refusing to take off his hat to her when he met her as Queen in the park.

(a) In many accounts, this Baronetcy is stated to have been given to Sir William, the son and successor of this Sir William. Such, however, was not the case, as this last named William, in his will, dated 1634, calls himself "Knt. and Bart.," and describes his son William [not as "Bart.," but] as "Knt."

(b) Admon. 30 June 1670, "Dame Elizabeth Wrey, late of St. Martin's in the Fields, Midx., but formerly of Treleigh, in St. Ives, co. Cornwall," granted to Mary Courtney, niece or grandchild ["nepti"] and next of kin. This admon. probably refers to Elizabeth, da. of Sir William Courtenay, wife of the 1st Bart. She, however, was a mother as early as, or earlier than 1600, and certainly left issue. It is possible (considering the date), that the admon. may refer to Elizabeth (Chichester), born 1607, wife of the 2d Bart.

(c) He is not the "Sir William Wray," who was one of seven persons, all of the Bishopric of Durham, who were Knighted there, 24 April 1617. That William was "of Beamish," and was bur. 1 Jan. 1628, at Tanfield, Durham.

(d) This lady brought the estate of Tawstock, near Barnstaple, in North Devon, to the Wrey family, which henceforth became their chief seat. She and her two sisters, on the death of their father, the Earl of Bath, 2 March 1636/7, became coheirs to the ancient Barony of Fitzwarine, cr. by writ, 1295. Of these two sisters, Elizabeth, COUNTESS OF DENBIGH, d. s.p. 22 Sep. 1670, while Dorothy m. (1] Thomas GREY styled LORD GREY OF GROBY, and (2) Gustavus Mackworth, and left issue.

1689 till death. He m., 3 May 1681, at St. Giles' in the Wood, Florence, da. of Sir John ROLLE, K.B., of Marrais, and afterwards of Stevenstone, Devon, by Florence, 1st da. of Dennis ROLLE, of Stevenstone aforesaid. He was wounded in a duel with James Pound, in May, from the effects of which he d. 28 July, and was bur. 13 Aug. 1696, at Tawstock. Will, dat. 16 and 18 Aug. 1694, pr. 7 June 1697. His wife, living Aug. 1694, probably survived him.

[a] In this last entry she is called "Ellen Caroline Wrey, formerly Riddle," the place and date of the previous marriage being recited, and it being added "doubts having arisen as to the validity of such marriage." In the North Devon Journal, 25 Sep. 1879 (quoting the Western Times for the 22 and 23 inst.), is a long account of the marriages of this Baronet. His first wife is stated to have been an Irish woman "of rare beauty, who bore the name of the widow Johnson, née Ellen O'Brien," and who was nurse to the eldest child of Mrs. Hartopp, his sister. The marriage of 1818 is said to have been in the belief of the death of the said Ellen's first husband, who had not been heard of for seven years. His existence, however, is said to have been afterwards discovered, as also that his name was not Johnson but Riddle : that he had "been a groom to Lord Adare," and that his death took place in 1826. The second wife is said to have been daughter of the lodge keeper at Tawstock and lady's maid to the first. There are, apparently, some inaccuracies in this newspaper account, as e.g., that the first marriage in 1818 was "at St. Anne's, Holborn," the second one "at Brighton," etc.

[b] Ellen Caroline, his 1st daughter, and, eventually, sole heir, b. 1819, m. 9 Aug. 1838, Edward Joseph Weld, of Lulworth Castle, co. Dorset, and d. 13 Oct. 1866, leaving issue, among whom (if the said Ellen can be proved to have been legitimate) the coheirship of the Barony of Fitzwarine is vested.

the Plymouth Herald 28 July 1853 is a long account of her recent elopement with Capt. Berkeley rest, s. of Sir George B. It is added that "already has the dreadful hallucination passed away, reciliation been sought". Presumably she was forgiven by her husband.

IX. 1879. Sir Henry Bourchier Wrey, Bart. [1628], of Tawstock Court aforesaid, br. of the half blood, and h. male, being s. of the 7th Bart. by his 2d wife, b. at Tawstock Court, 5 June 1797. Coll., Oxford; matric. 11 May 1815; B.A., 28 Jan. 1819; M.A., 27 June 1821; in Holy Orders; Vicar of Okehampton, 1822; Rector of Tawstock, 1840-82; suc. to the Baronetcy, 11 Sep. 1879. (a) John Trelawny, the eldest son, d. s.p. and v.p. in 1680.

(b) The feeling roused by this arbitrary act is well set forth in a spirited poem by the Rev. Robert Stephen Hawker (41 years Vicar of Morwenstow, Cornwall, d. 15 Aug. 1875, aged 70), entitled "The Song of the Western Men," who (the head of one of their leading families, being a prisoner) may naturally be supposed to have been especially affected. It commences as below—

"A good sword and a trusty hand,
A merry heart and true,
King James's men shall understand
What CORNISH LADS can do.
And have they fixed the Where and When,
And shall TRELAWNY die?
Then twenty thousand Cornish men
Will know the reason why!
What! will they scorn TRE, POL and PEN?
And shall TRELAWNY die?
Then twenty thousand underground
Will know the reason why!"

The whole of this long passed for an original song dating from 1688, and its author (when he declared himself) states from local tradition that the refrain ["And shall Trelawny die," etc.] was so, but "Hawker's testimony is not quite conclusive. There is some ground for believing that the cry was first raised in 1628, owing to the fears of Cornishmen for the life of Sir John Trelawny, 1st Bart., at the hands of the House of Commons" [Dict. Nat. Biogr.].

(c) Their ten years' courtship is recounted in the "Love Letters of Myrtilla and Philander, 1706-36." The match was opposed by the bride's father.

[b] "Neither as a Peer or a Baronet is the existence of this person or his posterity admitted in Wood's edit. (1813) of Douglas's Peerage of Scotland, nor is he inserted [in Wotton's Baronetage, 1741] in Kimber and Johnson's Baronetage, 1771, either in a distinct article or in the account of this family given in relation to the Norton Conyers branch, which is also descended from the first Baronet of Esk. In the Baronetage of 1819 an article for "Graham of Esk" is inserted, and thenceforward the title [i.e., that Baronetcy] is recognised by all subsequent works of that class, but we have failed to discover anywhere that the attainder of 1690 has actually been reversed." That [erroneous] affiliation is, however, ascribed to him in the old (1764) edit. of Douglas's Peerage of Scotland, though not in the subsequent one of 1816.

[c] It is as well, perhaps, to quote Dugdale's own words from his "Preface" to the said catalogue, as given in the edition [p. 67] of his Ancient Usage of Arms, edited by "T. C. Banks, Esq." (folio 1812):—"Whereas in the year 1667, a catalogue of the Baronets of England was by authority published, to the end that such as had as many as nineteen Baronetcies (whose existence for the most part has never been questioned) which are not named in the abovementioned list of the Creations, 1483—1646. These are:—Strutt, 5 March 1641/2; St. Quintin, 8 March 1641/2; Kempe, 14 March 1641/2; Reade, 16 March 1641/2; Enyon, 9 April 1642; Williams, 19 April 1642; Wintour, 29 April 1642; Borlase, 4 May 1642; Knollys, 6 May 1642; Ingelby, 17 May 1642; Widdrington [of Widdrington], 9 July 1642; Valckenburg and Constable, 20 July 1642; Blakiston, or Blackstone, 30 July 1642; Widdrington [of Cartington], 8 Aug. 1642; Markham and Lennard, 15 Aug. 1642; Bland, 30 Aug. 1642, and Throckmorton, 1 Sep. 1642. It is accordingly thought better, on and after the date of May 1641 when the enrolments are so very irregular, to follow this official (or semi-official) Catalogue as given by Dugdale (referring to it as "Dugdale's Catalogue"), which includes the above-named nineteen Baronetcies, indispersed among those mentioned in the list of Creations, 1483—1646. There are, however, many other Baronetcies conferred during the Civil Wars which are not comprehended in this Catalogue (e.g., Bathurst, Cokayne, Courtenay, Haggerston, Lloyd, etc.) which will be here dealt with at the end of those given by Dugdale.

obtained patents for that honour, which were not enrolled, should, by descerning an omission of their names therein, take care to supply that defect, so that upon a second impression thereof they might be inserted. Now, whereas, after 12 years and more, no enrollments are yet to be found for sundry persons which have assumed this title, which causeth some to doubt whether they can make any justifiable claims thereto. Whereas, therefore, no person [sic] whatsoever ought to take upon them [sic] this title of dignity, but such as have been really advanced thereto by letters patent under the Great Seal of England, it is thought fit by the Rt. Hon. Robert, Earl of Aylesbury, who, now excerciseth [i.e. as a Joint Commissioner, 30 June 1673] the office of Earl Marshall of England, that this present catalogue of such touching whom the Docquet books remaining with the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery do take notice, shall be published, to the end that those, of whom no memorial upon record is to be found to justifie their right to the title, may be known; and care henceforth taken in commissions of the peace and otherwise that it be not given unto them until they shall manifest the same unto the Lord Chancellor of England and have speciall order from his Lordship to enroll such patents where they pretend title to that dignity. As also that regard be had of giving credit to any other catalogues of the Baronets which are already publisht, or that shall be publisht, than what is taken from the authority of those Docquet books above mentioned or the enrollment of their patents."

I. 1641. "JAMES STONEHOUSE of Amerden Hall [in Debden] co. Essex, Esq.," s. and h. of Sir James STONHOUSE, of the same (who was the yst. br. of Sir William STONHOUSE, of Radley, 1st Bart. (a) But, according to Dugdale's Catalogue (see Memorandum on p. 84), it was 8 June 1641.

(b) Neither his own burial nor that of any of his descendants took place apparently at Debden.—"Lady Stonehouse" [Qy. his wife or widow] is there buried 20 March 1651/2, and his father, Sir James, 3 Dec. 1638. The will of "Dame Elizabeth Stonehouse" is pr. 1655.

(c) The statement of his succession is from Morant's Essex. It is, however, possible that the 1st and 2d Baronets are in reality but one person. The pedigree is very obscure and confused.

V. 1704? SIR WILLIAM CAREW, Bart. [1641], of Antony aforesaid, br. of the whole blood and h., b. about 1689; matric. at Oxford (Ex. Coll.) 4 Sep. 1707, aged 18, having previously suc. to the Baronetcy; was M.P. for Saltash 1711-13, and for Cornwall (six Parls.) 1713 till death; was cr. D.C.L. of Oxford, 22 May 1736. VI. 1744, to 1748. SIR COVENTRY CAREW, Bart. [1641], of Antony aforesaid, only s. and h., b. about 1717; matric. at Oxford (Balliol Coll.) 21 Feb. 1734/5, aged 18; suc. to the Baronetcy, 8 March 1743/4; was M.P. for Cornwall 1744 till death. He m. 1 July 1738 at St. George the Martyr, Queen Square, Midx., his cousin, Mary, only da. of Sir Coplestone Warwick BAMFYLDE, 2d Bart., [1641] by Gertrude, sister of the whole blood of Sir William CAREW, 5th Bart., abovenamed. His widow m. before 1750 Francis BULLER, of Morval, Cornwall (who d. s.p. 1766) and d. before Dec. 1762. Will pr. 1763.

According to Burke's Extinct Baronetage, on the death, in 1748, of the 6th Bart. the Baronetcy reverted to his kinsman.

SIR ALEXANDER CAREW, (who was "in Holy Orders") in right of his descent from "Thomas CAREW, of Harrowbear, 2d s. of Sir Alexander, the 2d Bart.," and that at his death without issue it became extinct.

This, apparently, is a mistake. Thomas Carew, abovenamed, had, by Wilmot his wife, two sons, of whom the yr. son, John Carew, living 1691, d. s.p., while the elder son, Alexander, living 1678 and 1691, who was in Holy Orders and Vicar of St. Wenn, d. (also) s.p. in 1709.[b] This Alexander appears to be the person presumed (erroneously) to be living in 1748, and consequently then entitled to the Baronetcy. Sir Thomas Carew, of Barley, co. Devon (a yr. s. of the 1st Bart. by his 2d wife), had by Elizabeth, da. of John Cooper, several children, on some of whose descendants, if such there were, the Baronetcy is more likely to have devolved.

CURZON:

cr. 11 Aug. 1641[b];

having been previously, 18 June 1636, cr. a Baronet [S.]; afterwards, since 1761, Barons Scarsdale.

I. 1641. "John Curzon, of Kedleston, co. Derby, Baronet of Scotland," 1st s. and h. of John Curzon, of Kedleston aforesaid, by Millicent, da. of Sir Ralph Sacheverell, of Stanton, co. Derby, was b. about 1599; matric.

General John Owen (d. Jan. 1776), a yr. s. of the 3d Bart. Inasmuch, however, as the said Corbetta had a brother, Brigadier General William Owen (d. 1795), who was father not only of the 8th Bart. (who d. unm.), but of Frances, who m. Rev. Charles Tripp and had issue, the family of Tripp (and not that of Lord) represented these Baronets.

(a) A petition was presented, soon after 1851, to the Crown, by the Rev. Henry Tripp, M.A., Fellow of Worcester College, Oxford, eldest s. of Charles Tripp, D.D., Rector of Silverton, Devon, by Frances, sister and coheir (being the only sister who left issue) of Sir William Owen-Barlow, 8th and last Bart. [1641], praying that the dignity of a Baronet should be conferred on him "in consideration of his being the heir-in-blood of the ancient Baronets [of Owen] of Orielton," adding that this had been recently done in the cases of Pakington [cr. 1846], Barker-Mill [cr. 1836], and Mackenzie, afterwards Douglas of Glenbervie [cr. 1831]. To this the petitioner thought fit to add several very irrelevant statements, e.g., that his grandfather, the Rev. John Tripp, Rector of Spofforth, Yorkshire, was a friend of George (O'Brien), Earl of Egremont, and was the son of Dr. Tripp, Barrister at Law, Deputy Recorder of Taunton, the family being traditionally descended "from a scion of the illustrious house of Norfolk, whose arms they bear in addition to the scaling ladder which was substituted for their bend by Henry V, when their name was changed from Howard to Tripp." The ridiculous statements thus set forth by the petitioner failed, naturally enough, to gain him his object. His eldest son, however, Owen Howard Tripp, took by royal licence in 1898 the name of Owen, though he inherited none of the estates of that family, which had been devised to the family of Lord. In the Times of (22 or 23 ?) August 1900 he advertised his intention to assume this Baronetcy of 1641 [one, it is to be observed, limited to heirs male of the body of the grantee] as being grandson of Frances, sister of the late Baronet, and consequently his heir, not however stating that, though (through this female descent) he was heir general, he was not the heir male, to whom only the succession was limited.

Memorandum.—All Baronetcies conferred by Charles I, after 4 Jan. 1641/2,[a] were (until the Restoration) disallowed under the act of [the Rump] Parl. dated 4 Feb. 1651/2, whereby "all and every honours, titles, dignities and precedences whatsoever granted, confirmed and given by the late King since 4 Jan. 1641" were made "null and void"; no one, after 25 March 1652, being allowed to assume them; each Peer so doing to forfeit £100, each Baronet or Knight to forfeit £40; all such patents to be brought into the Court of Chancery so that they might be cancelled.

All Royalist Baronetcies conferred after 22 May 1642[a] had previously been so disallowed by Parl., 11 Nov. 1643, under the act which made void "all grants since 22 May 1642 of any honours, dignities, baronies, hereditaments or other thing whatsoever to any person or persons which have voluntarily contributed, or shall voluntarily contribute any aid or assistance to the maintenance of the unnatural war raised against the Parliament." The new Great Seal "already made and provided [i.e., on 28 Sep. 1643] was then placed in the hands of six Commissioners for use. Thus, for nearly three years there were two (rival) Great Seals of England, until, on 11 Aug. 1646, the King's Great Seal (which was taken at Oxford) was broken to pieces with great solemnity in the presence of both houses of Parl. After that date this seal of 1643 would, presumably, be, even after the Restoration of the Monarchy, considered as the legitimate Great Seal of the realm, but it seems a moot point how far the Parliamentary Great Seal, when for nearly three years (1643—1646) it ran concurrently with, and often in opposition to, that of the King, would be thus acknowledged. On 9 Jan. 1648/9, a new Great Seal was ordered. [Ex inform. W. D. Pink].

[a] There is some reason for the selection of the date of 22 May 1642, but there is none for that of the earlier date of 4 Jan. 1641/2. "By no manner of reasoning could it be pretended that Grants and Patents which had passed the (one) Great Seal between Jan. and May 1642, when that Seal was in actual attendance upon Parl. could be illegal." The date of 4 Jan. 1641/2, however, appears to have been chosen as being that on which the King attempted the arrest of the five members of the House of Commons, and so to have been looked on as the date of the commencement of the Civil War, after which everything done by the King alone was considered illegal. The fixing of this early date (4 Jan. 1641/2) was an afterthought, enacted nine years after the later date, 22 May 1642, had been fixed upon on the much more intelligible ground, as being that on which the Great Seal was held to have deserted the Parl. on its having been delivered by Lord Keeper Lyttelton to the King at York. [Ex inform. W. D. Pink].

BROCKET, of Brocket Hall aforesaid, was b. about 1616 ; admitted to Lincoln's Inn, 7 June 1632 ; was Knighted at Newmarket, 12 March 1641/2, and was, four days later (tho' apparently only under the designation of an "Esq.") cr. a Baronet, v.p., as above, 16 March 1641/2.[a] He was assessed at £600 for the war expenses, but was respited.[b] During the Usurpation he was Commissioner for Herts, Nov. 1650 ; Sheriff of Herts, 1655-56 ; and (the honours conferred on him by Charles I[a] not being recognised) was base enough to accept a fresh Baronetcy, dated 25 June 1656, from the Protector for himself and "his heirs," being the first hereditary honour granted by Cromwell. At the Restoration he obtained a pardon, 7 June 1660, for all offences during the Civil War and the Commonwealth. He was again Sheriff of Herts, 1673-74, and was also elected as such Nov. 1671, Nov. 1676, and Nov. 1677, but did not act. On 20 Jan. 1679, he purchased the estate of Calthorp, co. Oxon. He m. firstly, 2 Jan. 1640, Susanna, 2d da. of Sir Thomas STYLE, 1st Bart. [1627], of Wateringbury, by Elizabeth, da. and h. of Robert FOULKES. She was bur. 18 May 1657 in the Brocket chapel at Hatfield. M.I. He m. secondly, 15 Jan. 1662/3, at St. Nicholas Acons, London (Lic. Lond. 13, he aged 46, she of Hatton Garden, aged 40), "Lady Alisimon," widow of the Hon. Francis PIERREPONT. They were, however, separated in about three and a half years' time,[c] and she was living 6 May 1682. He was bur. 6 Feb. 1693/4 in the Brocket chapel aforesaid. Admon. 26 Feb. 1693/4, as also in the Prerog. Court of Dublin.

II. 1694. SIR JAMES READE, Bart. [1642], of Brocket Hall and Dunstew aforesaid, 4th but only surv. s. and h. by 1st wife, bap. 10 March 1654/5, at Hatfield; matric. at Oxford (Trin. Coll.), 14 May 1675, and then called 17 ; Sheriff of Herts, 1693-94 ; suc. to the Baronetcy, Feb. 1693/4 ; Sheriff of Oxon, 1700-01. He m. 26 Jan. 1689/90, at Mercers' chapel, Cornhill, London (Lic. Vic. Gen. 24, he about 30 and she about 25), Love, 2d da. and coheir of Robert DRING, of Isleworth, Midx., Alderman of London (d. about 1697), by Dorothy his wife. He d. of a fever 16 and was bur. 21 Oct. 1701, in the Brocket chapel aforesaid, aged 46 years, 7 months and 11 days. M.I. Admon. 10 Dec. 1701. His widow, whose dowry was £10,000, d. 9 and was bur., with her husband, 18 Nov. 1731, aged 76. M.I. Will dat. 23 July 1729, pr. 26 Nov. 1731.

issue, of whom Compton Reade, of Shipton Court, Oxon, was cr. a Baronet, 4 March 1660/1, and (3) Richard Reade, b. 12 June 1610, living in 1623, sometimes thought to be ancestor of the family of Reade, of Rossenara in Ireland, but who more probably d. v.p. and s.p.

[c] "He kept a mistress in his house and encouraged her to insult his wife. He padlocked her into her room," etc. See p. 164, note "b."

[d] His uncle, Almericus (de Courcy) Baron Kingsale (I.), who had married his mother's sister, held a post in the court of the titular James III.

[e] Of his five sisters and coheirs, two d. unm. and two d. without issue, one of which last, Love, inherited the Brocket Hall estate, and m., 6 Aug. 1719, Thomas Winnington, who by his will, pr. 2 May 1746, left it to his own collateral relations, by whom it was sold to Matthew Lambe, and became the seat of Viscount Melbourne [I.], Prime Minister, 1834 and 1835-39, and subsequently of Viscount Palmerston [I.], Prime Minister, 1855-58 and 1859-65. Dorothy, the eldest sister, and the only one who had issue, m. Robert Dashwood, and was mother of Sir James Dashwood, 2d Bart. [1684], who is called in the will (dat. 7 Aug. 1752, and pr. 7 Aug. 1754) of his maternal aunt, Mary Reade, spinster, "the only living branch of the coheirs of Sir John Reade, Bart." This Dorothy inherited the estate of Dunstew, as also that of Minsden (in Hitchin), Herts, which had been inherited by the Reades, thro' the families of Brocket and Lytton.

This Baronetcy was assumed in April 1810 by the Rev. William Reade, who at first alleged himself to be descended from a younger son of the 1st Bart., whom, at that date, he stated to be Major John Reade.[a] The name of this younger son he subsequently, however, altered to Matthew, and a statement was added that this Matthew, whose very existence is questionable, succeeded to the Baronetcy in 1712. As to the fact that Matthew, or any of the persons undermentioned, were, until 1810, ever known as "Baronets," it seems more than doubtful. The pedigree, as finally alleged, is as under.[b]

IV. 1712. "Sir Matthew Reade, Bart." [1642], of Kileavy, co. Clare, stated to have been uncle and h. male of the 3d, and younger s. of the 1st Bart., and to have suc. to the Baronetcy, 22 Feb. 1711/2. He m. Anne, da. of Sir Edward Dowdale, of Drogheda, by Anne, da. of "the Right Hon. the Earl of Desmond." He d. June 1721. The will of "Sir Matthew Reade, of Kileavy, co. Clare," dat. 15 June 1721 (in which, most aptly for proving the pedigree, he mentions his son John Reade, his father, Sir John Reade, Bart., deceased, and his brother, Sir James Reade, Bart., deceased) proved to be a forged one (written on modern paper), brought into the Prerog. Office [I.] for proof, by the claimant's son, 18 April 1710, about 90 years after the death of the alleged testator.

V. 1721. "Sir John Reade, Bart." [1641], of Kileavy aforesaid, only s. and h. He m. Anastacia, da. and h. of Michael Nichill, of Glascongue, co. Clare, and of Pennywell (or Rennywell), co. Limerick. No date of death is given.[b]

VI. 1750? "Sir William Reade, Bart." [1641], of Ballymacranen, co. Clare, only s. and h. He was M.P. [I.] for Dublin till his death. He m. Sarah, da. and h. of Thomas Lucas, of Ballingaddy, co. Clare, niece to Charles Lucas, M.D. He d. 12 Aug. 1787.

VII. 1787. "Sir William Reade, Bart." [1641], of Moynoe House, co. Clare, 1st s. and h.[c] of six sons; b. 1762; was in Holy Orders, being sometime Rector and Preb. of Tomgraney, co. Clare; was a Magistrate for co. Clare in 1791, but not described as a Baronet, though that date was four years after his father's death. He took an active part against the Irish rebels of 1798. In 1810, however, he assumed the style of a Baronet[a] as above mentioned. He m., in or before 1788, Alicia, da. of Anthony Brady, of Kielty, co. Clare. He was living 1811, in his 50th year.

VIII. 1820? "Sir John Reade, Bart." [1642], of Moynoe House aforesaid, only s. and h., b. 3 Aug. 1788. He, having presented himself for Knighthood as the eldest son of a Baronet,[d] at the Court of the [a] In a "letter from Sir William Betham to George Nayler, Esq.," dat. 31 March 1814, the writer states that, in 1809, the Rev. William Read said he had a claim to an English Baronetcy, through his ancestor, Major John [sic.] Read, 2d son of the 1st Bart., but that sometime afterwards he produced a copy of the will of Sir Matthew Read, "making out a very different case to that originally stated to me." This was printed in 1832, as also were copies of all papers in the Heralds' College connected with this claim.

[b] The pedigree, as in the text, deducing the "Sir William," of 1810, from the "Sir Matthew," of 1712, is printed in (that most uncritical work) Playfair's Baronetage, 1811. It was doubtless furnished by Sir William himself, together with a laudatory account of his own exploits against the Irish rebels.

[c] Two elder brothers, the Rev. John Reade and Charles Reade, are, however, stated to have been living in 1810.

[d] This misrepresentation was apparently the cause of the omission of the clause enforcing such Knightage in the patents of Baronetage. It would have been a more desirable result had it lead to the granting such Knighthood, in the cases only where proof of the father's Baronetcy had been furnished.

Viceroy [I.] (the Duke of Richmond) was Knighted accordingly 18 June 1811. He was a Magistrate for co. Clare, 1814 ; took Holy Orders, and subsequently became blind. He m., 4 Nov. 1810, Urania Maria, da. and coheir of Edward VERO,[a] of Dublin, and of Lough Raer, co. Galway, by Mary, da. and h. of Jervis HERIDE, of Annadonn, co. Galway. She d. in 1842.[b] He was bur. 14 Dec. 1842, at St. Anne's, Soho.

IX. 1842. "SIR JOHN CECIL READE, Bart." [1644], 1st surv. s. and h., was Governor of Darlinghurst gaol, Sydney, New South Wales. He m. 28 Nov. 1838, Ann, 1st da. of Michael EAGAN, of Dublin. He d. March 1899. His widow living 1900, at Arawa Bronte, Waverley, in New South Wales.[b]

X. 1899. "SIR WILLIAM VERO READE, Bart." [1644], 1st s. and h., b. 22 Sep. 1839 ; was, as early as 1855, in the employment of the Railway Department in New South Wales, and for many years chief traffic manager. He m., in 1867, Emily Anne, 5th da. of William TINDALE, of Hornsey Wood, Penrith, New South Wales, and has issue, William John Cecil Read, being his eldest son.[b]

Henry Ingleby (d. 4 Sep. 1833, aged 72), who was another illegit. son of the 4th Bart. [1642]. This John Henry Ingilby, being then of Ripley, was cr. a Baronet, 26 July 1866.

His widow m. in 1685, William CLARK, of Gray's Inn, Barrister, and was living in 1691, when she sold her father's estate at Cuckfield, co. Sussex.

A Baronetcy was assumed by William Moore, as early or earlier than 1701, but whether it was in right of any presumed claim for this Baronetcy, or for any other, is not known.

"SIR WILLIAM MOORE, Knt. and Bart., of St. Margaret's, Westm., Bachr., aged 27," had lic. (Bp. of London) 16 Sep. 1701, to marry "Abigail SNELLGROVE, of St. Mary, Whitechapel, spr., aged 16, with her parents consent." It appears from Peter Le Neve's notes [Top. and Gen., iii. 47] that in 1703, she being then aged 17 (her father being described as "of Deptford, Kent") eloped from her husband "Sir William Moor, of York place, Surrey, Bart." The death of William Moore, of South Lambeth," occurs in 1732, and the will of "Sir William Moore, Midx.," is pr. July 1738.

I. 1642. "CHRISTOPHER DAWNEY, of Cowick, co. York, Esq.," 2d s. of John DAWNEY, or DAWNAY, of Wormsley in that county (d. v.p. 15 March 1629/30, aged 36), by Elizabeth, da. of Sir Richard HUTTON, of Goldesborough, one of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas, was b. about 1620 ;(c) was admitted to Gray's Inn, 2 Nov. 1639; suc. his grandfather, Sir Thomas DAWNAY, of Sessay and Cowick aforesaid, in May 1642, and was, within a few days thereof, cr. a Baronet, as above, 19 May 1642(b). He m. Jane, da. and h. of John MOSELEY, of Uskelfe, co. York. He d. 13 and was bur. 25 July 1644, at Snaith. Inq. p.m. at York, 17 Oct. 1644. His widow was then living.

He d. unm. and presumably in his infancy, though sometimes said to be aged 13.(d) [Qy. in 1644, or 1657]; when the Baronetcy became extinct(e).

(a) The Loseley estate reverted to his uncle and h. male, the Rev. Nicholas More, Rector of Fetchham, who d. a few months later, 22 Dec. 1684, and was suc. by his son, Robert More, of Loseley, who d. s.p. 1689. (c) His eldest br. Thomas Dawnay, d. unm., and was bur. 19 April 1639, aged 22.

(d) The age of 13 is given in Foster's Yorkshire pedigrees, but the date of death there given is 1644, when it is certain he was only 3 months old.

(e) It has often been supposed that Sir John Dawnay, of Cowick, who suc. to the estates, being br. of the 1st and uncle of the last Bart., suc. also to the Baronetcy. There is, however, no evidence of any spec. rem. having been in the grant of that dignity, and this John Dawnay was, when returned M.P. in April 1660, designated an "Esq."; was Knighted 2 June following, and was, as a "Knight," not as a Baronet," cr. 19 Feb. 1680, VISCOUNT DOWNE [I.]

[c] The will is that of Sir Sampson Lennard, but it is manifest that this must be a clerical error. The name of "Sampson Lennard" does not occur either among the burials or anywhere else, in the parish register of West Wickham. (See *Mis. [b] William Thorold, of "co. York," was Knighted 3 Aug. 1617, at Brougham Castle. This description can be explained by his not having as yet succeeded his brother Anthony in the Lincolnshire estates. It is hardly probable that the William Thorold of Lincolnshire, who was knighted 15 March 1603/4, can refer to him, as he was then but a younger son, aged about 13. This last-named William was probably of the Harmeston branch.

[c] He and his then eldest surv. s., Anthony, are thus mentioned in Sir Joseph Williamson's Lincolnshire Families, temp. Car. II.

"Thorold. There are three familyes of them, all [descended] from an Atturney at Comon law by about 3 or 4 descents."

"Sir William, Bart., of Maston, neare £2,500 [a year], a Dep. Lieut. His eld. son is Mr Anthony, a hopefull young man, marryed Sir Jo. Wray's daughter. His elder son [William], dead, who m. Sir Robert Carre's daughter, ye now Lady Trollop."

"Sir Robert, Bart., at ye Heath House, near Grantham, a Papist, not more than £600 a year. In ye Fleet now."

"Sir William, Knt, of Hough on the Hill ; a Papist about £800 [a year] ; a very spreading family of this county. Many Papists and severall under branches of £300 and £400 per an." [Her. and Gen., vol. ii, p. 125.]

[a] In 1654 his estates were purchased by Sir Geoffrey Palmer, 1st Bart. [1660].

[b] This creation is subsequent to the Act of Parl., 11 Nov. 1643, by which all creations conferred by the King after 22 May 1642 were disallowed. See Memorandum as to creations after 4 Jan. 1641/2, and 22 May 1642, on p. 152.

[c] No patent is enrolled. The date here given is that in Dugdale's Catalogue as to which see the Memorandum on p. 84. The date of the warrant is 9 Nov. 1643.

[d] The principal information as to this family has been kindly furnished by G. D. Burtchaell, of the Office of Arms, Dublin. In Burke's Vicissitudes of Families (1st series, pp. 149-161), is an account of these Baronets, brought down, presumably, to the date (1859) of that work. The exact date could, probably, be ascertained, as it is therein mentioned that Sergeant-Major Bryan O'Neill (youngest son of "Sir Francis O'Neill the 6th [sic] Baronet") was "now in his 75th year."

[e] This James was 6th s. of James Brabazon, 2d s. of the Hon. Sir Anthony Brabazon, the 3d s. of Edward, 1st Baron Brabazon of Ardee [I.]

[f] The sole authority for the existence and succession of this Brian is a pedigree in Ulster Office. No such son, however, is mentioned in the third Baronet's will, and it has been conjectured that, even if he ever existed, he d. v.p. and s.p.

V. 1765? Sir Randall O'Neill, Bart. [1643], of Kellystown aforesaid, br. of the whole blood and h.[a]; suc. to the Baronetcy, about 1765; was a Surveyor of Excise at Rush, co. Dublin, and is called[b] "M.D." He m. about 1750, "Margaret Thompkims, a lady of English extraction."[a] He d. at Rush, June 1779.

VI. 1779. Sir William O'Neill, Bart. [1643], of Kellystown aforesaid, only s. and h; b. about 1754;[a] suc. to the Baronetcy, in June 1779. He d. s.p.m. at Rush, March 1784.

VII. 1784, to 1799. Sir Francis O'Neill, Bart. [1643], of Kellystown aforesaid, uncle (of the half blood) and h. male, being 6th and yst. s. of the 3d Bart. by his 2d wife. He was b. probably about 1730, and suc. to the Baronetcy in March 1784. He was ejected from his property under the Popery Acts, and after renting two small farms near Kellystown, kept "a small huckster's shop and dairy" at Slane.[c] He m. (—), da. of (—) Fleming, of co. Louth, by whom he had fourteen or fifteen children. He was in possession of the patent of Baronetcy in 1798, but d. 1799, being bur. (with his father) at Mount Newton. His widow d. eighteen months later. Since his death the Baronetcy has remained dormant.[d]

In Burke's Extinct Baronetage [1844], it is said that "One of the sons of Sir Francis was employed about twenty-five years ago at a small Inn near Duleek in the capacity of boots and ostler."

[f] In Sir Joseph Williamson's Lincolnshire Families, temp. Charles II, he is thus noticed "Sir Wm. Hickman, of Gainsborough, ye best of his estate [is] in his dues upon ye faires kept there; about £800 per annum, not more; but a late family." [Her. and Gen., vol. ii, p. 122].

PRESTWICH:
cr. 25 April 1644 ;[a]
ex. Sep. 1676 ;
assumed 1787 ? to 1795.

I. 1644. "THOMAS PRESTWICH, of Holme [i.e., Hulme, in Manchester], co. Lancaster, Esq.," 2d but 1st surv. s. and h. of Edmund PRESTWICH, of the same (who entered and signed his pedigree in the Visit. of Lancashire, 1613, and who was bur. 17 Feb. 1628/9, in the Coll. Church of Manchester), by Margaret, da. of Edward BRERETON. was bap. there 6 Dec. 1604[b] ; matric. at Oxford (Bras. Coll.), 2 Nov. 1621, aged 18 ; B.A., 1626 ; M.A., 1629, being incorporated at Cambridge, 1632 ; admitted to Gray's Inn, 15 June 1624 ; was found by the Court-leet to be heir to his father, 21 April 1629 ; was a Commissioner of Array, 1642 ; served in Cheshire in 1644, and elsewhere, on behalf of the King, and was cr. a Baronet, as above, 25 April 1644.[a] In the same year, after having been taken prisoner, 20 Aug. 1644, at the battle of Ormskirk, he was 1 Sep. 1644, Knighted on the field of battle, during the pursuit of Essex's army, whereby he is often considered a Knight Banneret. He was a compounder, and was, 30 March 1647, fined £925, reduced to £443, which was paid 2 Nov. 1649. In July 1648, he was a prisoner for being within the lines of communication. In 1660, he alienated the Hulme estate to Sir Edward Mosley, the sale being confirmed by Act of Parliament in 1673. He m. in or before 1625, Elizabeth. He was bur. in the church of St. Martin's in the Fields, Midx., 3 Jan. 1673/4.

II. 1674, to 1676. SIR THOMAS PRESTWICH, Bart. [1644], s. and h., b. about 1625, admitted 20 March 1649/50, to Gray's Inn ; suc. to the Baronetcy, in Jan. 1673/4. He m. 29 Nov. 1649, at Mortlake, Surrey (Lic. Fac., same day, he 24 and she 13), Mary, da. of "Edward HUNT, Esq., deceased," and grandchild of Elizabeth CHILD, widow. He d. s.p.m.s., and was bur., with his father, 20 Sep. 1676, when the Baronetcy became extinct. Admon. 4 June 1689, to a creditor, his daughters[c] having been cited.

From information kindly supplied by G. D. Burtchaell [Office of Arms, Dublin], it appears that in 1775 a pedigree of PRESTWICH, of Holme in Lancashire, was registered in Ulster's office, verified 10 Jan. 1775 (1) by the joint certificate of George Evans PARKER and of George Purdon DREW, one of the six clerks in Chancery [I.], the latter being s. of Francis DREW, of Drew's Court, co. Limerick, by the eldest da. of John RINGROSE, who was s. of Richard RINGROSE of Minoe, co. Clare, by Margaret, 3d da. of Sir Thomas PRESTWICH, of Holme in Lancashire, Bart., which Margaret "came over to Ireland to her brother Elias, the s. of Sir Thomas PRESTWICH, who resided at Ballieulline in co. Limerick" ; and (2) by the affidavit

---

[a] See p. 217, note "b," under "ACTON."

[b] This fact and many others in this article have been kindly supplied by Ernest Axon.

[c] In the admon. of 1689, they are called Isabella Prestwich and Priscilla Prestwich. Their real names appear to have been Arabella, who, 23 June 1692, was wife of Matthew Moreton, afterwards 1st Baron Ducie, and who d. 14 March 1749/50, aged 90, and Penelope, who was unm. at the said date of 23 June 1692. See a deed of that date in the Mis. Gen. et Her., new series, vol. i, p. 14. In that deed they call themselves heirs to John Prestwich, late of All Souls' College, Oxford, the brother of Sir Thomas, their grandfather. The printed continuation of the pedigree in the Visit. of Lancashire, 1613 [Chetham Soc., vol. 82, p. 41], accords therewith, and states that the said John (who d. 30 July 1672, aged 72), gave a legacy of £20 in his will, proved 1680, to his cousin Elias Prestwich, of Ballacullom, near Limerick, in Ireland. It appears also that Arms to be used at the funeral, at Mortlake, 6 July 1655, of another sister, Mary, were ordered [Harl. MS. 1372]. In Burke's Extinct Baronetage yet another sister is mentioned, who does not elsewhere appear, viz., Margaret, wife of Richard Ringrose, of Moynoe, co. Clare, Col. in the Army, whose issue is there set out, but the existence of this Margaret seems doubtful.

sworn 16 Feb. 1775, of "Elias PRESTWICH, of the city of Dublin, gent.," stating that he is the true and lawful son and heir of Richard PRESTWICH, who was the s. and h. of Elias PRESTWICH, who was the s. and h. of Thomas PRESTWICH, of Holme, in Lancashire, Bart.

In the following year (1776) there is registered the "Genealogy of John PRESTWICH, Esq., only s. of Sir Elias PRESTWICH, Bart." This second pedigree gives more details, but they are practically the same so far as the descent and marriages of the male line are concerned. John PRESTWICH was not married at the time the first pedigree was entered. According to the second pedigree, it was Margaret, yst. (not eldest) da. of John RINGROSE, who m. Francis DREW.

The daughters of Sir Thomas PRESTWICH are stated to be Arabella (eldest da.) m. Matthew DUCIE, Lord Morton; "Precelia, her name supposed to be, 2d da., m. (—), merchant of London, d. without issue," and Margaret, 3d da., m. Richard RINGROSE, of Barraboy, near Moynoe, co. Clare.

Elias PRESTWICH is mentioned as "brother-in-law" by Captain William GOUGH, of Dunasa, co. Clare, who m. Mercy, da. of George PARKER, of Dunkip, in his will dat. 14 Sept. 1664; and also as "brother-in-law" by William CARPENTER, of Limerick, gent., in his will dat. 27 March 1684. He (Carpenter) presumably m. another da. of George PARKER, of Dunkip.

The Pedigrees registered in Ulster Office state that—

THOMAS PRESTWICH, of Holme, in Lancashire, Esq., cr. a Baronet, 25 April 1644, had two sons. John, the eldest, d. unm. in England, and

ELIAS PRESTWICH, 2d son, who was in the Army, and who came over to Ireland in the Army, under the command of Oliver Cromwell, settling at Ballaculine, co. Limerick. He m. Anne, da. of George PARKER, of Dunkip, co. Limerick, Esq., and had

RICHARD PRESTWICH, who was a minor about eight years old at his father's death. His house and effects were burned by the Irish, but he was preserved and secreted by his nurse (an Irish Roman Catholic), during the late wars in Ireland. He m. Elizabeth, eldest da. of John LOMBARD, of White Church, co. Cork, and had

ELIAS PRESTWICH, about sixteen years old at the death of his father. He m. Catherine, da. of John LANDER, of the City of Cork, merchant, and had an only son, JOHN PRESTWICH, "now [i.e., 1775] living in London," b. 29 Jan. 1744/5, or (according to second pedigree) "January the 30th 1744/5, o.s., at six o'clock in the evening." He m. in April 1776, at London, Margaret, da. of Joseph HALL, Alderman of Dublin, by Ruth, 2d da. of Francis DREW, of Drew's Court, co. Limerick.

These two pedigrees do not give the title of "Sir" or the style of "Baronet" to any of the above, and in some particulars differ from the one in the Visit. of Lancashire, as printed in the Chetham Society. They both ignore Thomas PRESTWICH, the 2d Baronet, who undoubtedly was the first surviving son [and successor] of Sir Thomas, the 1st Bart.

The title is stated by Courthope, in his Extinct Baronetage [1833] to have been "assumed and borne for several generations by the possessors of Holm." It certainly was assumed, late in the eighteenth century by the John PRESTWICH, last abovenamed, who signs himself as "Baronet" in his preface, dated "Bath, 5 April 1787," to his "Respublica," and whose arms, surmounted with the badge of Baronetcy, appear on the title page thereto. His descent (indicated on p. 152 therein) is set forth fully in a pedigree (apparently composed by himself), which is printed as an addition to the Visit of Lancashire, 1613 [Chetham Society, vol. lxxxii, p. 41]. This makes his father, "Sir Elias PRESTWICH, now [1787] living in London," to be s. of "Sir Richard PRESTWICH," who was s. of "Sir Elias PRESTWICH," s. of "Thomas PRESTWICH, of Hulme, co. Lancaster, Bart., cousin to Sir Thomas PRESTWICH, Banneret." He d. in Dublin, 15 Aug. 1795.

WILLIAMS :

cr. 4 May 1644 ;[a]

ex. in 1694 or 1695 ;

but assumed from about 1740, to 21 Jan. 1798.

I. 1644. "HENRY WILLIAMS, of Gwernevet, co. Brecon, Esq.," s. and h. of Sir Henry WILLIAMS,[b] of the same, by Eleanor, da. of Eustace WHITNEY, of Whitney, co. Hereford, was b. about 1607 ; matric. at Oxford (St. John's Coll.), 24 Oct. 1623, aged 16 ; admitted to the Middle Temple, 1621 ; was M.P. for Breconshire, 1628-29 ; suc. his father 21 Oct. 1636, and was cr. a Baronet, as above, 4 May 1644.[a] He was a Royalist, and entertained Charles I, at Gwernevet, after the defeat at Naseby, in June 1645, being in that year a Commissioner of Array for Breconshire. His estates were, apparently, confiscated and mostly sold. He m. (post nuptial settl. 25 Aug. 1631) Anne, da. of Sir Walter PYE, of the Mynde, co. Hereford, by his 1st wife, Joane, da. of William RUDHALL, of Rudhall, in that county. He was living 10 Feb. 1649, but d. in or before 1652. Admon. 8 May 1652, to a creditor, and, probably, again in April 1666. The will of his widow, then of "Hereford," dat. 4 March 1685, pr. 1 July 1689.

II. 1652? SIR HENRY WILLIAMS, Bart. [1644], of Gwernevet aforesaid, s. and h., b. about 1635 ; matric. at Oxford (Queen's Coll.), 10 Nov. 1651 ; suc. to the Baronetcy in or before 1652 ; was M.P. for Brecknock, 1660 and 1661 till void, 25 July 1661. He m. Jan. 1657/8, at St. Dunstans in the West, London, Abigail, da. of Samuel WIGHTWICK, of St. Margaret's, Westm., Prothonotary of the King's Bench. He d. s.p.m.[c] before 22 March 1665/6, when his widow was sued (Brecon Plea Rolls) as his executrix. Possibly it is his admon. that was granted (C.P.C) April 1666. His widow m. (Lic. Vic. Gen. '26 Aug. 1667, being then about 26) "Thomas Lane, Esq.," of Bentley, co. Stafford, who d. 1715. She was living 9 July 1675.

III. 1665? to 1695? SIR WALTER WILLIAMS, Bart. [1644], of Ludlow, co. Salop, br. and h. male, b. about 1636 ; matric. at Oxford (Ball. Coll.), 27 June 1652 ; admitted to Middle Temple, 1656 ; suc. to the Baronetcy before 22 March 1665/6. He d. s.p. in or before 1695, when the Baronetcy became extinct. Will, directing his burial to be at Ludlow, dat. 24 May 1694, pr. 11 Feb. 1694/5.[d]

[a] See p. 217, note "b," under "ACTON."

[b] This Sir Henry was eldest of the nine sons of Sir David Williams, of Gwernevet, one of the Justices of the King's Bench, 1604-13, who d. 22 Jan. 1612/3. He matric. at Oxford (St. John's Coll.), 16 April 1594, aged 15, and is often (erroneously) called the 1st Baronet, but was dead eight years before the creation of that dignity, as he d. at Gwernevet, 21 Oct. 1636, and was bur. at Aberllynfri, co. Brecon. Funeral certificate in Coll. of Arms. Will dat. 12 Sep. 1633, pr. 11 Feb. 1636/7.

[c] Elizabeth, the first of his three daughters and coheirs, was bap. 19 May 1662, at Glasbury, co. Brecon ; m. (Lic. Vic. Gen., 9 July 1675, she about 13, with consent of her mother, Abigail Lane), Sir Edward Williams, who (to the great confusion of the Williams pedigree) thus became of Gwernevet. She was bur. at Glasbury, 27 Jan. 1705, and he 28 July 1721. He was a younger son of Sir Thomas Williams, 1st Baronet [1674] of Elham, and was father of Sir David Williams, 3d Baronet [1674], who inherited the estate of Gwernevet.

[d] In this will he leaves the £1,000 charged on the Gwernevet estate to his nephew [i.e., great nephew] Henry Williams, 1st s. of Sir Edward Williams and Elizabeth [i.e., Elizabeth, da. of testator's brother ; see note "c" above]. He leaves his watch to his cousin "David Williams, of Herts, minister," but devises the bulk of his property to a family named Wigmore.

After a lapse of above forty years, the title was assumed by the Rev. Gilbert Williams, whose relation to the previous Baronets was as under.

I, or VIII?[a] 1740? GILBERT WILLIAMS, called SIR GILBERT WILLIAMS, Bart. [1644], s. and h. of Matthew WILLIAMS, citizen and mercer of London, by Elizabeth, only child that had issue of Robert GILBERT, of Goldington in Sarratt, Herts, citizen and mercer of London, which Matthew (who d. 8 July 1737, aged 76) was br. and h. of Carew WILLIAMS (d. s.p. 1722, aged 59), br. and h. of David WILLIAMS, M.D. (d. s.p. 27 Nov. 1709, aged 58), all three being sons of David WILLIAMS, of Corneden in Winchcombe, co. Gloucester (d. 18 Jan. 1698, aged 85), s. and h. of Thomas WILLIAMS, of Corneden aforesaid (d. May 1636, aged 64), who was a yr. br. of Sir Henry WILLIAMS, of Gwernevet abovementioned, the father of the 1st Baronet, both being sons of Sir David WILLIAMS, the Judge.[b] He was b. about 1692; matric. at Oxford (Trin. Coll.), 22 Oct. 1709, aged 17; B.A., 1713; M.A., 1719; took Holy Orders; was Vicar of Sarratt, Herts, 1725; Rector of Hinxworth, Herts, 1728-39; Vicar of Islington, Midx., 1740-68; suc. his father 8 July 1737, becoming then of Clifford's Court, co. Hereford, and of Goldington aforesaid, shortly after which date, certainly before 1741[c] he "under an erroneous impression as to his descent, some years after the death of Sir Walter WILLIAMS of Gwernevet, Bart., in 1698 [sic, but query 1695] assumed the title which was in error continued by his son and grandson"[d] He m. 5 Feb. 1724, Dorothy, widow of Thomas DAY, of Rickmansworth, Herts, da. of William WANKFORD, of the same. He was bur. at Sarrett 9 April 1768, aged 75. Will dat. 14 July 1763, pr. 31 May 1768. His widow was bur. 20 Sep. 1773 at Sarrett aforesaid.

II. or IX.[a] 1768. DAVID WILLIAMS, called SIR DAVID WILLIAMS, Bart. [1644], of Clifford's Court and Coldington aforesaid, s. and h., b. 13 May and bap. 13 June 1726 at Sarratt; matric. at Oxford (Trin. Coll.), 16 June 1742, aged 16; B.A., 1748; M.A., 1751;

[a] To the succession to the Baronetcy after the death of Sir Walter in 1695 there were at least four more persons entitled prior to himself, viz., his father, two of his father's elder brothers, and his grandfather. This, too, is exclusive of any issue male of the numerous brothers of the 1st Baronet, one of whom, Thomas Williams, of London (1653), had a son, David Williams, of Stapleford, Herts, whose will dat. 16 Jan. 1712/3 to 26 Oct. 1715, was pr. 3 Sep. 1717. [Ex inform. H. J. T. Wood.] The claimant's ancestor was but an uncle of the grantee.

[b] The pedigree in Clutterbuck's Herts (vol. iii., p. 224) is wrong in making David Williams, of Corneden, the grandfather of "Sir Gilbert" to be son of Henry Williams, of Gwernevet and Eleanor (Whitney), and in making the said Henry (instead of his son) to be the 1st Bart. The information supplied by "Sir Gilbert" to Wotton for his Baronetage of 1741 (who is careful to quote him as his sole authority) as to his descent from the 1st Baronet is false and must apparently have been known so to be by the informant, who speaks of himself as "successor to his cousin, Sir Walter" [who died in or before 1695], but styles his father, through whom he derived his claim, and who did not die till 1737 as "Matthew Williams, Esq.," and makes no mention of any of his uncles, the elder brothers (living long after Sir Walter's death) of the said Matthew, having either assumed or even laid claim to the title. The descent of "Sir Gilbert" from Sir David Williams, the Judge, as given in the text, is from the pedigree recorded in the College of Arms [Norfolk, vol. vii.] in 1836.

[c] Wotton's Baronetage of that date. The "Sir David Williams, Bart., Guernever [sic] and Langoyd Castle, Breconshire," who died 1740, and the "Sir Henry Williams, Bart., Guernevel [sic], Breconshire, aged 18," who died 1741, were of the family of Williams, Baronets (so cr. 1674). See p. 224, note "c."

suc. his father in April 1768. He m. 19 Aug. 1762 at Aylesbury, Rebecca, da. of Thomas Harding ROWLAND, of that town, by Martha, sister and coheir of George ROWLAND, of the same. He d. 9 and was bur 15 Dec. 1792, at Sarratt. His widow d. 3 and was bur. 11 Jan. 1819 at Sarratt. Will, as of Aston Clinton, Bucks, dat. 8 Dec. 1818, pr. 1819.

III. or X.[a] 1792, to 1798. DAVID WILLIAMS, called SIR DAVID WILLIAMS, Bart. [1644], of Clifford's Court and Goldington aforesaid, s. and h., bap. 27 April 1765, at Sarratt; suc. his father in Dec. 1792. He m. 10 June 1794, at Chenies, Bucks, Sarah Sophia, 1st da. and coheir of the Rev. John Fleming STANLEY, Rector of Warehouse, Kent, by Elizabeth, his wife. Admon. 12 March 1798. His widow m. 7 Sep. 1798, Bigoe ARMSTRONG, who d. at Boulogne 24 March 1825. She m. thirdly, 27 July 1832, at Shoreditch, James Deacon GIBBON, and was living 1836.

[c] See p. 215, note "a," under "O'NEILL." No patent is enrolled. The date here given as that of the patent (20 May 1644) is that in Dugdale's Catalogue, but a subsequent date, 14 June 1644, is given to the Docquet in Black's Docquets, being the same as that of Thorold. See Memorandum on p. 84. There is therefore some error.

(a) See p. 217, note "b," under "ACTON."

(b) A good pedigree of the family is in Coll. Top. et Gen., vol. iv, pp. 59-61, and vol. iii, pp. 15 and 18. See also Mis. Gen. et Top., 2d series, vol. v, pp. 64 and 80, but the statement therein "that the first Viscount Bellomont had a son, Charles, 2d Viscount, slain 1685" seems a confusion for the death of Charles, Earl of Bellomont, who died 1683, and who was of a totally different family.

(c) Anthony a Wood (Fasti Oxon.) describes him as "a compact body of vanity and ambition, yet robust and comely." He is also ill-spoken of in Clarendon's Rebellion.

(d) Of his daughters (1) Ann was living unm. in July 1668; (2) Frances was mistress to Prince Rupert, and mother by him of Dudley Bard, otherwise Rupert Dudley, who was slain at the siege of Buda, 1686, aged about 20, in her lifetime; (3) Persiana, m. her cousin, Nathaniel Bard, of Caversfield, and died 1739, leaving issue.

CARTERET, or DE CARTERETT:
cr. 9 May 1645;[a]
afterwards, 1681—1776, Barons Carteret of Hawnes; and subsequently, 1744—1776, Earls Granville;
ex. 13 Feb. 1776.

I. 1645. "George De Carterett, of Metesches, in Jersey, Esq.," s. and h. of Helier de Carteret, of the same, Deputy Governor of Jersey (who was 2d s. of Sir Philip de Carteret, Seignior of St. Ouen in that island), by Elizabeth Dumasque (m. 1608), his wife, was b. between 1609 and 1617; entered the naval service and was Lieut. in 1632; Capt. in 1633, being second in command in the expedition, 1637, to Sallee, and being in 1639 Comptroller of the Navy; was Bailiff of Jersey, 1643, and an active supporter of the King, by whom he was made Lieut.-Gov. of that island. He is stated to have been Knighted[a] 21 Jan. 1644 [1644/5?] and was cr. a Baronet, as above, 9 May 1645.[b] In 1646 he received Prince Charles in Jersey, and again after that Prince was King, 17 Sep. 1649 to 13 Feb. 1650, when he received the grant of several Seigneuries, as also of the island of New Jersey, in America. He was, however, finally compelled to surrender Jersey, 12 Dec. 1651, to the Parliament, though when Castle Elizabeth lowered the Royal Standard, it was the last fortress in the kingdom that surrendered. He joined the exiles in France, but was expelled therefrom in 1657. After the Restoration he was made P.C., 11 July 1660; was Treasurer of the Navy (1660-67); Vice-Chamberlain of the Household (to which post he is said to have been appointed as early as 1647), 1660-70; Vice-Treasurer [I.], 1667-73; Commissioner of the Board of Trade, 1668-72, and a Lord of the Admiralty, 1673-79. He was M.P. for Portsmouth, 1661-79. He acquired an enormous fortune.[c] He m. Elizabeth, da. of his paternal uncle, Sir Philip CARTERET, of St. Owen in Jersey, by Anne, da. of Sir Francis DOWSE. He d. 14 Jan. 1679/80, aged about 70. Will pr. 1700. His widow is said to have been granted by warrant,[d] 14 Feb. 1680, the precedence of a peer's widow, in consequence of a peerage about to have been conferred on her husband. Her will pr. Feb. 1700.

II. 1680. SIR GEORGE CARTERET, Bart. [1645], grandson and h., being s. and h. of Sir Philip CARTERET, Governor of Mount Orgueil, by Jemima (mar. lic. 29 July 1665, Fac. Office), da. of Edward (MONTAGU), 1st EARL OF SANDWICH, which Philip d. v.p., being blown up at sea (together with the said Earl, his wife's father) in the fight off Solebay, 28 May 1672. He was b. about 1667, and was m. through his grandfather's influence (Lic. Fac., 15 March 1674/5) when but a boy, to Grace, yst. da. of John (GRANVILLE), 1st EARL OF BATH. He suc. to the Baronetcy, on his grandfather's death, 14 Jan. 1679/80, and shortly afterwards was cr., 19 Oct. 1681, in his said wife's lifetime,[e] BARON CARTERET OF HAWNES, co. Bedford. In that Peerage this Baronetcy then merged, the 2d Baron succeeding his mother, 27 Oct. 1744, as EARL GRANVILLE. It continued thus merged till, on the death of Robert, EARL GRANVILLE, 3d BARON CARTERET OF HAWNES, and 4th Baronet, 13 Feb, 1776, it and all other his honours became extinct. See Peerage.

WINDEBANKE:
ex., presumably, 23 Sep. 1719.

I. 1645. "THOMAS WINDEBANKE, of Haynes Hill [in Hurst], co. Wilts [should be Berks], Esq.," 1st s. and h. ap. of Sir Francis WINDEBANKE, of the same, the well known Sec. of State to Charles I (d. 1 Sep. 1646, in Paris, aged 64), by (--) his wife, was b. about 1612; was a Gent. of the Privy Chamber, 1627; matric. at Oxford (St. John's Coll.), 13 Nov. 1629, aged 17; was admitted to Lincoln's Inn, 19 March 1632/3; was Clerk of the Signet about 1636; M.P. for Wootton Basset, April to May 1640; was a Royalist, and was cr. a Baronet, as above, 25 Nov. 1645.[b] He was a Compounder in Aug. 1646, being fined £810. He took out admon. to his father, 16 Oct. 1650. He m., in or before 1646, Anne, da. of John GRYMES, of Bury St. Edmunds, by Susan, da. of Ambrose JERMYN, of Stanton, co. Suffolk.[f] He was living 1655, but d. before July 1669.[f]

[a] He was, however, apparently called "Esq." in his creation as a Baronet a few months later.

[b] See p. 217, note "b," under "ACTON."

[c] The Flagellum Parl. accuses him of having robbed the King of £300,000.

[d] Dict. Nat. Biogr., where it is stated that this warrant is quoted by Chalmers.

[e] She, survived him, and was, after his death, cr., 1 Jan. 1714/5, Countess Granville, with rem. of that Earldom to her issue male.

[f] Coll. Top. et Gen., vol. iii, p. 157. It is presumed that he was the father of "Frances Windebanck of St. Paul's, Covent Garden, spinster, about 23, parents dead," 12 July 1669, when she had licence (Vic. Gen.) to marry Sir Edward Hales, 3d Bart. [1611]. The father of this lady, however, is usually called "Sir Francis [sic] Windebank, of Oxford," but if she was, as is possible, the da. of the Secretary of State, she must have been born the year of her father's death (1646), when he was 64. See, however, W. D. Pink's "Notes on the Windebank Family" in N. & Q., 8th S., I, 23.

II. 1660? to 1719. Sir Francis Windebank, Bart. [1645], s. and h., b. about 1656, was apparently suspected as a Jacobite, being "taken into custody" 14 May 1692, and "committed to a messenger" 9 April 1696.[a] He m. 4 May 1686, at Lee, co. Kent (Lic. Fac., 28 April, he "of the Tower of London, Bart., aged 30, bachelor"), Elizabeth Parkhurst, about 20, spinster, da. of Frances Parkhurst, widow. He d. in Eagle street, apparently s.p.m., and was bur. 23 Sep. 1719 at St. Andrew's, Holborn, when the Baronetcy presumably became extinct. Will dat. 3 Feb. 1715/6, pr. 8 Oct. 1719, leaving all to his wife, Elizabeth. Her will pr. 1730.

Essex, was a merchant of London, and was cr. a Baronet, as above, 7 Feb. 1645/6, the patent, however, being "suspended" by the King's warrant. He m. (—). Baronetcies [E.] not on record,

1640—1648;

ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY.

Memorandum.—There are some Baronetcies conferred shortly before or during the Civil War, of which not only the patents (which possibly in many cases had never passed the Seals), but not even the docquets or warrants were enrolled, and which are not mentioned in Dugdale's carefully compiled CATALOGUE OF THE BARONETS OF ENGLAND, as to which see Memorandum on p. 84. A complete, or even approximately complete, list of these is unattainable, but there seems reason to believe that the following persons obtained, or at all events had the Royal warrant for, Baronetcies. The unlawful assumption of titles, which was so common in the nineteenth and even in the eighteenth century, was not usual in the seventeenth; and it will be observed that the position of the parties who thus styled themselves, and were recognised as, Baronets, was such as to render it unlikely that they would expose themselves to the ridicule and contempt attending such assumption. At the same time it is evident that in the cases of some of them (e.g., in those of Acland, Boothby, and Edwards, where a patent de novo was granted with a clause giving the precedency of the former creation), the grant of the dignity by Charles I was not held to be sufficient; while on the contrary, the sufficiency of the creation of others has been generally acknowledged. Each case therefore should be judged separately. The dates of these Baronetcies, not being in many cases ascertainable, the names are here given in alphabetical order.

ACLAND:

cr., de novo, 21 Jan. 1677/8.

I. 1644. JOHN ACLAND, of Columb-John, in Broadclyst, Devon, Esq., s. and h. of Sir Arthu rACLAND, of the same, by Elizabeth, da. and h. of Robert MALLET, of Woolley, Devon, was b. about 1591; suc. his father, 26 Dec. 1610; was aged 29 at the Visitation of Devon in 1620; Sheriff of Devon, 1641, and, having distinguished himself in the cause of his King, was cr. a Baronet,[a] 24 June 1644.[b] He maintained a garrison at Columb-John, which at one time was the only force for the King that remained in the county. The house was afterwards plundered, and he himself fined £1,800. He m. before 1635, Elizabeth, da. of Sir Francis VINCENT, 1st Bart., [1620], by his 1st wife, Sarah, da. of Sir Amyas PAULET. He d. 24 Aug. 1647, and was bur. at Stoke D'Abernon, Surrey. M.I. Will, in which he describes himself as "Baronet," dat. 1 Dec. 1646, pr. 30 Nov. 1648, 19 Feb. 1650, 25 June 1670, and 5 July 1671. His widow d. in or before 1650; her admon. 25 Jan. 1650/1, 25 June 1670, and 6 July 1671.

II. 1647. SIR FRANCIS ACLAND, Bart. [1644] of Columb-John and Killerton, in Broadclyst aforesaid, s. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy, 24 Aug. 1647. He d. unm. and a minor, 1649, and was bur. at Stoke D'Abernon.

---

[a] See p. 215, note "b," under "O'NEILL." No patent, docquet, or sign manual is enrolled; nor is the creation given in Dugdale's Catalogue; see Memorandum in text above.

[b] The date of the creation, as in the text, is that given in Wotton's Baronetage (edit. 1741).

III. 1649. Sir John Acland, Bart. [1644], of Columb John and Killerton aforesaid, br. and h., b. about 1636, suc. to the Baronetcy in 1649. He m. about 1654, Margaret, da. and coheir of Dennis Rolle, of Stevenstone, Devon, by Margaret, da. of John (Poulett), 1st Baron Poulett of Hinton St. George. He d., under age, in 1655. His widow m. Henry Ayshford. She d. about 1673. Admon. 25 Nov. 1673, to her da. Margaret Acland.[a]

IV. 1655. Sir Arthur Acland, Bart. [1644], of Columb John and Killerton aforesaid, only s. and h., b. about 1655, suc. to the Baronetcy in his infancy, 1655; matric. at Oxford (Ex. Coll.), 27 July 1669, aged 14, subscribing himself as a Baronet. He d. a minor and unm., 1672.

V. 1672. Sir Hugh Acland, Bart. [1644], of Columb John and Killerton aforesaid, uncle and heir male, was b. about 1639; matric. at Oxford (Ex. Coll.), 27 Nov. 1652; B.A., 22 June 1655; suc., by the death of his nephew in 1672, to the Baronetcy conferred, 24 June 1644, on his father, and, though styled "Baronet" in his marriage license (Vic. Gen.), 19 March 1673/4, was nevertheless cr. a Baronet [de novo] 21 Jan. 1677/8, it being stated[b] that "amidst the confusion of those Civil Wars, the letters patents [24 June 1644] were destroyed, and new letters patents not being granted till the year 1677 (by reason of a long minority in this family), there was in them inserted a special clause of precedency from the date of the first, viz., 24 June 1644."[c] See "Acland" Baronetcy, cr. 21 Jan. 1677/8.

BATHURST:

I. 1643. Edward Bathurst, of Lechlade, co. Glouc., and of Farrington, co. Oxon, Esq., 2d s. of Robert Bathurst, of the same, by Elizabeth, relict of Sir John Laurence, da. of Ralph Waller, was b. about 1603; suc. his elder br., Robert Bathurst, in 1628, being then aged 13; distinguished himself in the cause of the King in the Civil War, and was cr. a Baronet, 15 Dec. 1643,[d] being subsequently[e] Knighted. He was a Royalist, and was fined £720 by the

[a] This Margaret, who was h. to her br., the 4th Bart., m. John (Arundell), 2d Baron Arundell of Trerice. Under the will of her grandson, the 4th Baron, the Acland family inherited Trerice and other of the Arundell estates.

[b] Wotton's Baronetage, edit. 1741.

[c] The previous creation of Boothby, 13 July 1660, was practically a similar case, and that of Edwards, 22 April, 1678 (the next creation following this one) was precisely similar.

[d] See p. 236, notes "a" and "b." In this case, however, there is said to have been a warrant for its creation under the Privy Seal at Oxford, dat. 15 Dec. 1641. If the creation was before 4 Jan. 1641/2, it would not be affected by the disallowing acts of Parl. (see Memorandum on p. 152). Unlike many other unrecorded creations of this period, this particular one appears to have been considered fictitious by (Dugdale) Garter; as also by (St. George) Clarenceux, and four other Heralds, 3 Sep. 1679 and 19 May (1681), 33 Car. II. See "1 L. 2," (p. 156[b], 145) in the College of Arms, London. It was, however, recognised in the Visitation of Gloucestershire in 1682, and is said [but Query] to have been exemplified under the Great Seal by Car. II, 18 Jan. (1682/3), 34 Car. II.

[e] In the Cal. Com. for advance of money, p. 824, it is stated, under 28 May 1647, "that he was made a Baronet by the King since the war began; gave £170 to Richard Lloyd to be a Baronet, and afterwards £20 to be made a Knight"; again, under 6 and 7 Sep. 1648, "Information that he is a delinquent, and was at Oxford when it was the King's garrison. Depositions to prove that when at Oxford he paid £160 for a blank warrant for a Baronetcy, which was filled in with his name." [Ex inform., W. D. Pink.]

sequestrators. He m. firstly, in or before 1634, Anne, da. of Thomas MORRIS, of Great Coxwell, Berks. He m. secondly, in or before 1654, Susan, widow of Thomas COOK, da. of Thomas RICH, of North Cerney, co. Glouc. He m. thirdly, Dorothy, da. of (—) NASH, of Worcestershire. He d. 6 Aug. 1674, aged 61, at Lechlade. M.I. His widow, by whom he had no issue, d. 18 March 1683/4, and was bur. at Spelsbury, co. Oxford. M.I. Will pr. 1684.

II. 1674. SIR EDWARD BATHURST, Bart. [1643], of Lechlade aforesaid, grandson and h., being s. and h. of Laurence BATHURST, by Susan, da. of the abovenamed Thomas COOK, of Stanton, co. Worcester, which Laurence (who was admitted to Gray's Inn, 10 Feb. 1657/8), was s. and h. ap. of the late Baronet, by his 1st wife, but d. v.p., 15 Sep. 1671. He, who was b. about 1665, suc. to the Baronetcy, 6 Aug. 1674, and d. unm. 21 March 1677, aged 12.[a]

III. 1677. SIR EDWARD BATHURST, Bart., [1643], of Lechlade aforesaid, uncle and heir male, being 2d s. of the 1st Bart. by his 1st wife, and b. about 1635, suc. to the Baronetcy, 21 March 1677 ; entered his pedigree at the Heralds' Visitation of co. Glouc. in 1682, being then aged 47, in which his own, his nephew's, and his father's Baronetcy are all recognised. He m. in or before 1672, Mary, da. of Francis PEACOCK, of Chawley, Oxon ; she was living 1682.

IV. 1688? SIR EDWARD BATHURST, Bart. [1643], s. and h., said to be aged about 10 in the Visitation of 1682, was a scholar at Winchester College, 1686 (then said to be 12) to 1688, when, apparently (1688) as "Dominus Bathurst" he became a commoner of that School,[b] having previously suc. to the Baronetcy on his father's death. He d. unm.

V. 1690? SIR FRANCIS BATHURST, Bart. [1643], br. and h., aged about 6 in 1682, suc. to the Baronetcy on his brother's death. He m. Frances, da. of the Rev. (—) PEACOCK. He, with his wife and part of his family, embarked (with Gen. Oglethorpe) for New Georgia, where his wife d. Jan. 1736/7, and he himself, shortly afterwards, about 1738.

VI. 1738? to 1780? SIR LAURENCE BATHURST, Bart. [1643], 1st and only surv. s. and h. ;[c] suc. to the Baronetcy about 1738, and was residing in Georgia, 1741 and 1771.[d] He d. there s.p., probably about 1780, at whose decease the Baronetcy is said[e] to have become extinct, though it is stated[f] " by other accounts to be vested in a gentleman still[g] [1841] resident in America," possibly a descendant of Lancelot Bathurst, 5th s. of the 1st Bart., aged 36 in 1682, and then living in Virginia with issue.

(a) The manor of Lechlade devolved on his two sisters and coheirs, passing finally to Thomas Coxeter, s. and h. of one, and nephew and h. of the other.

(b) See N. & Q., 1st S., iv, 345.

(c) Robert, his only br., was killed in Georgia by the Indians, before 1741.

(d) See note " b," p. 237.

(e) Courthope's Extinct Baronetage.

(f) Burke's Extinct Baronetage [1841].

(g) It seems extremely probable that there may be heirs to this Baronetcy among the issue of two of the 4 younger sons (by the 2d wife) of the 1st Baronet. Of these two (I), Robert Bathurst, of Lechlade, was living 1682, aged 33, having had several sons, of whom Robert (aged 14), Charles (aged 8), Edmond (aged 2), and Laurence (aged 9 months), were then alive ; (II) Lancelot Bathurst, of Virginia, was living there, 1682, aged 36, with issue. In the additions made by Sir Thomas Phillipps to the Visitation of Gloucestershire of 1682 (printed by the Harleian Society), the abovenamed Robert Bathurst, s. of Robert, is said to have died 1726, aged 59, having had two sons (1), Robert, who d. 1765, aged 67, and (2), Edward, who m. Barbara Coxeter, and d. 1762, aged 57.

"H.H." [Genealogist, vol. iv, p. 58], states that he is "credibly informed that the title actually expired as under":—

VII. 1780? SIR ROBERT BATHURST, "7th and last Bart." [1643], who suc. to the Baronetcy about 1780, being s. of Robert Bathurst [aged 5 in 1682], yr. br. of the 4th and 5th Barts., all three being sons of the 3d Bart.

Besides the above-named Robert, there was also (see N. & Q., 7th S., ix, 377, 1st S., xii, 379 and 357):—

CHARLES BATHURST, b. 15 and bap. 18 Nov. 1711, at St. Martin's in the Fields (being s. of John Bathurst, bur. there 11 Dec. 1719), who was "generally reputed a Baronet [Bathurst of Lechlade, cr. 15 Dec. 1643], though he did not choose to assert his title." It is not, indeed, by any means clear how (if, indeed, anyhow) he descended from the grantee. He was a Bookseller, opposite St. Dunstan's Church, in Fleet street, and suc. his partner (brother-in-law to his wife) therein, 12 March 1738. He m. firstly, a da. of the Rev. Thomas BRIAN, Head Master of Harrow School, by whom he had one son, Charles Bathurst, who d. v.p. and s.p. 1763, and was bur. at Harrow. He m. secondly, at Kelmscott, Oxon, Elizabeth CARTER, spinster, and d. s.p.m.s. 21 July 1786, aged 77.

COKAYNE, or COKAINE:
cr. about 10 Jan. 1641/2 ;[c]
ex. 13 Feb. 1683/4.

I. 1642, to 1684. ASTON COKAYNE, or COKAINE, of Ashbourne Hall, co. Derby, and of Pooley, in Polesworth, co. Warwick, Esq., 1st s. and h. of Thomas COKAYNE (s. and h. of Sir Edward COKAYNE), of the same, by Anne, sister (of the half-blood) to Philip, 1st EARL OF CHESTERFIELD, da. (by 2d wife) of Sir John STANHOPE, of Shelford and Elvaston, co. Derby, was b. at Elvaston and bap. 20 Dec. 1608, at Ashbourne ; was ed. (as a Fellow Commoner) at Trin. Coll., Cambridge ; suc. his father, 26 Jan. 1638/9, and was cr. a Baronet about 10 Jan. 1641/2,[c] such Baronetcy being acknowledged in the Heralds' Visitation of Derbyshire, 1662, and in that of Hampshire, 1686 (under "LACY"), as also in his will, burial register, etc. He was cr. M.A. of Oxford, 21 Feb. 1642/3. A zealous Royalist and "a Popish delinquent," he was assessed (with his mother) 17 Dec. 1646, at £1,500, his estate being sequestrated for non-payment, 8 March 1648 ; was fined £356, and finally suffered such heavy losses that in 1671 he sold the long-inherited estate of Ashbourne, and in 1683 that of his "beloved Pooley."[d] He m. in or before 1635, Mary, da. of Sir Gilbert KNIVETON, 2d Bart. [a] Wotton's Baronetage [edit. 1741], where it is also said that he "was Knighted by King Charles II in the field," which, considering that he was but 13 at the battle of Worcester (which, presumably, is the "field" alluded to) seems improbable.

[b] The creations, de novo, of Acland, 21 Jan. 1677/8, and of Edwards, 22 April 1678, are, practically, similar cases.

[c] If the creation was before 4 Jan. 1641/2 it would not be affected, but if later it would have been disallowed by Parliament till the Restoration. See Memorandum as to creations after 4 Jan. 1641/2 and 22 May 1642, on p. 152. No patent, docquet, or sign manual is enrolled, nor is the creation given in Dugdale's Catalogue, (see Memorandum on p. 236), but its existence is acknowledged (as stated in the text) in the Heralds' Visitations and elsewhere. The date of creation is indicated in Lodge's Peerage of Ireland (edit. 1789, vol. iv, p. 328), as "created, after the King had by violence been compelled to leave the Parliament, about 10 Jan. 1641."

[d] See his Poems. Anthony a Wood says that he "was esteemed by many an ingenious gentleman, a good poet and a great lover of learning, yet by others a perfect boon fellow, by which means he wasted all he had." He was a friend and cousin of Charles Cotton (well known as an angler and poet), who, in his poems, praises him highly for his "Tragedy of Ovid."

[e] Thomas Cokayne, his only s., b. 8 May 1636, m., 14 Jan. 1657/8, at St. Peter's, Paul's wharf, London, Rachel, da. and coheir of Carew STURRY, of Rossall, co. Salop, and d. v.p. and s.p. about 1680, his widow dying before 1 Dec. 1686, when admon. was granted to her sister, wife of Sir Thomas Kniveton, 4th Bart. [1611].

[f] This is the date on the endorsement. That in the body is "24 April, 1683," which, as the date of the will is 6 Feb, and the inventory 27 Feb. 1683 [i.e., 1683/4], is clearly a clerical error. See a facsimile of his signature thereto and other particulars about him in the Mis. Gen. et Her., 3d S., vol. iv.

I. 1644. WILLIAM COURTENAY, of Powderham Castle, co. Devon, Esq., s. and h. of Francis COURTENAY (s. and h. of Sir William COURTENAY), of the same, by his 2d wife, Elizabeth, da. of Sir Edward SEYMOUR, 3d Bart. [1611], was bap. 7 Sep. 1628 ; suc. his father, 5 June 1638, and was, at the age of 16, cr. a Baronet, by Privy Seal,([d]) in Feb. 1644,([c]) such Baronetcy being recognised in the pedigree recorded in the College of Arms. He was fined under the Oxford Articles, April 1649 ; was instrumental in promoting the Restoration, raising a troop in co. Devon for that purpose ; was nominated a Knight of the intended

([a]) See p. 236, note "a." In a deed dat. 20 Jan. 1664, the grantee, as "Sir John Croke, Bart., with "Dame Sarah, his wife," and "Dodsworth Croke, Esq.," his son, and others, conveyed Whitsand Leas, in Chilton, to Martha Lloyd. He is also described as a Baronet in the relation (entitled "The Perjured Phanatick," etc.") of the trial against him, in 1668; also on the margin of his will, etc. Neither he nor his son were apparently Knighted. See Lipscomb's Bucks, vol. i, pp. 132-148, for an account of this family, where (p. 140) is given in full and interesting account of the above mentioned trial.

([b]) Nothing seems known of him save that in the trial of 1668 (see note "a" above), he swears that "the ring stolen had been pawned by himself" to the plaintiff.

([c]) See p. 236, note "a." The date here given is that of the Privy Seal. See note "d" below.

([d]) Notice of this Privy Seal is recorded in College of Arms (Norfolk, iv, 210), in which the grantee and his successors are styled Baronets. Le Neve (in his MS. Baronetage, vol. ii, 230) states that "Sir William Courtenay had a like patent [of Baronetcy] with Acland in 1644, but never passed the patent." In Collins' Peerage (vol. vi, 259, edit. 1779) it is said that "some time before the Restoration he was cr. a Baronet, but not affecting that title, as much greater he thought of right appertained to his family, never took out his patent, and therefore was not inserted

She was bur. 9 Jan. 1693/4, at Wolborough. He d. of palsy, 4 Aug. 1702, and was bur. with her, aged 74. Will dat. 28 July 1702.

Glouc., and of St. Dunstan's in the East, London, merchant, which Francis, who d. v.p. and was bur. 12 May 1699, at Chelsea, aged 47, was 1st s. and h. ap. of the late Baronet. He was b. 11 March 1675/6; was M.P. for Devon (eleven Parls.), 1701-10, and June 1712 till death; suc. to the Baronetcy, 4 Aug. 1702; was L.-Lieut. of Devon, 1715. III. 1735. SIR WILLIAM COURTENAY, Bart. [1644], of Powderham Castle aforesaid, 3d but 1st surv. s. and h., b. 11 and bap. 15 Feb. 1709/10, at St. Martin's in the fields, matric. at Oxford (Mag. Coll.), 4 June 1729 (as son of a Baronet), aged 19; cr. M.A. 28 Jan. 1730/1, and D.C.L. (as a "Baronet") 26 May 1739, having suc. to the Baronetcy 6 Oct. 1735. He was M.P. for Honiton, 1734-41, and for Devon, 1741-62, and was cr., 6 May 1762, VISCOUNT COURTENAY OF POWDERHAM CASTLE, co. He was by an extraordinary decision of the House of Lords, confirmed 15 May 1831, declared EARL OF DEVON, under the remainder in the creation of that dignity, 3 Sep. 1553, to the "heirs male" of the grantee, he being, indeed, collaterally heir male to the Earl thus created (who d. unm., 1556, three years after such creation), inasmuch as his grandfather's grandfather's grandfather's grandfather, Sir William Courtenay, who d. 1557 (though he and his abovenamed descendants were all unconscious of any right to such Earldom), was, though a very distant cousin, collaterally heir male of the grantee of 1553, whose ancestor in the seventh degree (a man who d. in 1377), in the list of Baronets; but he was always styled Baronet in the Commissions sent him by the King." This, however (as also the motive thus strangely attributed to him) is incorrect, for both he and his two successors manifestly did "affect" the title till 1762, when it became merged in the Peerage. See also Herald and Genealogist, iv, 279.

[a] As "Sir William Courtenay, Baronet," he kissed the King's hand at St. James', 28 April 1762, on being created an English Peer [Ann. Reg., 1762].

was the said Sir William's grandfather's grandfather's grandfather's grandfather. In the Earldom of Devon this Baronetcy then (1831) merged, and still so continues, though on the death of this Earl, 26 May 1835, the Viscountcy of Courtenay became extinct. See Peerage.

EDWARDS, or EDWARDES:

cr. 21 March 1644/5 ;([a]) cr., de novo, 22 April 1678 ;

ex. 24 Aug. 1900.

I. 1645. THOMAS EDWARDS, of Grete and of the College, Shrewsbury, co. Salop, Esq., 2d s. of Thomas EDWARDS of the same (who was Sheriff of Salop 1622, and d. 19 March 1634, aged 79, being bur. at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury), by Anne, relict of Stephen DUCKET, da. and coheir of Humphrey BASKERVILLE, Alderman and sometime (1561-62) Sheriff of London, was possibly the "Thomas Edwards of Salop, son of an Esq.," who matric. at Oxford (Ex. Coll.), 31 May 1616, aged 16, being B.A. 13 June 1616. He, who was probably the King's Sheriff of Salop 1644, was cr. a Baronet, 21 March 1644/5. He was assessed, 11 May 1647 at £500, as "Thomas, or Sir Thomas, Edwards, of Creet," but let off, in 1651, on the ground of having compounded. He is styled "Knt. and Bart." in the admission of his 2d son to Gray's Inn, 1 July 1665. He m., after 1623,([b]) Anne, da. of Bonham NORTON, of Stretton, Salop, the King's printer. She d. s.p.m. He m. secondly, before 1645, Cicely, da. of Edward BROOKES, of Stretton aforesaid. He d. and was bur. 27 April 1660, at Shrewsbury. Admon. 10 Aug. 1660. His widow was bur. there 28 Dec. 1677. Her will pr. 1678.

II. 1660. SIR FRANCIS EDWARDS, Bart. [1644], of Grete and of Shrewsbury aforesaid, 1st s. and h., being one of six sons by 2d wife ; b. probably about 1645 ; suc. to the Baronetcy, 27 April 1660, and matric., as a Baronet, at Oxford (Ball. Coll.), 26 Oct. 1660, but was, nevertheless, cr. a Baronet, de novo, 22 April 1678, it being stated([c]) that "in the Civil Wars 'tis supposed the Baronet's patent [of 1644] was lost, for in April 1678, a new one was granted([d]) to Francis (then Sir Francis) Edwards of Shrewsbury, and to the heirs male of his body, with remainder to [his brothers] Thomas, Benjamin, Herbert, and Jonathan, and the heirs male of their bodies, etc., with a special clause for precedency before all Baronets, created after the year 1644, viz., according to the former patent." See "EDWARDS" Baronetcy, cr. 22 April 1678.

GREAVES, or GRAVES:

cr. 4 May 1645 ;([e])

ex. 11 Nov. 1680.

I. 1645, to 1680. EDWARD GREAVES, or GRAVES, of St. Leonard's Forest, Sussex, Doctor of Medicine, yr. br. of John GREAVES, Savilian Professor of Astronomy at Oxford and Gresham Professor of Geometry, both being sons of the Rev. James GREAVES, Rector of Colemore, Hants, was b. at Croydon, 1608 ; ed. at Merton Coll., Oxford ; B.A., 23 Oct. 1633 ;

([a]) See p. 236, note "a." The date of the year of the creation "1644," is given in Wotton's Baronetage (1741), but the exact date, 21 March 1644/5, is given in Burke's Baronetage (1900) and elsewhere.

([b]) Visit. of Salop, 1623.

([c]) Wotton's Baronetage (1741).

([d]) The previous creation, that of the Baronetcy of Acland, 21 Jan. 1677/8, is a precisely similar case, as also practically was that of Boothby, 13 July 1660.

([e]) See p. 236, note "a." This Baronetcy is omitted in all the printed lists of Baronets, except in the 5th edit. [1679] of Guillim's Heraldry, where it is placed as the 450th, between Boreel and Carteret. Anthony a Wood indeed speaks (more suo) of Dr. Greaves as a "Pretended Baronet," but Dr. Munk, in his "Roll of the Royal College of Physicians," aptly remarks, "I am disposed to believe, despite Wood's sneer, that he was really entitled to that dignity. I find him so characterised in the Annals; he styles himself Baronet on the title page of his Herveian Oration . . . . Thomas Guidott, M.B., of Bath, writing of him in 1676 says, 'he is full of honour, wealth, and years, being a Baronet, a Fellow of the College of Physicians in London, and Physician in Ordinary to His Majesty," and in the official list of the Fellows of the College prefixed to the Pharmacopœia Londinensis of 1677, his Baronetcy is acknowledged, and he appears as Edvardus Greaves, Baronettus. The point is of some interest, as this is the first instance of an English Physician being honoured with an hereditary title." The original patent of creation is said to be "in the family of one Mr. Calfe, of St. Leonard's Forest, Sussex" [probably descendants of his 2d wife], and a letter of Le Neve, Norroy, says that "he was apt to think" that "as the patent was dated at Oxford, 4 May 1645, there was no enrollment thereof, which was the case of several persons of honour passed about that time, the Rolls being taken into the possession of Parliament."

[a] See p. 243, note "e."

[b] The burial at Christ Church, London, 19 Nov. 1669, of "Sir Thomas Graves, Barronet, from Newgate," may possibly, if not an erroneous designation, relate to this creation.

[c] See p. 236, note "a." Le Neve in his MS. Baronetage (vol. ii, p. 217) writes, "Sir Thomas Haggerton in his letter to me, dated 12 July 1696, saith his patent is dated 15 Oct. 1642," but the date usually [though apparently incorrectly] given to it is a year later, viz, 15 Oct. 1643, between Waldegrave (1 Aug. 1643) and Pate (28 Oct. 1643).

III. 1710? SIR CARNABY HAGGERSTON, Bart. [1642], of Haggerston Castle aforesaid, grandson and h., being s. and h. of William HAGGERSTON, by Ann, da. of Sir Philip Mark CONSTABLE, 3d Bart. [1642], of Everingham, co. York, sister and h. of the 4th Bart., which William, who was 2d s. of the 2d Bart., by his 1st wife, d. v.p. He, who was probably b. about 1700, suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his grandfather. He m., 20 Nov. 1721, Elizabeth, sister and coheir of William MIDLETON, of Kilvington and Stockeld, co. York, da. of Peter MIDLETON, of Stockeld aforesaid. He was bur. 20 July 1756. His widow d. at York, Dec. 1769.

[a] The creations after 4 Jan. 1641/2 were disallowed till the Restoration, under an Act of Parl., 4 Feb. 1651/2, and those after 22 May 1642 were so disallowed, 11 Nov. 1643. See Memorandum on p. 152.

[b] See p. 236, note "a." No date is assigned to this creation in the list of Baronetcies in Kimber's Baronetage [1771], but the date of "21 June 1647" is given, both by Courthope and Burke, in their respective Extinct Baronetages. It is, however, to be observed that this date is after the King's Great Seal had been broken up, at Oxford, 11 Aug. 1646.

[c] Margaret, his da. and h., m. Richard Vaughan, of Corsygedol, and was mother of Catherine, who m. Rev. Hugh Wynn, D.D., Prebendary of Salisbury. Their da., Margaret, was h. to her uncle, William Vaughan, and m. Sir Roger Mostyn, 5th Bart. [1660], of Mostyn.

He, as "Sir William Neale, Baronet," was Capt. of a troop of horse in Ireland, 1666.[c] He d. apparently s.p.m., and was bur. 28 March 1691, at St. Paul's, Covent Garden (from St. Andrew's, Holborn), when, presumably, the Baronetcy became extinct.[d]

cr., probably between 1642 and 1644;
ex., presumably, 22 Feb. 1722.

I. 1642? Francis Petre, of Cranham Hall, co. Essex, s. and h. of the Hon. Thomas Petre, of the same, by Elizabeth, 2d da. and coheir of William Baskerville, of Wanborough, Wilts (which Thomas, who was 3d s. of John, 1st Baron Petre of Writtle, d. 3 Oct. 1625, aged 40), was b. about 1605, and was, apparently, cr. a Baronet by Charles I, probably between 1642 and 1644. He sold the estate of Cranham. He m., probably about 1628, Elizabeth, 2d da. of Sir John Gage, 1st Bart. [1611] of Firle, by Penelope, da. of Thomas (Darcy), Earl Rivers. She d. before 14 March 1655, and was bur. at Hengrave, Suffolk. His will, as a Baronet, dat. 14 March 1655, pr. 26 July 1660, 28 Nov. 1670, and 22 Feb. 1697.

II. 1660? Sir Francis Petre, Bart. [1642?] of London, s. and h., b. about 1630; suc. to the Baronetcy between 1655 and 1660; living 18 Nov. 1670, but d. unm. before 12 Jan. 1679. Will as "of St. Bride's, London," pr. 28 Nov. 1681, and 19 Nov. 1698.[f]

III. 1679? Sir Edward Petre, Bart. [1642], br. and h., b. about 1632, in London; ed. at St. Omer's College, 1649, and at the Society of Jesuits at Watten, 1652; becoming "professed" in 1671; suc. to the Baronetcy in or before 1679; was Vice-Provincial of the Jesuits of England, 1680; Clerk of the Royal Closet; P.C. [11 Nov. 1687], and Chief Almoner to James II, on whose expulsion he also quitted England and became, in 1693, Rector of St. Omer's College. He, well known as "Father Petre" d. unm. at Watten, near Flanders, 15 May 1699, aged 68. Admon. as a "Baronet," 17 May 1699, to his sister Mary Petre.

IV. 1699. Sir Thomas Petre, Bart. [1642], next br. and h., b. 1640; ed. at St. Omer's College; suc. to the Baronetcy, 15 May 1699, but it is uncertain if he ever assumed it. He was living at Rome 1712, but is presumed to have d. unm. before 1722.

V. 1715? to 1722. Sir William Petre, Bart. [1642], br. and h., being yst. of six brothers, b. 1650. He joined the Society of the Jesuits in 1670, becoming "professed" in 1687, and, presumably, at some date after 1712, suc. to the Baronetcy on his brother's death. He d. unm., 22 Feb. 1722, at Ghent, when, unless the elder br. Thomas abovementioned was still surviving, the issue male of the grantee and the Baronetcy became extinct.

(a) Copy of this warrant is in The Genealogist [O.S.], vol. vi, p. 211, but the date of 3 Feb. 1642/3 is sometimes given [W. D. Pink].

(b) See p. 236, note "a."

(c) Hist. MSS. com., 14th Rep., Ormonde MSS., vol. i, p. 347.

(d) Of this family was "Edmund Neale, of Wollaston," who d. 21 Sep. 1671, aged 73, and was bur. there. M.I. [Bridges's Northamptonshire]. As also "Sir Charles Neale, of Woolaston, co. Northampton, Knt., aged 28, and a bachelor," 27 Feb. 1678/9, when he had lic. (Fac. Office) to marry Frances Clerke, spinster.

(e) See p. 246, note "a." It is possible, however, that the creation of the Baronetcy of Petre may have been by Charles II, during his exile, in which case it would, of course, not be recognised by Parl. till the de facto accession of that King in 1660.

(f) Statement in the elaborate pedigree in J. J. Howard's Catholic Families, from which this article is chiefly compiled.

WARD.

HUMBLE WARD, of Himley, co. Stafford, whow as cr., 23 March 1643/4, BARON WARD OF BIRMINGHAM, had previously [1643 ?] received the promise of a Baronetcy,[a] of which, however, no official record seems extant. For particulars of him see Peerage.

Baronetcies of Ireland,[a]

SECOND PART,

VIZ. :

CREATIONS BY CHARLES I,

27 March 1625 to 30 Jan. 1648/9.

BARRET :

"Sir James Barret, Knight and Baronet," is so described in a funeral entry, 1626, in the Office of Arms, Dublin. He was Knighted 7 Feb. 1621/2, in Dublin, but there is no record of his having been cr. a Baronet. He m. Janet, da. of Dominick (Sarsfield), 1st Viscount Sarsfield of Kilmallock [I.], in whose funeral entry, 1637, he is described only as a "Knight," so that the previous one is probably erroneous. He d. 30 June 1629. Inq. p.m., wherein, also, he is described as "Miles" [only]. His grandson, William Barret, was cr. a Baronet [I.], 4 June 1665.

MAC DONELL, or MACDONNELL :
forfeited 1690.

I. 1627. "Alexander Mac-Donell, Esq., of Moye [or Moyane], co. Antrim," "natural"[c] s. of Sir James Mac-Sorley-Boye-Macdonnel, of Dunluce, in said county (br. of Randal, Earl of Antrim [I.]), by Mary, da. of Hugh Mac Phelimy O'Neill, of Claneboye, was, by patent dat. at Dublin, 30 Nov. 1627 (Privy Seal dat. at Southwick 20 June previous), cr. a Baronet [I.] as above,[b] being subsequently Knighted in Ireland, 21 May 1628. He was Sheriff of co. Antrim, 1629. He m. Evelyn, da. of Arthur (Magennis), 1st Viscount Magennis of Iveagh [I.], by Sarah, da. of Hugh (O'Neill) Earl of Tyrone [I.]. He d. 10 May 1634, at Moyane, and was bur. in the abbey of Bonamargy. Funeral certificate.

(a) See vol. i, p. 223, note "a," for acknowledgment of the kind assistance of Sir Arthur Vicars, Ulster, and others, and more especially of the copious and invaluable information given by G. D. Burtchaell (of the Office of Arms, Dublin), as to the Irish Baronetcies.

(b) See vol. i, p. 223, note "b," as to the description and dates of these Irish Baronetcies.

(c) Funeral certificate in Ulster's Office.

II. 1634. SIR JAMES MACDONNELL, Baronet(a) [I. 1627], of Ballybannagh, co. Antrim, s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy, 10 May 1634. He m. Mary, da. of Donal O'BRIEN, of Dough, co. Clare, by Ellis, da. of Edmund FITZGERALD, called the "Knight of Glyn." He was living 1678; attainted, after death, 10 July 1691.

III. 1680? to 1691? SIR RANDAL MACDONNELL, Baronet [I. 1627], of Moye aforesaid, 2d and yst. but only surv. s. and h.;(b) suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father; was Captain of a ship of war to Charles II in the action of Mamora against the Moors, and, subsequently, served in the Army of James II, to whom he remained faithful, and whom he accompanied into exile, being, consequently, attainted, 10 July 1691, when the Baronetcy became forfeited, his estates being granted in 1696 in trust for his wife and children. He m., Jan. 1686, Hannah, da. of Edward ROCHE, of Ballinard, co. Tipperary, by Joanna, da. of Richard BUTLER, of Killenault, in that county. He d. about 1697. Will pr. 1697. His widow d. 26 Dec. 1628, and was bur. at St. James' Church, Dublin. Will pr. 1728 in the Prerog. Court [I.].

The right to the Baronetcy, subject to the attainder, appears to have been as under:—

IV. 1710. "SIR JAMES MACDONNELL, Baronet" [I. 1627], 1st s. and h. He d. unm. 24 May 1728, and was bur. in St. James Churchyard, Dublin.

V. 1728. "SIR RANDAL MACDONNELL, Baronet" [I. 1627], of Cross, co. Antrim, br. and h., assumed the style and title of a Baronet on the death of his br. He was a Captain in the French service, and d. unm. 1740. Will pr. 1741, in the Prerog. Court [I.].

VI. 1740. JOHN RICHARD MACDONNELL, yst. and only surv. br. and h., of whom and whose successors, if any, nothing further is known.

(a) The words "Baronet" [in full] and "Bt." [when abbreviated], are henceforth used in this work instead of the word "Bart.," which familiar abbreviation appears to have recently [1900] become odious to several existing Baronets; indeed, in The Athenæum of 1 Sep. 1900, the reviewer of Pixley's History of the Baronetage speaks of this usage as being, in that work, indicated to be "one of the worst wrongs inflicted on the long-suffering degree." According to the statement of a certain Baronet (10 Sep. 1900), "the words Bart. and Barts. cannot be recognised as anything but very impure English," but, as he also states in the previous sentence that they "do not exist," his sense of impurity seems supernatural. The compiler of the present work is no philologist, and consequently is not deeply moved in the matter, but for the sake of courtesy he is willing to comply with the suggestion as under, made to him, 19 Sep. 1900, by the author of the abovenamed valuable work, "Francis W. Pixley, F.S.A., Registrar to the Honourable Society of the Baronetage":—"It would be gratifying to this Representative Society if you would instruct your printers and publishers to refrain throughout the work from printing the abbreviation Bart. for Baronet, and to substitute Bt. in cases where it is desired not to print the title at full length."

(b) The eldest son, Alexander Macdonell, was killed in a duel, 1677, having had an only son, Randal, who d. young. This Alexander is sometimes mistaken for his namesake, generally known as "Coll. Kittagh," who was killed at the battle of Knockranos, 13 Nov. 1647 [O'Donovan's Annals of the Four Masters.]

STAPLES:

cr. 18 July 1628.[a]

but assumed from about 1790 to 1794.

I. 1628. "Adam Cockley [i.e., Colclough], Esq., of Tinterne [Abbey], co. Wexford," s. and h. of Sir Thomas Colclough, of Tintern Abbey aforesaid, by his 1st wife, Martha, 4th da. of Adam Loftus, Archbishop of Dublin, was b. probably about 1590; suc. his father (who d., aged 60) 23 Aug. 1624, and was cr. a Baronet [I.], as above, by Privy Seal dat. at Westm., 21 July 1628, no patent being enrolled.[c] He m., in or before 1624, Alice, da. of Sir Robert Rich, a Master in Chancery, in London. ---

[a] The second of these sons, Thomas Henry Burke, Under Secretary of State for Ireland, was barbarously murdered in Phœnix Park, Dublin, 6 May 1882, aged 52, being at that date heir presumptive to this Baronetcy.

[b] There was, however, an intermediate brother, Michael Burke, who had two sons, James and William, whose issue male, if any, would come before that of this William.

[c] See p. 249, notes "a" and "b."

[d] The estates devolved on his sister, Margaret, who m. twice, but d. s.p. 1722, when they devolved on Col. Cæsar Colclough, descended from a br. of the 1st Baronet, whose grandson assumed the Baronetcy, as stated in the text.

1766? to 1794. "Sir Vesey Colclough, Baronet" [I. 1628], of Tintern Abbey aforesaid, assumed this Baronetcy (on a supposed right), probably on or soon after 15 April 1766, at which date he suc. his grandfather, Col. After his death, however, though he left male issue (extinct 23 Aug. 1842), the assumption of this Baronetcy appears to have ceased.

cr. 28 Jan. 1628/9.[b]

I. 1629. "Thomas Esmond, Esq., afterwards Knt., of Clonegall, co. Wexford," illegit. s.[c] of Laurence (Esmond), Baron Esmond of Limerick [I.], by (—), sister of (—) o'Flaherty, of Connaught, was cr. a Baronet, as above, by patent dat. at Dublin, 28 Jan. 1628/9, the Privy Seal being dat. 13 Aug. previous at Southwicke, Hants,[b] where (three days later), 16 Aug. 1628, he had been Knighted. [a] See p. 254, note "d."

[b] See p. 249, notes "a" and "b."

[c] As "Sir Thomas Esmonde, of Faralstown, co. Wexford, Knt. and Baronet, sonne to the said Lord Esmond," he signs the funeral certificate of the latter, whose wife is therein stated to have been Ellis, da. of Walter Butler, of Nodstone, co. Tipperary, by whom he had no issue [Original certificate in Uister's office]. The contemporary author of "An Aphorismical Discovery of Treasonable Faction" refers to him as "a spurious son of Lord Esmond," whose widow also refers, 19 June 1645, to her late husband's "illegitimate son." The extinction of the peerage, as also the admon. to his father's estate which was granted to a nephew, 6 April 1646, militates against there having been a lawful son. [Ex inform. G. D. Burtchaell].

IV. 1703. SIR PIERCE BUTLER, Baronet [I. 1628], of Garryhunden aforesaid, s. and h. by 1st wife; admitted to Lincoln's Inn, 14 Jan. 1691/2; suc. to the Baronetcy in Jan. or Feb. 1703. He was M.P. (a) See page 249, notes "a" and "b."

(b) Since the publication, in 1880, of the Calendar of the State Papers, Ireland, 1615-25, his parentage has ceased to be a matter of conjecture. There was considerable litigation between him and the representatives of his legitimate brother, Theobald, Viscount Butler of Tulleophelim [I.], who d. s.p. in Jan. 1613. Tulleophelim is part of the estate of these Baronets, and the bordure that surrounds their arms is an indication of their illegitimacy.

(c) He, probably, is not identical with Sir Edmund Butler, Knight (in no place called Baronet), who was killed, 4 Oct. 1649, at the taking of Wexford by Cromwell. That Edmund, who possibly was the "Sir (—) Butler, Irish," Knighted at Oxford, 15 July 1640, was a Roman Catholic, whereas the Cloughgrenan family, from the 1st to the present Baronet, have always been Protestants. [Ex inform. G. D. Burtchaell.]

He m. 28 May 1835, Matilda, 2d da. of Thomas Cookson, of Hermitage, co. Durham, by Elizabeth, da. and eventually h. of Charles Edward Selby, of Earle, co. Northumberland. He d. 21 Nov. 1862, in his 49th year, and was bur. at Clonmulsh. She d. 18 Sept. 1893, and was bur. at Clonmulsh.

The arms, however, used by them on seals, certainly as old as the Baronetcy, are :—Quarterly, Argent and azure a cross, engrailed or; in the 1st and 4th quarters an ermine spot." [G. D. The returns to Parl. [I.] of the father and son in 1639, in which the latter is called "Esq.," and the fact that both "Sir Richard Osborne" and "Mr. Richard Osborne" are named on a Committee, 28 July 1641, and the former on one, 1 Aug. 1642, disprove the first statement, and the careful and accurate Lodge gives 1667 and 13 Jan. 1718 as the date of the respective deaths.

BARRET:

cr. possibly in 1631.

"ANDREW BARRET, of Inniscarry, co. Cork," is given as the 14th Baronet [I.],[c] cr. by Charles I, in Beatson's Political Index [1806], but not, apparently, elsewhere. He was s. and h. of Sir James BARRET; was M.P. [I.] for co. Cork, 1613-15 (as "Esq."), and for Cork city (as a "Knight"), 1639-48, having been Knighted, 7 July 1639, at Dublin. He was father of William BARRET, cr. a Baronet [I.] by Privy Seal, 4 July 1665.

[a] The 1st s., John Morres, d. unm. Will pr. 1744 in Prerog. Court [I.]. The 2d s., Nicholas Morres, who was a Brigadier Gen. in the French Service and a Knight of St. Louis of France, m. (—), da. of (—) Fraser, but d. 1745 s.p., at Amboise, in France. This Nicholas is, in Playfair's Irish Baronetage, erroneously made to succeed the 7th Baronet in the title (whereas he died thirteen years before him) and is confused with Nicholas, the 9th Baronet, who was also a Knight of St. Louis.

[b] John Morres, his elder br., d. unm.

[c] Of the 13 previous Baronetcies [I.] 11 (viz., Macdonnel, Staples, Bourke, Butler, Colclough, Esmond, Magrath, Wilson, Osborne, Herbert and Morris are the same as in the text above (Mac Mahon being omitted); the 12th and 13th are "John Talbot, of Cartown, co. Kildare (Lord Tyrconnel), 1631," and "William Dungan, of Castletown, co. Kildare (Earl of Limerick), 1631," of which two, however, (1) Talbot, a creation of 4 Feb. 1622/3, and (2) Dungan, one of 23 Oct. 1623, belong to the previous reign.

FITZGERALD :([a])
cr. 8 Feb. 1643/4 ;([b])
attainted 1691 ;
assumed 1780 to 1894 ;
being from 1861 to 1894, DALTON-FITZGERALD.

I. 1644. "SIR EDMOND FITZGERALD, Knt., of Clenlish, co. Limerick," s. and h. of Thomas FITZGERALD, of the same, by Mary, da. of Cormac MacDermot MACCARTHY, of Muskerry, co. Cork, suc. his father (who d. in London), Dec. 1635, and was cr. a Baronet [I.], as above, by patent dat. at Dublin, 8 Feb. 1643/4, the Privy Seal being dat. at Oxford, 23 April 1643. He is said([c]) to have raised a regiment of horse for the Royal cause during the great rebellion, and to have burnt his castle of Clenlish to prevent it falling into the enemy's hands. He suffered great losses, and was one of the persons named in 1662, by Charles II, in "the Act of Explanation," to be restored as far as possible to his former possession, but he d. before Feb. 1670, and before such restoration.([d])

II. 1665? to 1691. SIR JOHN FITZGERALD, Baronet [I. 1644], of Gortnatubbrid, co. Limerick, s. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy on his father's death ; was restored to a portion of his father's estate (of which Gortnatubbrid was part) by decree enrolled in Chancery [I.], 16 Feb. 1670.([e]) ; was M.P. [I.] for co. Limerick, 1689, in the Parl. of James II. He m. in 1674. Ellen, da. of (—), on which occasion he settles his estates with a remainder to his brothers, Maurice, Richard, Thomas and Edmund. Adhering to James II, he was attainted in 1691, when the Baronetcy became forfeited. He d. abroad, being, it is said,([f]) killed at the battle of Oudenarde, 11 July 1708. His wife, or widow, was living 21 June 1703, when his estates, subject to her interest, were sold to the family of FitzMaurice.

For nearly 100 years no trace appears of this Baronetcy, but on 18 Nov. 1780, Sir William Hawkins, Ulster King of Arms, certified, at the end of a pedigree recorded by him in the College of Arms, Dublin, "that Sir Richard FitzGerald, of Castle Ishen, in the county of Cork, Baronet, is lawfully descended in a direct line from Sir Edmund FitzGerald, of Clinlish, in the

([a]) Between the creations of Morres and FitzGerald the following creation is inserted in the Liber Munerum Hiberniæ :

"SIR PIERCE CROSBIE, Knt., of Queen's County. Neither King's letter nor patent is enrolled, but I suppose him, says Lodge, to have been created about this time. He is a Baronet of Nova Scotia." [He was so created in July 1630. See those creations.]

([b]) Disallowed by Parl., 11 Nov. 1643, till the Restoration. See Memorandum on p. 152 as to all Baronetcies cr. after 4 Jan. 1641/2, and 22 May 1642. See p. 249, notes "a" and "b."

([c]) Playfair's Baronetage of Ireland.

([d]) This Edmond seems often confused with another Sir Edmond FitzGerald, of Cloyne, co. Cork, who m., in or after 1589, Honora, widow of John FitzGerald, Seneschal of Imokilly, da. of James FitzGerald, of Desmond, and who d. 10 March 1611. By her (according to a pedigree entered 1684 in Ulster's office) he had four sons of whom the youngest, Maurice, was of Castlelisheen, sometimes (incorrectly) called Castle Ishen, co. Cork. This Honora FitzGerald, widow, in her will, pr. 1628 in Prerog. Court [I.], mentions her sons, John and Maurice. Of these two sons John, who was b. 1594, was Knighted 17 April 1617, and d. 2 Jan. 1640/1, leaving male issue, and mentioning in his will, dat. 1 Sep. 1640, his brother Maurice FitzGerald, of Castlelisheen. This, apparently, is the same Maurice who, in a pedigree certified, 19 Nov. 1780, by Hawkins, Ulster King of Arms, is (incorrectly) made to be a son of Sir Edmond FitzGerald, the Baronet (of Clenlish), and whose descendant, in right of such descent, assumed that Baronetcy, as stated in the text below.

county of Limerick, Kn^{t}, who was cr. a Baronet the 8 Feb. 1644,"[a] a statement which (coupled with the title of "Baronet" having been given to the said Richard), presumably, implied that he was heir male of the body of the said grantee, and, as such, was entitled to the Baronetcy of the abovenamed date. The pedigree as given by Hawkins, the parts within brackets being however supplied from elsewhere, is below :—"Sir Richard Fitzgerald, of Castle Ishin, co. Cork, Baronet, son of Maurice Fitzgerald, by Helen, da. of Walter Butler (1st son of Richard Butler, Esq., of Kilcash), which Maurice [who d., presumably v.p., 16 Sep. 1726, being bur. at Buttevant Abbey, and called on the M.I. there 'of Castle Ishin, of the house of Desmond'] was s. [and h.] of James Fitz-Gerald (living Jan. 1753), by [his 1st wife] Amy, da. of Thomas FitzGerald, Knight of Kerry, which James was [a younger] son[b] of Garret FitzGerald, by [his 2d wife] Catherine, da. of Charles O'Brien, commonly called Lord Viscount Clare [I.], which Garret was son of Maurice Fitz-Gerald, of Castle Ishin [will dat. 20 March 1678/9 as 'of Castlelisshyne, co. Cork, Esq.,' pr. 7 June 1679 in Prerog. Court of Ireland], by Lady Honora [Maccarthy], da. of [Donogh], Earl of Clancarty [I.], which Maurice was [according to this pedigree, see, however, p. 266, note "d"] son of Sir Edmund Fitzgerald, of Clonlish, co. Limerick, Kn^{t}, who was cr. a Baronet [I.], 8 Feb. 1644."

VII?[c] 1780. "Sir Richard FitzGerald, Baronet" [I. 1644], of Castle Ishen, co. Cork, whose parentage and alleged ancestry have been above stated. He apparently was b. between 1710 and 1721,[d] and having suc. his father, 16 Sep. 1726, obtained, 18 Nov. 1780, the certificate from Ulster King of Arms mentioned above, styling him a Baronet, and implying that he was entitled to the Baronetcy [I.] conferred 6 Feb. 1643/4.[e] He m. Joanna Maria, da. and h. of James Trant, of Dingle, co. Kerry. He d. about 1787. Will pr. 1787 in Prerog. Court [I.].

[a] Foster's Baronetage for 1883, p. 698 (being in the part of that work called "Chaos"), where a full account of this assumption is given, from which the one in the text is mainly derived.

[b] An elder br. of this James is said to have been Maurice FitzGerald "of Castle Ishen," who d. s.p. Feb. 1750, but the date of the will of the said James, also of Castle Ishen, dat. 19 Jan. 1753, and pr. 27 Nov. 1768, is hardly consistent with his son and his son's wife (the continuators of the line), having d. in 1726 and 1721 respectively.

[c] This number is purely conjectural. "Sir Richard" is stated in Playfair's Baronetage to have been "the second of this family who bore that title, but the 6th in descent from the 1st Baronet." The second Baronet was, however, s. and h. of the first, and was not (even according to Hawkins' pedigree) one of "Sir Richard's" lineal ancestors. "Sir Richard's" grandfather had an elder brother, Maurice, who d. s.p. Feb. 1750 (see note "b" above), and who may, apparently, be reckoned, equally with himself, as entitled to this dignity, thereby rendering "Sir Richard" the 7th in succession.

[d] His sister Mary, who m. 29 Nov. 1731, the Earl of Fingall [I.], was probably b. about 1710 ; their mother d. in 1721.

[e] "There can be no doubt that the claim of the Castle Ishen (properly Castlelishen) family to the title was devoid of foundation. It was not acknowledged by Sir W. Betham, Ulster King of Arms. The fact that Maurice Fitzgerald, late of Castlelisheen, Esq., was 4th and yst. s. of Sir Edmund FitzGerald, of Cloyne (by Honora, widow of John FitzGerald, of Ballymarter, commonly called the Seneschal of Imokilly, da. of James FitzGerald, of Desmond) appears from a pedigree of the Desmond family in Ulster's office in the year 1684, as also that Katharine, 2d da. of Conor O'Bryen, 2d Lord Clare, married Gerrott FitzGerald, surv. s. of Maurice, of Castlelisheen" [G. D. Burtchaell].

VIII ?[a] 1787? "Sir James Trant FitzGerald, Baronet" [I. 1644], of Castle Ishen aforesaid, only s. and h., suc. his father in 1787. He m. 1 Oct. 1786, Bridget Anne, da. of Robert Dalton, of Thurnham Hall, co. Lancaster, by his 3d wife, Bridget, da. (whose issue became eventually sole h.) of Thomas More, of Barnborough, co. York. He d. July 1824. Will pr. 1825. His widow d. abroad. Will pr. Aug. 1835.

IX ?[a] 1824. "Sir James Fitzgerald, Baronet" [I. 1644], of Castle Ishen aforesaid, and of Wolseley Hall, co. Stafford, only s. and h., b. 22 Aug. 1791; suc. his father in July 1824. He m. 27 Sep. 1826, at Swanbourne, Bucks, Augusta Henrietta, sister of the 1st Baron Cottesloe, 2d da. of Vice Admiral Sir Thomas Francis Fremantle, G.C.B., by Elizabeth, da. of Richard Wynne, of Falkingham, co. Lincoln. He d. 25 Sep. 1839, at Chalons-sur-Saone, near Nice. Will pr. Oct. 1839. His widow d. 11 June 1863, at the Convent, Roehampton, Surrey, aged 60.

X ?[a] 1839. "Sir James George Fitzgerald, afterwards (1861) Dalton-Fitzgerald, Baronet" [I. 1644], of Castle Ishen aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. 6 Jan. 1831; suc. his father, 25 Sep. 1839. He took, by royal lic. 31 May 1861, the name of Dalton before that of Fitzgerald, on succeeding to the estate of Thurnham Hall aforesaid, formerly the possession of the Dalton family. He m. 26 June 1856, Blanche Mary, 3d da. of the Hon. Philip Henry Joseph Stourton, of Holme Hall, co. York (3d s. of Charles Philip, Baron Stourton), by Catherine, da. of Henry Howard, of Corby. He d. s.p. 16 Jan. 1867, aged 36. His widow, who took the veil, d. 7 June 1875, at the Convent of the Sisters of Charity, Harold's Cross, Dublin.

XI ?[a] 1867, to 1894. "Sir Gerald Richard FitzGerald, afterwards (March 1867) Dalton-FitzGerald, Baronet" [I. 1644], of Castle Ishen and Thurnham Hall aforesaid, br. and h., b. 21 Aug. 1832; suc. his brother 16 Jan. 1867, and shortly afterwards took, by royal lic. 23 March 1867, the name of Dalton before that of FitzGerald. He m. 15 Jan. 1861, Agnes Georgiana, 2d da. of George Wildes, of Manchester. He d. s.p. at 36 Lowndes sq., 22 Feb. 1894, and was bur. at Thurnham aforesaid, aged 61, when the issue male of Richard FitzGerald, who in 1760 assumed this Baronetcy, became extinct. His widow living 1900.

III. 1679? Sir Walter Butler, Baronet [I. 1645], of Polestown aforesaid, only s. and h. ; b. about 1678, being directed in his father's will "to be called by the name of Edmond, and Walter when the Bishop shall confirm him"; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1679 or 1680 ; was a dissolute spendthrift and drunkard, and was, before 1706 "delirious and of non sane memory." He m. firstly, April 1697, Lucy, 3d da. of Walter Butler, of Garryricken, co. Kilkenny, by Mary, da. of Christopher (Plunkett), Earl of Fingall [I.]. She d. 1703. He m. secondly, in or before 1706 (—), "with whom he had no fortune," and who subsequently left him and went to live in London. He d. 8 Oct. 1723. Admon. 14 March 1723/4, in Ireland, to a creditor.

IV. 1723, to 1762. Sir Edmund Butler, Baronet [I. 1645], 2d but only surv. s. and h., being only s. by 2d wife[f], b. about 1708; suc. to the Baronetcy, 8 Oct. 1723, and filed a bill in the Exchequer [I.] 29 March 1732 to recover the family estates, but no decree was made thereon. He was a Col. in the French Service. He d. presumably s.p.m. in Paris, in Sep. or Oct. 1762, aged 54[g] when the Baronetcy became extinct or dormant.

[b] This and almost all the other particulars in this article are supplied by G. D. Burtchaell. See vol. i, p. 223, note "a."

[c] Petition to the Court of Claims by his daughter, who adds, that "he died in His Majesty's service in opposition to the late Usurper."

[d] Lodge [Irish Peerage, 1st edit., vol. ii, p. 14] says, "1636," presumably an error for 1686.

[e] "I suspect a sister of Edmond Blanchfield or Blanchville, who, with her, is made one of the Executors of Sir Richard's will. If so, she was da. of Capt. Garret Blanchville, who d. v.p. 21 Feb. 1646, being eldest s. and heir ap. of Sir Edmond Blanchville, of Blanchevillestown, co. Kilkenny, by Elizabeth, sister of Sir Edward Butler, cr. Viscount Galmoy [I.] in 1646. Lodge states that Sir Edmond Blanchville married Elizabeth, da. of Walter (Butler), 11th Earl of Ormond [I.], but this is utterly wrong ; there is abundant proof that his wife was the lady stated above. She was living as his widow in 1664." [G. D. Burtchaell.]

[f] By the first wife were two children, viz., Richard, who d. v.p., and a daughter.

[g] "The Dublin newspapers of 2 Oct. 1762, contain notice of this death, viz., "At the beginning of this month, at Paris, aged 54, Sir Edmund Butler, of Polestown, Baronet, Colonel of Horse in the French Service.'" [G. D. Burtchaell.]

Baronetcies [I.] not on record,

1640—1648;

ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY.

Memorandum.—As in England (see Memorandum on p. 236), so in Ireland there were apparently some Baronetcies conferred during the Civil Wars, of which no patent, nor even docquet or warrant was enrolled. A complete list of these is unattainable, but the following persons, herein arranged alphabetically, seem to have been among them.

BOURKE:

ex. or dormant about 1700.

I. 1645. DAVID BOURKE, of Kilpeacon, co. Limerick, Esq., s. and h. of Oliver Bourke, of Limerick, merchant (Sheriff, 1585, and Mayor, 1591, of that city), was b. 1588; was in ward to Thomas Ashe, 10 May 1597; had livery, 12 June 1611, of the estate of his br., Edmund BOURKE; was one of the Sheriffs of the city of Limerick, 1613 and again 1614, and was cr. a Baronet [I.] by the Earl of Ormonde, according to the direction of the King, "during the time of the cessation after the beginning of the Rebellion"[a] [i.e., the Ulster Civil War, which began Oct. 1641], but no patent or Privy Seal is enrolled. He was transplanted to Clare in 1653, being then aged 65, and was living at Monanoe in that county in 1661.[b] He m. in or before 1615, Catherine, widow of (—) BLAKE, da. of (—) COMYN, of Limerick. He d. 1661. Will dat. 8 July 1660, pr. 1661 in Prerog. Court [I.].

II. 1661. SIR OLIVER BOURKE, Baronet [I. 1645?], s. and h., b. about 1615; was (with his parents and brother) transplanted in 1653; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1661. He, with Mary his wife, formerly wife of Pierce CREAGH, claimed in 1676, lands set out to his father, "Sir David BOURKE, Baronet," and to the said Pierce CREAGH, both of whom being "transplanted Papists." In his will, dat. 29 April 1695, pr. at Killaloe 2 Feb. 1696, he mentions his nephew James, son of his br. David, as his heir.

III. 1696, to 1700? SIR JAMES BOURKE, Baronet [I. 1645?] nephew and h., being s. of David BOURKE, 4th s. of the 1st Baronet; suc. to the Baronetcy. An undated petition from him, "to be placed on the establishment," is among the Ormonde MSS. The Baronetcy at his death became extinct or dormant.[c]

---

[a] The name of "James Bourke, of co. Limerick," occurs, as the recipient of a Baronetcy, in a list in the Office of Arms [I.] of "all the honours granted by the Earl of Ormond by direction of the late King during the time of the cessation after the beginning of the Rebellion," but this seems to be a mistake for "David." [G. D. Burtchaell.]

[b] Ex inform. C. M. Tenison.

[c] Sir David Bourke, the 1st Baronet, had three younger sons, viz., Edmund, Patrick, and David. Of these, Edmund and Patrick appear to have died s.p.

HORSFALL:

possibly, 1642 ? to 1693.

"Sir Ciprian Horsfall," only s. and h. of John Horsfall, Bishop of Ossory, 1586-1609 ; was Knighted in Ireland, 6 Aug. 1628 ; Sheriff of co. Kilkenny, 1641, and is sometimes stated to have been cr. a Baronet[a] by Charles I [1642 ?]. He m. firstly, 15 July 1601, at Knockmoan, co. Waterford, Jane, da. of Roger Dalton, of Knockmoan aforesaid, and Kirkbynsperton, co. York. He m. secondly, before July 1606, Margaret, 1st da. of David Clere, Dean of Ossory, 1582-1602. He d. s.p.m.[b] in or before 1693 when the Baronetcy, if indeed it ever existed, became extinct. His admon., in which, however, he is styled a "Knight," 31 Oct. 1693, in Prerog. Court [I.], to his next of kin.

cr. about 1645 ;

assumed till 1714, or later.

I. 1645 ? Thomas Hurly, of Knocklong, co. Limerick, s. and h. of Maurice Hurly, of the same (who d. 3 June 1637), by his 1st wife, Grania, da. of Ogan O'Hogan, of Ardcrony, co. Tipperary ; suc. his father in June 1637 ; was Sheriff of co. Limerick, 1639, and is said to have been cr. a Baronet [I.] by Charles I, presumably about 1645. He m., before June 1637, Lettice, da. of Lucas Shee, of Kilkenny,[d] by Ellen, da. of Edmund (Butler), 2d Viscount Mountgarret [I.]. He d. before 1653. His widow, Lettice, was transplanted, in 1653, to Connaught, being then aged 60.

II. 1647 ? Sir Maurice Hurly, Baronet [I. 1645 ?] of Knocklong aforesaid, of Kilduff, co. Limerick, and afterwards of Doone, co. Galway, s. and h. ; suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father, and was one of the supreme council at Kilkenny in 1647. He (with his mother) was transplanted, in 1653, into Connaught, and his estates forfeited. He m. Margaret, da. of (—) O'Dwyer. His will, as of "Doone, co. Galway, Baronet," dat. 1683, pr. 1684, in Prerog. Court [I.].

(a) In three copies of lists of Baronets of Ireland in Ulster's office, in the handwriting of Thomas Preston, Ulster, the name of Horsfall, but with a query, is placed between those of MacMahon and Esmond ; but in these lists the names of Bourke, Colclough, Butler, Wilson, Osborne, and Harbert are omitted, and those of Barnewall, MacBrian, Magrath, and Morres are (also) queried. In a revised list, dat. 7 March 1639, Horsfall is omitted, but so also are Colclough and Butler.

(b) Joan, his only child, m. Oliver Grace, of Courtstown, co. Kilkenny.

(c) Most of the particulars in this article have been supplied by G. D. Burtchaell and C. M. Tenison. See vol. i, p. 223, note "a." There is an account of this family, by Richard Caulfield and John D'Alton, in the Top. and Gen., vol. iii, pp. 462-467.

(d) Lettice Shee, who survived him, is the only wife assigned to him, when he entered and signed his father's funeral certificate in June 1637. A previous wife (unsupported, however, by the O'Ryan pedigree) is sometimes given to him, viz., Joanna, da. of John Brown, of Camus, co. Tipperary, by Catherine, da. of Dermot O'Ryan, of Solloghod, in that county.

III. 1684? to 1691. SIR WILLIAM HURLY, Baronet [I. 1645?] s. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father, was M.P. [I.] for Killmallock, 1689, in the Parl. of James II, for whom he was in command of a troop, near Cashel, in 1690, where he received wounds, of which he probably died. He m. Mary, da. of Col. BLOUNT, by (—), da. of Walter BOURKE, of the Devil's Bit, co. Tipperary. He d. 1691, and was attainted, whereby his estate and Baronetcy became forfeited. His widow m. Brian O'BRYAN.

IV. 1691. "SIR JOHN HURLY, Baronet" [I. 1645?] s. and h., who, notwithstanding the attainder, assumed the title on his father's death. He was arrested in Dublin, about 1714, for trying to raise forces for the titular King James III.

V. 1720? "SIR JOHN HURLY, Baronet" [I. 1645?], said to be s. and h. of the above, and to have also assumed the title. Of him, however, if he ever existed, nothing further is known, and there is no mention of him in the pedigree entered in Ulster's office.

WALSH :[a]

cr. July 1645;

ex. about 1690?

I. 1645. "JAMES WALSH, of Little Island, co. Waterford, Esq.," and of Ballygoner, co. Waterford, 1st s. and h. of Robert WALSH, of the same, sometime (1601 and 1602) Mayor of Waterford, by Beale, da. of James WHITE, of Kells, co. Kilkenny; was b. about 1580; suc. his father, 3 Jan. 1603; was M.P. [I.] for co. Waterford, 1634-35, and was cr. a Baronet [I.], the Privy Seal being dat. at Oxford, 23 Jan. 1644/5, and "Fiant" at Dublin, 9 July [1645] 21 Car. I, no patent being enrolled. He m. firstly, Katherine, da. of (—) SHERLOCK. He m. secondly, in 1603, Katherine, da. of Piers BUTLER, of Callan, co. Kilkenny, by his 1st wife, Jenet, da. of Edward WHITE, of Ballinderry, co. Roscommon. He d. about 1650.

II. 1650? to 1690? SIR ROBERT WALSH, Baronet [I. 1645] of Ballygoner aforesaid, s. and h.,[b] by (—) wife. He was Knighted, v.p., 24 Oct. 1642, at Edgehill, by Charles I, and suc. to the Baronetcy about 1650. He m. before July 1629, Mary, 2d da. of Sir George SHERLOCK,[c] of Leitrim, co. Cork, by Anstace, da. of (—) WYSE, of Waterford. He and his son Pierce were living 1663, claiming as "Innocents," and again 22 Dec. 1680, as defendants in a Chancery suit. He d. s.p.m.s.,[d] probably about 1690, when the Baronetcy became extinct.

[a] See p. 248, note "a." "It is given to few mortals to comprehend even superficially the mysteries of the maze of Irish political movements, 1641-1651; but the Cessation, 15 Sep. 1643, and the Peace, 30 July 1646, are well marked points in connection with dealing out honours to the Catholic Loyalists who were against the Government. Several privy seals were issued, while these negotiations were proceeding, some of which were afterwards enrolled; some suggested titles appear never to have reached a privy seal, and so were not assumed, e.g., the Earldom of Wexford for Viscount Mountgarret, and the Viscounty of Newry for Walter Bagenal, of Dunleckney. The privy seal for Walsh is set out in full in the Fiant. I think the same year may be assigned to Bourke and Hurly" [G. D. Burtchaell].

[b] He had two brothers, neither of whom left male issue.

[c] Knighted 28 Nov. 1606.

[d] His son, Pierce, who was living 1663 and 1666 [5th Rep. D.K.R. Ireland, p. 69, and 19th Report, p. 70], as well as in Dec. 1680, m. Henrietta Maria de Mouzan, of Lorraine, and d. v.p. and s.p.m.

Baronetcies of Scotland, or Nova Scotia,[a] 1625—1707.

Memorandum.—The province of Nova Scotia in North America was annexed to the Kingdom of Scotland, and granted, under the Great Seal, 10 [not 29] Sep. 1621, to Sir William Alexander, of Menstrie (subsequently Earl of Stirling [S.]) as a foreign plantation. "The personal influence of Sir William with the King [James I] caused him to approve of the scheme of creating in Scotland an hereditary dignity under the titles of Knights Baronets of Nova Scotia, by means of a scheme similar to that which had proved successful for colonising the districts in the province of Ulster."[b] He accordingly informed the Privy Council of Scotland of his design, 18 Oct. 1624, who, on 30 Nov. following, issued a proclamation announcing the King's intention of creating 100 such Baronets on 1 April next. Before that date was reached, viz. on 27 March 1625, King James died, but the grant of 1621 was confirmed in a novodamus, 12 July 1625, by Charles I, who, however (six weeks before), on 28 May 1625, had already nominated the premier Baronet, Gordon, as also, then, or a few days later, some others. Pixley [History of Baronetage, p. 160], states that ten Baronetcies had been created between 28 May and 19 July 1625, viz., Gordon, Strachan, Keith, Campbell, Innes, Wemyss, Livingston, Douglas, Macdonald, and Murray. This statement is probably correct, but it is added that, on the said 19 July, the King acquainted the Lords of the Privy Council [S.], "that he had created the above [ten] Baronets," whereas in his letter of that date, he makes no mention of the names or number of such his creations, but merely says that "we have preferred some to be Knight Baronettes." The Royal charter of 28 May 1625 (given in full in Pixley's work, pp. 59-89), "which was twice ratified and confirmed by acts of the Parl. of Scotland, viz., 31 July 1630 and 28 June 1633 . . . . was made, by subsequent instruments under the Great Seal, the regulating charter for the Baronets of Scotland and Nova Scotia."[b] Each Baronet received, on the resignation of Sir William Alexander, above-named "a grant of 16,000 [or more in some cases, as in that of Keith] acres of land in the Royal Province of Nova Scotia (which, as anciently bounded, comprehended Nova Scotia proper, Cape Breton, Anticosti, Gaspe, Prince Edward's Island and New Brunswick), to be incorporated into a full entire and free Barony and Regality for ever to be held of the Kingdom of Scotland[b] . . . . The number of persons when this order was instituted in 1625 was not to exceed 150, and Nova Scotia was nominally divided into so many Baronies. The sum payable by each was 3,000 merks (the equivalent to £166 13s. 4d. sterling) of which one-third was to go into [Sir W.] Alexander's pocket, he engaging that the other two-thirds should be expended in setting forth the plantation. During the first four years the applicants who received patents were only about 60; during the next 10 years about 50 more, and thus the object remained unaccomplished during the reign of Charles although its original sphere was so enlarged as to render persons not connected with Scotland admissible to this dignity."[b] During the entire reign of Charles I "122 Baronets [S.] appear to have been created, of whom about 111 had grants of 16,000 acres each,"[a] but such grants ceased altogether after 1638.[b]

The somewhat complicated history of Nova Scotia as respects its alternate possession by England or France, and the sale, or alleged sale, in 1630, by Sir W. Alexander of all "his title to the whole of Nova Scotia, with the exception of Port Royal," are set forth in Laing's New Scotland Tracts.[c]

"It is no easy matter to prepare a very accurate or satisfactory LIST OF THESE KNIGHT BARONETS [S.]. The earliest list I have met with is contained in A catalogue of the Dukes, etc. of England, Scotland, and Ireland, etc., collected by T. W. [i.e., Thomas Walkeley] London, 1640, 12mo. At p. 21 [pp. 117-120 of the edit. pub. in 1642] the names of Knight Baronets of Scotland, amounting in all to 95, including Sir Henry Gib (of St. Martin's) but the dates of the patents are not given. Of this catalogue by T. W., or Thomas Walkeley, Lowndes quotes several editions."[c] This catalogue ends about 1638, with the names of Sir John Lowther, Sir Gilbert Pickering, Sir Edward Longevile, Sir Thomas Perse [i.e., Piers], Sir Edward Musgrave, and Sir William Witherington, all six stated to be English.

Another list (containing, however, but 70 Baronets) ending, about the same date, with the name of Sir Henry Bingham [cr. 30 June 1634], and signed "T. P., Ulster" [i.e., Thomas Preston, Ulster King of arms, 1633-1642], is now remaining in Ulster's office. A copy of this has courteously been sent to the Editor by G. D. Burtchaell, with the kind permission of Sir Arthur Vicars, Ulster King of arms.

The "ROLL OF BARONETS OF NOVA SCOTIA who had territorial grants from Sir William Alexander, Earl of Stirling," is printed in Laing's New Scotland Tracts.[c] The grantees there given are 114 in number and it is stated that "the Precepts are entered" in a volume at the General Register House, Edinburgh, entitled "Regist. Precep. Cart. pro Baronettis Nov. Scotiæ, 1625-1630." The reference to the pages in that volume, which refers to 94 of these Baronetcies, are set out, it being (somewhat perplexingly) added, that as to the remaining 20, "the names having no references are given on the authority of former lists." The date, presumably that of the creation of the dignity is affixed to all but these three, viz.:—No. 41, "James Campbell of Aberuchill," placed between 13 Dec. 1627 and 1 Jan. following; No. 63, "Edward Barrett, Lord of Newburgh," placed between 2 Oct. 1628, and 26 June following, and No. 93 "Sir John Gascoigne" placed next, after 6 Jan. 1634/5, to whom however the date in brackets of "8 June" is affixed. At the end of this list, which concludes with No. 114, Sir Edward Longueville, 17 Dec. 1638, is added: "Two blank precepts, names and dates not supplied. Several of the above are included in the Register of the Great Seal, and also at great length in the Register of Signatouris in the office of Comptrollerie, but others, probably from not having paid the fees, seem not to have been registered."[c] This chronologically arranged list is the one chiefly followed, as to the placing of these Baronetcies, by the editor of this present work.

By far the most valuable list of these Baronets is that by Robert Milne, printed from a MS. in the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh, supposed to have been taken from a list or book of accounts in the Exchequer which was destroyed by a fire that occurred in that office. This list has been printed (with various additions) by Joseph Foster in his Baronetage for 1883, and (unlike the lists abovenamed) extends beyond the reign

[b] The following interesting and contemporary account of this institution is given by the first member thereof, Sir Robert Gordon, in his History of the Earldom of Sutherland. "This yeir of God 1625, King Charles created and instituted the order of Knights-Baronets in Old Scotland, for the furtherance of the plantation of New Scotland in America, being the trne mean or honor betuein a Barone of Parlament and a Knight; a purpose intended by his father of worthie memorie, bot perfyted by his Majestie. Sir Robert Gordoun, tutor of Southerland, wes maid the first Baronet of the Kingdome of Old Scotland and called Baronet Gordoun, which dignitie wes by his Majestie's lettres patent under his Great Seale granted to him and to his heyrs-maill whatsoever. The Lairds of Cluny and Lesmoir, both of the surname of Gordoun, were also this yeir created Baronets. James Gourdoun, the Laird of Lesmoir's eldest sone, wes knighted, according to the tennor of his father's patent, wherby the Baronet's eldest sones are to be knighted at the aige of 21 years, iff ther fathers bee then alive."

[c] "Royal Letters, Charters and Tracts relating to the colonization of New Scotland, and the institution of the order of Knight-Baronets of Nova Scotia, 1621—1638," by David Laing, published by the Bannatyne Club, Edinburgh, 1867.

of Charles I, down to the end of these creations in 1707, being the date of the Union with Scotland.

Another list, extending also through the whole period (1625—1707), but in which no date save that of the year is given to the various creations, is in Beatson's Political Index (1806), vol. iii, pp. 70-77. In this work 141 creations are assigned to Charles I, 89 to Charles II, 17 to James II, 23 to William III and 27 to Queen Anne, in all 297 creations.

Besides the above, there is in Banks's Baronia Anglica concentrata (1843, 4to, vol. ii, pp. 210-248), an account of the institution and continuance of this degree. The author of that work styles himself "Sir T. C. Banks, Bart., N.S.," but though his claim to that dignity was very absurd, the work itself has considerable merit. In it is a "List of Baronets, who had sasine of their Baronies in Nova Scotia taken from the minute book of general register of sasines at Edinburgh." This list commences with Sir Alexander STRACHAN, July 1625, and ends with Sir Andrew KER, Dec. 1637, and Sir Robert CAMPBELL, Nov. 1640. It contains 73 names in all, out of which three seem to relate to the same Baronetcy. There is also another list, viz., of "The persons [who] obtained charters of lands in Nova Scotia, which do not appear to have been followed by seisin." The number of these is 41.

These lists, when referred to, will be styled Milne's List, Laing's List, Walkeley's List, Ulster's List, Beatson's List, and Banks's Lists, which last refer as well to the Baronets who did, as to those who did not, obtain seizin of the Nova Scotia territory.

"After the restoration of King Charles II, the description of Nova Scotia was omitted; so that the Baronets thus created cannot be considered as coming under the conditions of the original foundation of that order. The following patents de titulo Militis Baronetti in Scotland are given as a few examples [from the] Index to [the] Register of the Great Seal of Scotland: Diploma to Sir Andrew Gilmour, 16 Aug. 1661; to Sir John Foulis, of Ravelston, 15 Oct. 1661; to Sir George Ogilvy, of Barras, 5 March 1661/2; to Sir David Carnegy, 20 Feb. 1663; to Sir Thomas Hay, of Park, 23 Aug. 1663; to Sir George Mowat, of Ingliston, 2 June 1664; to Sir James Brown, of Barbadoes, 17 Feb. 1664; to Sir James Murray, of Stanhope, 13 Feb. 1664; to Sir John Henderson, of Fordel, 16 July 1664 [and] to Sir John Kircaldie, of Grange, 14 May 1664." GORDON

(Premier Baronetcy of Scotland):
cr. 28 May and sealed 23 July 1625[a];
dormant, 1795—1806;
re-assumed, since 1806.

I. 1625. THE HONBLE. SIR ROBERT GORDON, Knt., 4th but 2d surv. s.[b] of Alexander (GORDON), EARL OF SUTHERLAND [S.], by his 2d wife, Jean, da. of George (GORDON), 4th EARL OF HUNTLY [S.], was b. 14 May 1580, at Dunrobin Castle, co. Sutherland; ed. at the Univ. of St. Andrew's and, 1598, at that of Edinburgh; was in 1606 a Gent. of the Privy Chamber to King James, and subsequently, 1625, to Charles I; was cr. M.A. of the Univ. of Cambridge, March 1614/5, and, having been Knighted, was cr. a Baronet "with precedence of all the rest by particular clause in his patent,"[a] 28 May 1625, "sealed 23 July 1625" with rem. to heirs male whatsoever[a] and with a grant of 16,000 acres in

(a) Milne's List and Laing's List. A copy in extenso of the lengthy patent of this Baronetcy is printed in Douglas' Baronage of Scotland [1798], pp. 2-13, under "Gordon, of Gordonstoun," as also (31 pages, close print, 4to) in Pixley's History of the Baronage, pp. 59-89.

(b) He was one of five brothers, of whom the 2d and 3d died in infancy; the issue male of the first brother, John, Earl of Sutherland [S.], became extinct, 16 June 1766, on the death of William, the 17th Earl. The 5th and yst. br., was the Hon. Sir Alexander Gordon, of Navidale. He was b. 5 March 1585, emigrated with his family to Ireland in 1631, and had five sons (born 1614 to 1627), all of whom apparently died without issue. Had any male issue been existing in 1795 the heir to the Baronetcy would, presumably, have been among such issue.

Nova Scotia, forming the Barony and Regality of Gordon, of which, however, no seizin appears to have followed.[a] He was Sheriff of Invernesshire 1629, and M.P. [S.] thereof 1630; was guardian to his nephew, the Earl of Sutherland [S.], 1615-30; Vice-Chamberlain of Scotland, 1630, and P.C. [S.], 1634. He was the author of the well-known History of the Earldom of Sutherland, which was, however, not printed (though written nearly 200 years before) till 1813. Having bought the estate of Plewlands, co. Moray, it and others were by charter, 20 June 1642, erected into the Barony of Gordonstoun. He m. 16 Feb. 1612/3, in London, Louisa, da. and h. of John GORDON, of Glenluce, co. Wigtoun and of Longormes in France, Dean of Salisbury, 1602-19 (son of Alexander Gordon, Bishop of Galloway, 1568-83), by his 2d wife Genevieve[b], da. of Gideon PÉTAU, Seigneur de Moylett, President of the Parl. of Brittany. He d. March 1656, aged 76. Will dat. 11 July 1654. His widow, who was b. 20 Dec. 1597, d. Sep. 1680, aged 83.

II. 1656. SIR LUDOVICK GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625], of Gordonstoun aforesaid, s. and h., b. 15 Oct. 1624, at Salisbury,[c] M.P. [S.] for Elgin and Forresshire, 1649; suc. to the Baronetcy in March 1656; suffered severely during the Civil War, his losses amounting to £10,000, and was fined £3,600 in 1667. In or about 1688 he registered in Lyon's office, his arms and supporters as Premier Baronet of Scotland. He m. firstly, 2 Jan. 1644, at Aberdeen, Elizabeth, da. and coheir of Sir Robert FARQUHAR, of Menie in Daviot, co. Aberdeen. She d. Nov. 1661, age 38. He m. secondly (contract 6 March 1669) Jean, da. of John STEWART, of Ladywell. He d. in or before 1688, possibly in Sep. 1685.

III. 1685? SIR ROBERT GORDON, Baronet, [S. 1625], of Gordonstoun aforesaid 1st s. and h. by 1st wife. b. 7 March 1647, at Gordonstoun; was M.P. [S.] for co. Sutherland, 1672-74, 1678, 1681-82 and 1685-86; for Elgin and Forresshire, 1696, till void 1 Oct. 1696; said to have been Knighted about 1683[d]; suc. to the Baronetcy in or before 1688, possibly in Sep. 1685; F.R.S., 3 Feb. 1686, being a scientific mechanist and inventor of machinery; was served heir general to his father, 21 Sep. 1688; was a gent. of the household to James II. He executed an entail of the Gordonstoun estate in 1697, and obtained a "Novodamus" thereof, 27 June 1698. He m. firstly, 23 Feb. 1676, Margaret, Dow. BARONESS DUFFUS [S.], da. of William (FORBES), LORD FORBES [S.], by his 1st wife, Jean, da. of Sir John CAMPBELL. She d. s.p.m. 13 April 1677. He m. secondly, in 1691, Elizabeth, da. and h. of Sir William DUNBAR, 1st Baronet [S. 1700], of Hempriggs, by Margaret, da. of Alexander SINCLAIR, of Lathron. He d. 5 Sep. or Oct. 1704. M.I. at Ogston. His widow m. Hon. James SUTHERLAND, afterwards DUNBAR, who inherited the estate of Hempriggs, and was cr. a Baronet S.] 10 Dec. 1706, whom see.

IV. 1704. SIR ROBERT GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625], of Gordonstoun aforesaid, s. and h. by 2nd wife, b. 1696; suc. to the Baronetcy, 5 Oct. 1704, served heir general of his father, 12 July 1705, was M.P. for Caithness, 1715-22; was out in the rising of 1715, but soon afterwards conformed to Government. In 1766 he claimed the EARLDOM OF SUTHERLAND [S.] as heir male, but without success, against the heir general. On 11 May 1767, he entailed various lands in Morayshire. He m. 26 May 1734, Agnes, 1st da. of Sir William MAXWELL, 3d Baronet [S. 1627] of Calderwood, by Christian, da. of Alexander STEWART, of Torrence. He d. 8 Jan. 1772. Will pr. Dec. 1773. His widow d. 11 March 1808, aged 89, at Lossiemouth.

V. 1772. SIR ROBERT GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625], of Gordonstoun aforesaid, s. and h., b. about 1738; suc. to the Baronetcy, 8 Jan. 1772, and was, on 30 April 1774, served h. of provision general to his father. He d. unm. 2 June 1776 in his 39th year.

(a) Banks' Lists.

(b) She d. at Gordonstoun, 6 Dec. 1643, in her 83d year.

(c) James, Duke of Lennox, and George, Lord Gordon, were his godfathers, and Frances, Duchess of Richmond and Lennox, was his godmother, by whose direction he was called Ludovick, after the late Duke.

(d) He is called a Knight in 1685, but not in 1682; possibly, however, the word "Knight" may be used for "Baronet."

VI. 1776, to 1795. SIR WILLIAM GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625], of Gordonstoun(a) aforesaid, only br. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy, 2 June 1776, and was, on 20 Dec. 1776, served h. of provision general to his br. He d. unm. in the Canongate of Edinburgh (Thursday) 5 and was bur. 11 March 1795 in the Chapel Royal of Holyroodhouse, aged 56,(b) when the issue male of the grantee became, presumably, extinct.(c)

[The Baronetcy remained dormant for about 10 years after the death in 1795 of the 6th Baronet, at which date the collateral heir male of the grantee is supposed to have been among the descendants of one of the two younger brothers of his grandfather's grandfather, Adam Gordon, of Aboyne, jure uxoris Earl of Sutherland [S.], the 2d son of George, 2d Earl of Huntly [S.]. Sir William Gordon, of Gight, co. Aberdeen (who was killed at Flodden 9 Sep. 1513) was the elder of these two, but his male issue is supposed to have become extinct on the death of Sir George Gordon, the 8th of Gight. The younger brother (4th and yst. s. of the said Earl of Huntly) was Sir James Gordon of Letterfourie, co. Banff, Admiral of the Fleet [S.], 1513, whose descendant assumed the Baronetcy in 1806, as below.]

VII. 1795. ALEXANDER GORDON, of Letterfourie, co. Banff, was (according to the Scotch service, obtained in 1806 by his son) cousin and h. male of the late Baronet, and, as such, would have been, after 5 March 1795, entitled to the Baronetcy, which, however, he never assumed. He was 4th and yst. s. of James GORDON of Letterfourie aforesaid, by Glicerie, da. of Sir William DUNBAR, 1st Baronet [S. 1698], of Durn, which James (who m. 1695, and d. aged 87,) was s. and h. of John GORDON, of the same (b. 1627, and d. 1721), s. and h. of James GORDON of Letterfourie, 1633 and 1649, who, according to the service of 1806, was s. of another James GORDON,(d) the s. and h. of James GORDON, Admiral of the Fleet [S.] 1513, the first of Letterfourie, who was youngest br. of Adam (GORDON), EARL OF SUTHERLAND [S.], the great great grandfather of the 1st Baronet. He was b. 1715; was in the rising of 1745, soon after which he joined his br., James GORDON, a wine merchant in Madeira. On 12 July 1791 he was served heir general of his father and of his said br. He m., 1778, Helen, da. of Alexander RUSSELL, of Moncoffer, co. Banff. He d. 16 Jan. 1797, in his 83d year.

VIII. 1797. JAMES GORDON, afterwards (according to the service of 22 April 1806) SIR JAMES GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625], of Letter-1806. fourie aforesaid, s. and h., b. 1779. On 11 Nov. 1797 was served heir special of his father in estates at Durn, etc., co. Banff. On 3 May 1804 was served heir male and heir of line general to his great great great

(a) Gordonstoun is called in Douglas' Baronage [S.], 1798, "a noble house with fine gardens," and together with "Drainy and Dollas all in the county of Murray," is said to be among "the chief seats" of the family.

(b) He had an illegitimate son, William GORDON, of Halmyre, co. Peebles, who had issue. The estates, after a law suit between the descendants (heirs of line) of Lucy, wife of David SCOTT, of Scotstarvit, da. of the 3d Baronet, and Alexander Penrose CUMMING, of Altyre (great great grandson of Lucy, da. of the 2d Baronet by her 1st husband, Robert CUMMING, of Altyre), went to the latter (presumably under some entail), who took the name of GORDON, and was cr. a Baronet in 1804.

(c) The issue male of Robert Gordon, of Pulrossie, co. Sutherland, the only one of the younger sons of the 1st Baronet who had issue, had apparently failed. He bought the estate of Cluny, co. Aberdeen, from Sir John Gordon, 2d Baronet [S. 1625] of Cluny, and was ancestor of Robert Gordon, of Cluny, living in Oct. 1745 but "past the age of action in the field," who however had then a son described as "a very fine young gentleman and may be of great use," which son, however, presumably died s.p. before the death of the 6th Baronet in 1795.

(d) No evidence appears to exist for this part of the pedigree. It is to be noted that there are only 7 generations in more than 300 years. The 1st Laird of Letterfourie was b. probably about 1460, while Sir James GORDON, who assumed the Baronetcy in 1806, and who was 7th in descent from him, was b. 1779. There is evidence also of a William GORDON, of Letterfourie in 1572, and of a Patrick GORDON, of Letterfourie in 1592 and in 1625.

great grandfather, Sir James GORDON, the first of Letterfourie. On 22 April 1806 he was served heir male general to his cousin, Sir William GORDON, 6th Baronet [S. 1625] of Gordonstoun, after which date he assumed the Baronetcy. He m. in 1801 Mary, 1st da. and coheir of William GLENDONWYN, of Parton, co. Kircudbright. He d. 24 Dec. 1843 at Letterfourie. His widow d. 18 May 1845, aged 62.

IX. 1843. SIR WILLIAM GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625],[a] of Letterfourie aforesaid, s. and h., b. 26 Dec. 1803. Major, 66th Regiment; Lieut. Col. in the army; suc. to the Baronetcy,[a] 24 Dec. 1843. He d. unm. 5 Dec. 1861, aged 58, at Letterfourie.

X. 1861. SIR ROBERT GLENDONWYN GORDON, Baronet [S. 1625],[a] of Letterfourie aforesaid, youngest br. and h.; b. 1824. Deputy Lieut. for Banffshire; suc. to the Baronetcy,[a] 5 Dec. 1861.

Family estates.—These, in 1883, consisted of 2,331 acres, in the counties of Banff, Dumfries and Kirkcudbright. Principal Seat.—Letterfourie, near Buckie, co. Banff.

I. 1625. WILLIAM (KEITH), EARL MARISCHAL [S.], who had succeeded to that dignity on the death of his father, 2 April 1623, was cr. a Baronet [S.], 28 May 1625,[b] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of no less than 48,000 acres (three times the usual amount) in Nova Scotia, of which however he appears never to have had seizin.[c] By another charter of the same date he gets the ratification of a grant by Sir William Alexander "de officio Admiralitatis" of the said lands, and of coining money in Nova Scotia, for nineteen years after the date of 23 May 1625, and the ratification of a contract made between them "apud Strand" on the date last named. The patent is not in the Great Seal Register [S.]. This Baronetcy devolved with the peerage, till forfeited therewith in 1716. See Peerage.

This Baronetcy is called in Douglas' Baronage [S.] the second [i.e., second according to order of creation, not of precedency] in the order of Baronets [then] existing in Scotland. Douglas apparently reckons this Baronetcy next to that of Gordon.

[S.] for Elgin, 1639-41 and 1648; had charters of the lands and barony of Delny, 12 Feb. 1631, and of those of Newton, Banacoul, etc., 25 July 1636. He was made by the Parl. one of the committee of estates and a P.C. [S.], yet in 1649 appears to have been considered a Royalist. He m. Grizel, da. of James (STEWART), EARL OF MORAY [S.], by Elizabeth, 1st da. and heir of line of James (STEWART), EARL OF MORAY [S.], sometime Regent [S.]. He d. between 1649 and 1660.

[S.] for Elgin, 1661-63 and 1678. He m. Jean, da. of James (ROSS), 6th LORD ROSS OF HALKHEAD [S.], by Margaret, da. of Walter (SCOTT), 1st LORD SCOTT OF BUCCLEUCH [S.]. She was served, 6 Feb. 1649, coheir to her brother, and again 19 Oct. 1653, coheir to her mother.[b]

III. 1690? SIR JAMES INNES, Baronet [S. 1625], of that ilk, 1st s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy on his father's death. He m. (contract 18 July 1666) Margaret, 3d da. and coheir of Harry KER, styled LORD KER, by Margaret, da. of William (HAY), EARL OF ERROLL [S.], which Harry was only surv. s. and h. ap. of Robert (KER), 1st EARL OF ROXBURGH [S.], but d. v.p. and s.p.m. Feb. 1642/3. She d. before 25 Feb. 1691.

IV. 1700? SIR HARRY INNES, Baronet [S. 1625], of that ilk, 2d but 1st surv. s. and h.[c], b. about 1670; M.P. [S.] for Elgin and Forres-shire, 1704-07; suc. to the Baronetcy on his father's death, before 1704. He m. (contract 3 and 4 Sep. 1694) Jean, da. of Duncan FORBES, of Culloden. He d. 12 Nov. 1721.

V. 1721. SIR HARRY INNES, Baronet [S. 1625], of that ilk, 2d but 1st surv. s. and h.[d]; suc. to the Baronetcy, 12 Nov. 1721, and was served heir male to his father 29 June 1723; Inspector of Seizures [S.], March 1748. He m. (contract 9 Oct. 1727) Anne, 2d da. of Sir James GRANT, formerly COLQUHOUN, 6th Baronet [S. 1625], by Anne, da. and h. of Sir Humphrey COLQUHOUN, 5th Baronet [S. 1625]. He d. 31 Oct. 1762. His widow d. at Elgin 9 Feb. 1771.

SIR JAMES INNES, afterwards, [1769-1807], INNES-NORCLIFFE, and subsequently INNES-KER, Baronet [S. 1625], sometime of Innes aforesaid, 2d but 1st surv. s. and h.[e]; b. 10 Jan. 1736 at Innes House, in Innes; ed. at Leyden Univ.; Capt. 88th Foot 1759, 58th Foot 1779; suc. to the Baronetcy, 31 Oct. 1762, being served heir, 7 Feb. 1764; sold the ancient family estate of Innes in 1767 to James (Duff), Earl Fife [I.]. He m. firstly, 19 April 1769, at St. James' Westm., Mary, 1st sister and coheir (10 Jan. 1805) of Sir Cecil WRAY, 12th Baronet [1611], da. of Sir John WRAY, 11th Baronet, by Frances, da. and h. of Fairfax NORCLIFFE of Langton, in the East Riding of Yorkshire. She inherited her mother's estates, whereupon he, by royal lic., 31 May 1769, took the name of Norcliffe after that of Innes, but, on losing the Langton estate by her death, s.p., 20 July 1807, he dropped the name of Norcliffe and took that of Ker in addition to Innes. He m. secondly (8 days after his 1st wife's death) 28 July 1807, at Kensington, Harriet, da. of Benjamin CHARLEWOOD, of Windlesham, Surrey. She was living when, by a decision in the House of Lords, 11 May 1812, he was declared

[b] In the first of these services she is called "Domina Jeanna Ross, Domina Innes, sponsa Roberti Innes, Junioris, de eodem," and in the second one "Jean Ross, Lady Innes." It seems clear that her husband being called "Junior" in 1649 had not at that date succeeded to his father's title. It is just possible that the word "Domina" in 1649 (as also, perhaps, "Lady" in 1653) was applied to her as being the daughter of a Peer.

I. 1625. SIR JOHN WEEMS [or WEMYSS], of that ilk, co. Fife, 2d s. of Sir John WEMYSS, of the same, by his 2d wife, Mary [not Anne], sister of James, EARL OF MORAY [S.], da. of James (STEWART), 1st LORD DOUNE [S.], was served heir, 17 April 1610, to his elder br., David WEMYSS (who d. v.p. in Aug. 1608, having, however, been enfeft of the property), was M.P. [S.] for Fifeshire, 1617; suc. his father after Aug. 1620, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 29 May 1625,[b] sealed 30 Sep. 1626, with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, entitled the Regality of New Wemyss, of which he had seizin Nov. 1626.[c] He m., 1610, Jean, 1st da. of Patrick (GRAY) LORD GRAY [S.], by his 2d wife, Mary, da. of Robert (STEWART), 1st EARL OF ORKNEY [S.] She was living when he was cr. 1 April 1628, LORD WEMYSS OF ELCHO [S.], and, subsequently, 25 June 1633, EARL OF WEMYSS [S.]. In those peerages this Baronetcy then merged, till on the death of his son, the 2d EARL OF WEMYSS [S.], s.p.m.s. June 1679, the peerage titles devolved in the female line (see Peerage), but the Baronetcy, to which the heir male of the grantee was entitled, became dormant, and so continues.

He was known as "Black Duncan," and was a great planter

(a) This Dukedom had been conferred, 25 April 1707, on the 5th Earl of Roxburghe [S.], with the same remainder as that of the Earldom. Sir James was neither heir male nor even heir of line of the 1st Earl, though he was a descendant of him through his yst. grand-daughter. He, in fact, inherited the Peerage under a nomination in 1648 of the Roxburghe dignities.

He m. firstly, in 1574, Jean, 4th da. of John STEWART), 4th EARL OF ATHOLL [S.], Lord Chancellor [S.] 1577-79, being his 2d da. by his 2d wife, Margaret, da. of Malcolm (FLEMING), 3d LORD FLEMING [S.]. He d. 23 June 1631, aged 81, and was bur. at Finlarig, near Loch Tay.

II. 1631. SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, Baronet [S. 1625], of Glenorchy aforesaid, 1st s. and h., by 1st wife, b. about 1577 ; suc. to the Baronetcy, June 1631. He, in Sep. 1631, had seizin of the lands in Nova Scotia.[a] He m. about 1600, Juliana, 1st da. of Hugh (CAMPBELL), 1st LORD LOUDOUN [S.], by his 1st wife, Margaret, da. of Sir John GORDON, of Lochinvar. She, who was 52 in 1633, was living 1648. He d. s.p., 6 Sep. 1640, aged 63.

III. 1640. SIR ROBERT CAMPBELL, Baronet [S. 1625], of Glenorchy aforesaid, br. and h., b. about 1580 ; was sometime of Glenfalloch ; suc. to the Baronetcy, 6 Sep. and was served heir to his brother, 27 Oct. 1640 ; M.P. [S.] for Argyllshire, 1639-41, 1643-44, and 1644-49. He m. about 1610 (before Nov. 1620), Isabel, da. of Lachlan MACINTOSH, of Torcastle, Captain of the clan Chattan. He was living 1647.

IV. 1650? SIR JOHN CAMPBELL, Baronet [S. 1625], of Glenorchy, 1st s. and h., b. about 1615 ; suc. to the Baronetcy after 1647. He was M.P. [S.] for Argyllshire, 1661-63. V. 1670? SIR JOHN CAMPBELL, Baronet [S. 1625], of Glenorchy aforesaid, only s. and h., by 1st wife, b. about 1635, took an active part in the rising [S.] for Charles II, which was suppressed in 1654. He, or his father, was M.P. [S.] for Argyllshire 1669-74. He m. firstly, 17 Dec. 1657, at St. Andrew's Wardrobe, London, Mary, da. of Henry (RICH), 1st EARL OF HOLLAND, by Isabel, da. and h. of Sir Walter COPE, of Kensington. She d. 8 Feb. 1666. He, before his 2d marriage (7 April 1678) with Mary, Dow. COUNTESS OF CAITHNESS, was, under the style of "Sir John Campbell, of Glenurchy, Baronet,"[b] cr. 28 June 1677, EARL OF CAITHNESS, etc. [S.], which dignity, however, he resigned in 1681, when he was cr., 13 Aug. 1681, EARL OF BREADALBANE AND HOLLAND [S.], with the precedency of 28 June 1677. In these Earldoms this Baronetcy then merged, and in the title of Breadalbane has so continued, save that on the death of the 1st Earl, 19 March 1717, it should, apparently, have passed to his 1st s. and h., Duncan, styled LORD ORMELIE, who, on account of his incapacity, was passed over in the succession to the Earldom, and who d. s.p. in 1727, aged 67, when the said Baronetcy vested in the next brother the 2d Earl, the heir male of the grantee. See Peerage.

s. of William, 9th Earl of Angus [S.], had charter of the Barony of Glenbervie 3 Dec. 1622, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 28 May,[a] sealed 18 Aug. 1625, with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres of land called the Barony of Douglas in Nova Scotia, of which he had seizin in the said month of Aug.[b] Living 25 March 1653. IV. 1692. Sir Robert Douglas, Baronet [S. 1625], of Ardit, afterwards called Glenbervie, co. Fife, cousin and heir male collateral, being only s. and h. of William Douglas, of the same, by Agnes, da. of Patrick and sister of Sir John Scott, 1st Baronet [S. 1671] of Ancrum, which William was s. and h. of the Rev. George Douglas, D.D., Rector of Stepney, Midx. (1634-41), which George Douglas was next br. to Sir William Douglas, 1st Baronet. He was b. about 1662, and suc. to the Baronetcy, 24 July 1692. He was the author (1764) of the well known Peerage of Scotland,[e] as also of a posthumous work (1798) called The Baronage of Scotland, of which, however, but one vol. was published. Both these works have been the

STRACHAN, or STRAQUHAN:
cr. 28 May, and sealed 24 June 1625[d];
dormant, since 1659;
but assumed till 1854.

I. 1625, to 1659. SIR ALEXANDER STRAQUHAN[e] or STRACHAN, of Thornton, co. Kincardine, s. and h. of Robert STRACHAN, by Sarah (m. 5 April 1586), 4th da. of William (Douglas) 9th EARL OF ANGUS [S.], the said Robert (who d. v.p., before March 1597) being s. and h. ap. of Alexander STRACHAN, of Thornton was b. about 1587, suc. his grandfather, the said Alexander STRACHAN in May 1601, being, 30 Sep. 1606, served his heir male; was M.P. [S.] for Kincardineshire, 1617 and 1630, and possibly, 1650, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 28 May 1625,[d] sealed 24 June following, with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which seizin

[d] Milne's List as also Laing's List, in which last, however, the creation is stated to be "given on the authority of former lists." In Macfarlane's Genealogical Collections (vol. ii, p. 272) there is given "a demonstrative proof that the patent was the next immediately following [that of] Sir William Douglas, which from the patent itself is of the date 18 May 1626," and it is also stated, that this date is "marked" for it in the minute book of David Sibbald, Dep. Keeper of the Great Seal [S.], the writer adding that "I know none [that] has precedency of the heir male of the house of Thornton, but Sir William Gordon and Sir Robert Douglas." Playfair in his Baronetage [S.] states the grantee to have been "the third Baronet [S] created," and designates the then [1811] Baronet as "Premier Baronet" [S.], considering the Baronetcy of Gordon (which, however, he, subsequently, acknowledges in the appendix) as being then dormant, and placing "Strachan" above Innes, Leslie, Livingston, and Douglas, which last (at all events) should (as above stated) rightly precede it.

[e] See Memorials of the families of Strachan and Wise, by Rev. Charles Rogers, LL.D. [1873; 2d edit., 1877), and Her. and Gen., viii, pp. 302-307 where it is (not very favourably) reviewed. See also Macfarlane's Genealogical Collections, vol. ii, pp. 270-273; also N. & Q. 8th iv, 242-243, and 323-325. The account here given, down to the date of 1686 has been kindly revised by Sir J. Balfour Paul (see p. 275, note "a") with the result of making it a very different one from any previously given.

was subsequently made in July following.[a] He was a Commissioner of the Exchequer in 1630, and, subsequently, of the Treasury, being allowed £3.000 in 1631 for the surrender of some of his offices. He m. firstly (contract 19 Jan. 1605), Margaret, 3d da. of John LINDSAY, of Balcarres, a Lord of Session [S.], under the style of Lord Menmuir, (s. of David, EARL OF CRAWFORD [S.]), by Margaret, da of Alexander GUTHRIE, of Edinburgh. He m. secondly, after April 1623, Margaret, DOW. COUNTESS MARISCHAL [S.], da. of James (OGILVY) LORD OGILVY OF AIRLIE [S.] by Jean, da. of William (FORBES), LORD FORBES [S.]. He, and his then only son and h ap. Alexander, were living 1 Aug 1635, but he appears to have wasted his estates, "lived long in France" with his 2d wife and d. in exile at Bruges about 1659, s.p.m.s. Will dat. 15 May 1657, confirmed 24 Jan. 1662. at Edinburgh.[b]

[ALEXANDER STRACHAN, b. probably about 1608, yr. of the two sons of the 1st Baronet (both being by his 1st wife), is generally said to have suc. him as 2d Baronet, but there is no record of his having done so. His elder br. John is spoken of as "Fiar of Thornton" in Aug. 1626, but must have died before 1 Aug. 1635, when this Alexander is described as "only lawful son of Sir Alexander Strachan" and as being married to Elizabeth DOUGLAS. He, presumably (and not his father), was M.P. for Kincardineshire, 1650. There is no mention of him in his father's will, dat. 15 May 1657, and he probably was then dead without issue.]

The title was assumed as under by a descendant "from a remote ancestor of the 1st Baronet."[c] The relationship, however, is so distant, and the pedigree so uncertain that the right of such assumption seems extremely doubtful.

II. 1659. SIR JAMES STRACHAN, Baronet [S. 1625],[d] of Thornton aforesaid, of Inchtuthill, in the parish of Delvine, co. Perth, of Fettercairn and Monboddo, s. and h. of James Strachan, of Inchtuthill,[e] Fettercairn, and Monboddo, an opulent Burgess of Edinburgh, by Mary, da. of David RAMSAY, of Balmaine, which James (who d. 6 Jan. 1651), was s. and h. of (—) Strachan, the 1st s. and h. ap. of James Strachan, of Monboddo aforesaid (d. 10 July 1614) and was heir to the said James, his grandfather, who was the s. and h. of Sir William Strachan, of Monboddo, "third son of John Strachan, of Thornton, great great grand-uncle of the first Baronet."[c] He had acquired lands at Thornton, is called the "Laird of Thornton" as early as 1658. By him, also, Thornton Castle was subsequently enlarged. On the death of the 1st Baronet in 1659 he appears to have assumed the Baronetcy, and as "Sir James Strachan, of Thornton, Knight Baronet,"[f] sold the estate of Inchtuthill, 20 April 1661. He m. 24 Jan. 1654, at Ellon, his cousin, Elizabeth, 3d da. of Thomas FORBES, of Waterton, by Jean, da. of David RAMSAY, of Balmain. She d. 10 Jan. 1661, in her 25th year, and was bur. at Marykirk. M.I. After her death he "involved his estate and impoverished his fortune,"[c] and (with James his s. and h. ap.) sold the lands of Thornton, 28 March 1683, for £13,924. He m. secondly (—) by whom he had no male issue. He d. 1686.

[JAMES STRACHAN, only s. and h. ap. of the above, b. probably about 1656, entered King's College, Aberdeen, 1670. He m. when young (contract 9 June 1669, registered 16 Nov. 1670), Barbara, 3d da. of Robert FORBES, (d) According to the assumption of that dignity.

(e) The estate of Inchtuthill was purchased by him 29 May 1650, and sold by his son, 20 April 1661. It has sometimes, in error, been attributed to Thomas Strachan, who was cr. a Baronet [S.], 8 May 1685.

of Newtoun, with a dowry of 8,000 merks. They were both living 28 March 1683, but he d. v.p. before 1686, leaving a son James, who, according to one account, "died in infancy,"[a] but according to another account "was alive in 1710, probably then being about 40 years of age,"[b] but who apparently never assumed the Baronetcy.]

III. 1686. Sir James Strachan, Baronet [S. 1625],[c] of Pittendreich (part of the Thornton estate), said to be "probably a nephew,"[a] but who more likely was a cousin of the late Baronet,[c] was b. about 1640; ed. at King's College, Aberdeen; M.A., 28 March 1660; took Holy Orders and was Minister of Keith, 1665 till deprived in Nov. 1689 for nonconformity; assumed the Baronetcy in 1686.[d] He m. about 1680, Katherine Ross. She, by whom he had six sons, d. 8 April 1689, and was bur. at Keith. M.I. He d. at Inverness, 1715, aged 75.

IV. 1715. Sir William Strachan, Baronet [S. 1625],[c], 1st surv. s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy[c] in 1715. He is named Sir William Strachan of Thorntoun in the parish register of Marykirk, where William, his natural son was baptized, 21 July 1715.

V. 1725? Sir Francis Strachan, Baronet [S. 1625],[c] br. and h. male; suc. to the Baronetcy[c] on the death of his brother. He lived at Paris, took Holy Orders in the Church of Rome, became a Jesuit, and was Rector of the College at Douay, 1734. He d. unm., having, it is said, previously resigned the title to the next presumptive heir, John Strachan, of Sweden.[e]

VI. 1753? Sir John Strachan, Baronet [S. 1625],[c] cousin and h. male, stated to be grandson of a brother of the grandfather of the late Baronet.[e] He, presumably, is the "John Strachan, born in London and made [sic, but query if not tantamount to "inherited as "] a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1753," being s. of "John Strachan, of Sweden, by Margaret, da. of Peter Bomgreen, also of Sweden."[f] He having, presumably, inherited the Baronetcy[c] in 1753, d. s.p.m. in about 1765. Will of "Sir John Strachan, Midx.," pr. Aug. 1769.

* * * * *

VII. 1765? Sir John Strachan, Baronet [S. 1625],[c] apparently nephew and h., being 1st surv. s. and h. of Patrick Strachan, Surgeon, and Elizabeth (m. in or before 1718), da. of Edward Gregory, Capt.

(b) Statement of R. R. Stodart, Lyon Clerk Depute (1863-86) as furnished by Sir J. Balfour Paul, Lyon King of Arms.

(c) According to the assumption of that dignity.

(d) "In the records of the Synod of Moray in 1687, he is styled Mr. Jamcs Strachan; and in the baptismal register of Keith, he is, on 6 Jan. 1687, described as "Sir James Strachan, of Thornton, Minister." See note "a" above. In his wife's M.I., erected in 1689 at Keith, he describes himself as "D. Jac. Strachanus de Thornt. hujus ecclesiæ Pastor.

(e) In Macfarlane's Genealogical Collections it is said that Francis (the 5th Baronet) "has now the matter, though perhaps not with all the formalitys requisite, resigned the title of the Baronetship of the family of Thornton to another gentleman, John Strachan, who resides in Sweden and designs himself by the title of Thornton, as the heir male of the family, and in one of his letters he acknowledges that his own grandfather and this gentleman's grandfather were two brothers."

R.N., which Patrick[a] who was bur. at Greenwich, 10 Sep. 1749, was, presumably, yr. br. of the late Baronet. He was bap. 10 March 1728/9 at Greenwich ; was Lieut. R.N. Jan. 1746/7 ; captured, when in command, 8 July 1757, of a French privateer of 20 guns off Alicante ; was attached to the fleet under Hawke, 1759-69, and under Harland, to the East Indies, 1770-72, having suc. to the Baronetcy[b] about 1765. He m. Elizabeth, da. of Robert LOVELACE, of Battersea Rise, co. Surrey. He d. s.p.m., 26 Dec. 1777, at Bath. Will pr. 1778. His widow m. Lieut.-Col. Joseph WALTON. The will of "Dame Elizabeth Strachan, Midx.," was pr. April 1833.

VIII. 1777, to 1828. SIR RICHARD JOHN STRACHAN, Baronet[b] [S. 1625], nephew and h. male, being 1st s. and h.[c] of Patrick STRACHAN, Lieut. R.N., by Caroline (m. 1759), da. of John PITMAN, Capt. R.N., which Patrick (bap. 10 Sep. 1733, at Greenwich) was yst. br. of the late Baronet and d. in New York, 1776. He was b. 27 Oct. 1760, at Plymouth ; suc. to the Baronetcy,[b] 26 Dec. 1777, when aged 17, and, having entered the navy in 1772, became Lieut. 1779 ; Capt. 1783 ; captured four French ships off Cape Finisterre, 4 Nov. 1805, that had escaped from Trafalgar, receiving the thanks of both houses, with an annual pension of £1,000 ; Rear-Admiral, 1805 ; K.B., 29 Jan. 1806, becoming afterwards (1815) G.C.B. Had the naval command of the disastrous expedition against Walcheren in 1808, the Earl of Chatham being in command of the military[d] ; became Vice-Admiral, 1810 ; and Admiral, 1821. He m., April 1812, Louisa DILLON, spinster. He d. s.p.m.s.[e] at his house in Bryanston sq.,

[a] This Patrick (called "Doctor Patrick Strachan" and "Patrick, M.D., Physician to Greenwich Hospital") is stated in the second edit. (differing entirely from the account of his descent given in the first edit.) of Rogers's "Families of Strachan," etc. [see p. 285 note "e"], to have been a yr. br. of Sir Thomas Strachan, who was cr. a Baronet [S.], 8 May 1685, and to have assumed that Baronetcy on the death, s.p., of his said brother. This statement is said to be, "according to a family pedigree deposited in the College of Arms, by Admiral Sir Richard Strachan," grandson of the said Patrick. No such pedigree, however, is recorded either in the College of Arms, London, or in the Lyon office, Edinburgh, and the statement is at variance with all other accounts of the family. The burial at Greenwich of the said Patrick Strachan (the Surgeon), 10 Sep. 1749 (64 years after the said Sir Thomas, his alleged brother, had been created a Baronet), does not describe him as a Baronet; there is no proof that the said Sir Thomas (whose parentage is unknown) ever had any brothers ; and, finally, the creation of the Baronetcy of 8 May 1685 was to the heirs male of the body of the grantee, and consequently could not have passed, after his death without such issue, to a younger brother, but must have become extinct.

[b] According to the assumption of that dignity.

[c] His only br., Jervis Henry Strachan, an officer in the marines, d. unm. being slain in 1780, during a sea fight.

[d] The recriminations of the two commanders as to their respective dilatoriness gave rise to the well known epigram, quoted thus in the Dict. Nat. Biogr., under "Pitt," John, 2d Earl of Chatham :—

"Great Chatham, with his sabre drawn,
Stood waiting for Sir Richard Strachan ;
Sir Richard, longing to be at 'em,
Stood waiting for the Earl of Chatham.

According, however, to a writer in the Athenæum (27 April 1701), quoting "the late Mr. Carrick Moore, whose reminiscences, through his father, Dr. Moore, and his uncle, Sir John, reach back to the date of Walcheren," the first line was—

"Chatham, impatient for the dawn."

This seems the more appropriate version, as being in allusion "to the combined action by the land and sea forces intended to take place at daybreak." Another version, given in the Morning Chronicle of 6 Feb. 1810, is quoted in G.E.C.'s Complete Peerage (vol. ii, p. 213), under "Chatham."

[e] He left three daughters, all married to foreigners.

3 Feb. 1828, after a short illness, aged 67, when the Baronetcy became dormant. Will dat. 12 Feb. 1816 to 31 Jan. 1828, pr. Feb. 1828. His widow m. (—) PICALILLO, an Italian. She resided at Naples, and was by the King thereof cr. MARCHESA DI SALZA.[a] She d. there in 1868, at an advanced age.

* * * * *

[Notwithstanding the resignation of the Baronetcy to "the heir male" expectant, by Sir Francis STRACHAN, the 5th Baronet,[b] the title was, after his death, assumed as under.]

VI bis. 1753? SIR ALEXANDER STRACHAN, Baronet[b] [S. 1625], called "the 6th Baronet of Nova Scotia," conjectured to be grandson of the Rev. Sir James STRACHAN, Baronet abovenamed. He m. before 1736, "Jane BREMNER, of Atterbury."[c]

VII bis. 1760? SIR ALEXANDER STRACHAN, Baronet[b] [S. 1625], s. and h.; "suc. to the title, with its slender income, on the death of his father." He was a Jesuit Priest, and having travelled much, d. unm. in his old age, 3 Jan. 1793, at the English College at Liege.[c]

VIII bis. 1793, to 1826. ROBERT STRACHAN, or SIR ROBERT STRACHAN, Baronet[b] [S. 1625], br. and h., b. about 1737. He was a clerk in Gaudolfe's Bank, Exeter. He suc. to the Baronetcy, 3 Jan. 1793, but possibly never assumed the title. He d. unm. at Exeter, 3 April 1826, aged 89, and was bur. at St. Nicholas in that city.[c]

* * * * *

The title was also assumed as under.

"About 12 years after the death of Admiral Sir Richard Strachan, Mr. John Strachan, of Cliffden, Teignmouth, Devonshire, preferred a claim to the representation of the house of Thornton and passed through a form of service before the Bailies of Canongate. In his claim, or brief, Mr. Strachan sought to instruct his descent from Roger Strachan, of Glichno, brother of John Strachan, of Thornton, great grandfather of the 1st Baronet. Roger Strachan was set forth as father of Dr. Robert Strachan, Physician in Montrose [d. between 1656 and 1659], whose son, John was Minister of Strachan [and d. Feb. 1701]. George [said, in a sasine of 8 June 1696, to be] a son of the Minister, was represented as a Merchant in Montrose, and father of James Strachan, Lieut. R.N., father of the claimant. This statement of pedigrees, unsupported by evidence and in entire variance with chronological requirements, being accepted by a friendly jury and certified by the Canongate Bailies, formed the basis of a retour in Chancery, bearing date 8 Nov. 1841." [Rogers's Memorials of the Strachans as quoted in Her. and Gen., viii, p. 306.]

IX. 1841. "SIR JOHN STRACHAN, Baronet,"[d] [S. 1625], of Cliffden, Teignmouth, Devon, only s. of James STRACHAN, Lieut. R.N. (d. 9 Sep. 1794, aged 93, bur. at Montrose), by Catherine, da. of James DONALDSON, of Montrose, was b. 22 March 1751, and assumed the style of a Baronet after the abovementioned retour of 8 Nov. 1841, as heir male collateral of the grantee. He was a magistrate for Stirlingshire. He m. Elizabeth, da. of David HUNTER, of Blackness, co. Forfar. He d. 9 June 1844, aged 93, at Cliffden aforesaid. Will pr. Aug. 1844.

(a) She is said to have purchased that title with a legacy left to her, in 1842, by the Marquess of Hertford.

(b) According to the assumption of that dignity.

(c) Rogers's Strachan Family, see p. 285, note "e."

(d) According to the assumption of the title, in consequence of the retour of 8 Nov. 1841.

X. 1844, to 1854. "Sir John Strachan, Baronet"[a] [S. 1625], of Cliffden aforesaid, 1st and only surv. s. and h., b. at Montrose; was, presumably, ed. at Winchester School, 1799; suc. to the Baronetcy,[a] 9 June 1844. He m. Mary Anne, da. of Isaac Elton, of Whitestanton, co. Somerset, and Stapleton House, co Gloucester. He d. s.p., 28 Jan. 1854, at Cliffden aforesaid, when the assumption of the Baronetcy ceased. He was bur. at East Teignmouth. M.I.[b] Will dat. 29 June 1848, pr. March 1854. His widow m. in 1855, John Chappell Tozer, of Teignmouth, and d. apparently in 1857.

LIVINGSTONE, or LIVINGSTOUN:
cr. 30 May 1625[c];
dormant, since about 1634.

I. 1625, to 1634? Sir David Livingstoun, of Dunipace, co. Stirling, 2d s. of John Livingstoun, or Livingstone, who was s. and h. apparent of another John Livingstone, of the same, was served heir general of his said grandfather, as also of his elder br., John Livingstone, of Dunipace, 22 Jan. 1620, inheriting thereby an immense estate, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 30 May, sealed 20 Aug. 1625,[c] with rem. to heirs male whatever and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, being the Barony of Livingstone-Dunipace of which he had seizin, July 1625.[d] He, being then "heir ap. of Dunipace," m. before 3 May 1609, Barbara Forrester, probably da. of Sir James Forrester, of Garden. He was living 1631, but d., having apparently, dissipated all his property[e], before 25 Feb. 1634, leaving male issue, but after his death the Baronetcy appears to have become dormant.[f]

[b] See p. 289, note "c."

[c] Milne's List and Laing's List. The creation is between that of Strachan and Macdonald; see p. 291, line 8, and p. 235, note "d." A Baronetcy [S.] of this same date (30 May 1625) is sometimes said to have been conferred on Sir George Livingstone, of Ogleface, co. Linlithgow, a yr. br. of Alexander, 1st Earl of Linlithgow [S.], but this is an error. That creation is, however, indicated (though not actually asserted) in Playfair's Baronetage [S.], and has been adopted in some more modern Baronetages.

[d] Banks's Lists.

[e] Dunipace was in the hands of the Earl of Callender (S.) before 1646. In 1649 Margaret, da. of the Baronet, had a decree for £500 for parts of the land of Dunipace. The Livingstones of Balrounie, 1600 to 1729, descend from Patrick Livingstone, of the same, uncle of the Baronet; there appear also to have been other branches of the Dunipace family, all of whom would be within the limitation of the Baronetcy. Alexander Livingstone, the founder of the family of Dunipace (beheaded 1446), was a bastard br. of the 1st Lord Livingstone (S.). [Ex inform. R. R. Stodart. Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86.]

[f] His son, John Livingstone, living as "heir ap. of Dunipace," 9 Aug. 1630, 11 June and 9 July 1631, survived him, and was living 25 Feb. 1634, when he had protection from the creditors of his deceased father, but, having inherited nothing from him, he apparently never assumed the Baronetcy, and nothing more is known of him. There were two sisters of the first Baronet, one of whom m., about 1590, James Arbuthnott, and was mother of Sir Robert Arbuthnott of that ilk, while the other, Jean, known as "Lady Warriston," m. John Kincaird, of Warriston, near Edinburgh, and was executed 5 July 1600 for his murder. See an interesting article thereon in the Scottish Record, for Oct. 1850.

MACDONALD :

cr. 14 July 1625[a];

He m. Janet, sister of Colin, 1st EARL OF SEAFORTH [S.], 2d da. of Kenneth (MACKENZIE), 1st LORD MACKENZIE OF KINTAIL [S.] by his 1st wife Anne, da. of George ROSS, of Balnagowan. He supported the Royal Cause in 1645, again in 1651, and quelled a disturbance in the Highlands in 1664. He m. firstly (contract 23 Feb. 1633), Margaret, aunt of George, 1st EARL OF CROMARTY [S.], da. of Sir Roderick MACKENZIE, of Lorgeach, by Margaret, da. and h. of Torquil MACLEOD, of Lewes. V. 1718. SIR DONALD MACDONALD, Baronet [S. 1625], only s. and h., b. about 1697 ; mat. at Oxford (Ch. Ch.), 7 Nov. 1712, aged 15 ; suc. to the Baronetcy, in 1718. He d. unm. 1720.

VI. 1720. SIR JAMES MACDONALD, Baronet [S. 1625], of Slate aforesaid, and of Oransay, uncle and h. male ; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1720. He m. secondly, Margaret, da. of John MACDONALD, of Castleton, by whom he had no issue.[c] He d. 1723, at Forres.

VII. 1723. SIR ALEXANDER MACDONALD, Baronet [S. 1625], of Slate aforesaid, s. and h. by 1st wife, b. 1711 ; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1723. He was almost the only person of consideration in that district, who, in 1745, supported the Government, and was consequently in great favour with the Duke of Cumberland. He m. firstly, 5 April 1733, Anne, widow of James OGILVY, styled LORD OGILVY OF AIRLIE da. of David ERSKINE, of Dun, co. Forfar, a Lord of Session [S].

He m. secondly, 24 April 1739, at St. Paul's, Edinburgh, Margaret, 9th da. of Alexander (MONTGOMERIE), 9th Earl of Eglington [S.], being his 4th da. by his 3d wife Susanna, da. of Sir Archibald KENNEDY, 1st Baronet [S. 1681], of Culzean. He d., suddenly at Bernera (on his way to London) 23 Nov. 1746, aged 35. His widow, who was a distinguished partisan of the exiled house of Stuart, d. 30 March 1799 in Welbeck Street, Marylebone. Will pr. April 1799.

VIII. 1746. SIR JAMES MACDONALD, Baronet [S. 1625], of Slate aforesaid, s. and h. by 2d wife, b. at Edinburgh about 1742; matric. at Oxford (Ch. Ch.), 9 May 1759, aged 17; was an accomplished scholar and mathematician, being considered "The Marcellus of the North"; suc. to the Baronetcy in Nov. 1746. He d. unm., at Rome, 26 July 1766, aged 24, and, though a protestant, had, by leave of Pope Clement XIII, a public funeral. M.I. at Slate.

IX. 1766. SIR ALEXANDER MACDONALD, Baronet [S. 1625], of Slate aforesaid, br. and h.,[a] b. about 1745; was sometime about 1761-66, an officer in the Coldstream Guards; suc. to the Baronetcy, 26 July 1766. He m. 3 May 1768, at St. Giles' in the Fields, Elizabeth Diana, 1st da. of (whose issue in 1813 became coheir to) Godfrey BOSVILLE, of Gunthwaite, co. York, by Diana, da. of Sir William WENTWORTH, 4th Baronet [1664], of Bretton. She, who was bap. 25 July 1748, was living when he was raised to the peerage, being cr. 25 July 1776, BARON MACDONALD OF SLATE, CO. MURRAY:

cr. 19 July 1625[c];

subsequently, 1636-58, EARLS OF ANNANDALE [S.];

dormant, since 1658.

I. 1625. SIR RICHARD MURRAY, of Cockpool, 6th s. of Sir Charles MURRAY, of the same, by Margaret, da. of Hugh (SOMERVILLE) LORD SOMERVILLE [S.], suc., in 1620, his elder br. Sir James Murray in that estate, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 19 July 1625, sealed 20 Oct. 1625,[c] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and a grant of, presumably 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, entitled the Barony of Cockpool, of which he had sasine in Oct. following.[d] In 1635 he had sasine of the lands of Lockerbie, Hutton, Hoddam, etc. He d. s.p., probably unm., in 1636.

II. 1636. JOHN (MURRAY) EARL OF ANNANDALE [S.] (so cr. 13 March 1624/5), only surv. br. and h. male, being 8th and yst. s. of Sir Charles MURRAY abovenamed, suc. to the Baronetcy as heir male collateral in 1636, when the Baronetcy merged in this peerage till its extinction (See "Peerage"), on the death of the 2d Earl, 28 Dec. 1658, on which date the Baronetcy became dormant, the issue male of the grantee as well as of his father being extinct.

(a) Archibald Macdonald, the 3d and yst br., was L. Ch. Baron of the Exchequer, 1793-1813, and was cr. a Baronet, 27 Nov. 1813.

(b) "Slate, co. Antrim in Ireland," is non-existent, the place referred to being Slate or Sleat in the island of Skye, in Scotland. Such fictions, however, were not unusual when Scotsmen were (after the union with Scotland) raised to the peerage. Such e.g., was the elevation to the Irish peerage of William Duff, in 1735, as Baron Kilbryde, co Cavan, and in 1759 as Earl Fife, in Ireland.

(c) Milne's List and Laing's List.

(d) Banks's Lists, where it is added "Represented by the Earl of Mansfield," which representation, however, is only in right of female descent through the families of Scott and Grierson, from the 1st da. and heir of line to Sir James Murray, of Cockpool, elder br. of the first Baronet.

ALEXANDER:

cr., 12 July 1625[a];
afterwards, 1630—1739, VISCOUNTS STIRLING [S.]; and subsequently, 1633—1739, EARLS OF STIRLING [S.]; dormant, since 4 Dec. 1739.

I. 1625. SIR WILLIAM ALEXANDER, of Menstre, in Logie, co. Clackmannan, afterwards, 1630, VISCOUNT, and subsequently, in 1633, EARL OF STIRLING [S.] (for whom see fuller accounts in Peerage), was b. about 1567; Sec. of State and P.C. [S.], 1626; Knighted at Whitehall, 2 March 1626/7; had a grant from Charles, 10 Sep. 1621, of the vast territory of Nova Scotia, with permission (for the purpose of Colonization) to divide the same into 100 tracks of 16,000 acres and dispose of each, together with the rank of Baronet. This grant was, however, not acted upon, until it was confirmed by Charles I (the number of 100 being changed to 150), by Charter, 12 July 1625, sealed 9 Sep. following,[a] on which date the grantee himself is said[a] to have been cr. a Baronet [S.], with rem. to his heirs male whatever,[b] He had seizin "of one part of the continent of Nova Scotia" in the same month of Sep. 1625.[c] As late, however, as 30 Nov. 1629 he styles himself [only] "Knight."[d] On 2 Feb. 1628 he had charters of the Lordship of Canada. He was cr. 4 Sep. 1630, VISCOUNT STIRLING, etc. [S.], and subsequently, 14 June 1633, EARL OF STIRLING, VISCOUNT CANADA, etc. [S.], with rem. in both cases to his heirs male of the name of Alexander. In these peerages this Baronetcy then merged, and so continued till, on the death of his great grandson the 5th Earl, 4 Dec. 1739, it, and the said Peerage dignities became dormant. See Peerage.

COLQUHOUN;

cr. 30 Aug. 1625[e];
regranted, with a different remainder, 29 April 1704;
afterwards, 1719—1811, GRANT;
and finally, since 1811, EARLS OF SEAFIELD [S.].
This Baronetcy was (erroneously) assumed by the heir male,
1718—1838.

I. 1625. JOHN COLQUHOUN, of Luss and Tilliquhoun, co. Dumbarton, s. and h. of Alexander COLQUHOUN, of the same, by Helen, da. of Sir George BUCHANAN, of Buchanan, suc. his father, 23 May 1617, was M.P. [S.]

[a] Milne's List. This creation does not appear in Laing's List, nor is it registered in the great Seal Register, though apparently it is in the Registrum Preceptorum Cartarum pro Baronettis Novæ Scotiæ, 1625-30.

[b] It seems curious that, as he had all the land of which a grant of but 16,000 acres constituted a Baronetcy, he should not if he accepted of a Baronetcy have had one of the earliest date. In Beatson's list of these (edit. 1806) he is placed but 13th, those of Gordon of Gordonstoun, Wemyss, Innes, Strachan, Douglas, Colquhoun, Livingstone, Murray, Gordon of Cluny, Leslie, Campbell of Glenorchy, and Gordon of Lesmore, being placed above him. Most unquestionably the premier Baronetcy was Gordon of Gordonstoun, but it must be born in mind that by the charter of 1625 the said "Sir William Alexander and his heirs male descending of his body as Lieutenants aforesaid [i.e., of Nova Scotia] shall * * * take * * * precedence as well before all Esquires, Lairds, and Gentlemen of our said kingdom of Scotland as before all the aforesaid Knight Baronets of our said Kingdom." [Banks's Baronia Anglica Concentrata, vol. ii, p. 213.]

[d] The use, however, of the word "Knight" for "Baronet" was not uncommon in the early days of the Baronetcy.

There are also several Chancery bills, concerning the Cunningham estate, to which Sir James was a party, further bearing out the connection [Ex. inform., G. D. Burtchaell].

(e) By the Scotch law which prevailed before the union [S.] there is no doubt that this surrender and re-grant (unlike the law in England) was valid.

He also executed an entail of the Colquhoun estates, with a proviso that they should never be held with those of the family of Grant. He d. s.p.m., 1718, when, according to the novodamus of 1704, the Baronetcy of 1625 devolved as under.

These he endeavoured, unsuccessfully, to retain[a] after the fee expectant of the Grant estates had, in 1735, been made over to him on the death of his elder brother, Humphry Grant, who d. v.p. and unm. in 1732. [d] Banks's Lists.

[e] His brother german, William Gordon, of Cotton, near Aberdeen, had, by Marion, da. of Patrick GORDON, of Gordonsmilne, two sons, of whom (1) John Gordon, a Capt. in the Swedish service, d. at Cracow, about 1664; and (2) William Gordon (then late Bailie of Old Aberdeen) had a birthbrief, 4 June 1668, to prove him heir to his said brother. All of these that survived the 2d Baronet would, in their turn, have been entitled to the Baronetcy. If the issue male of all the younger sons of the 3d Earl of Huntly [S.] has failed, the MARQUESS OF HUNTLY [S.] would be entitled to the Baronetcy, and to him, accordingly, it is assigned in Broun's Baronetage.

III. 1645, to 1660? SIR WILLIAM LESLIE, Baronet [S. 1625], uncle and h. male, being next br. to the 1st Baronet and consequently entitled to the Baronetcy in 1645, under the rem. to heirs male whatsoever. He "is the last we find designed by this title"[c] and, not having inherited the family estates, it is doubtful whether he ever assumed it. He m. Helen, da. of George GORDON, of Newton, by whom he had four sons, John, William, Patrick, and Alexander, "but there is no male succession to any of them."[c]

WILLIAM LESLIE, of Aberdeen, s. and h. of Patrick LESLIE, of New Raine (who in 1700 sold that estate), s. and h. of John LESLIE, of New Raine, s. and h. of Norman LESLIE, yst. br. of the 1st Baronet, is said to have had "undoubtedly a title to the Baronetcy, as he appears to be the male representative of the family."[c] He is also said[d] to have had an only s. William, who d. s.p.

JOHN LESLIE, though not mentioned in Douglas' Baronage,[c] is said[d] to have been a brother of William Leslie, of Aberdeen, and a yr. s. of the said Patrick, and to have left issue, as under.

(d) Burke's Baronetage 1901 states him positively to be a yr. s. of Patrick. Playfair's Baronetage [S.], published in 1811, where this John first appears, states that Patrick "we have reason to believe, had two sons. William and John."

(e) This is the enumeration given in Burke's Baronetage, but it is evident that there must have been many who should have been reckoned as entitled to the Baronetage after the death of the 3d Baronet, before those who are here set out.

He m. Margaret, da. of Sir James Learmonth, of Balcomie, co. Fife, a Senator of the College of Justice [S.], 1627-57. He was alive 1683, but d. in or before 1685.

V. 1684? Sir James Gordon, Baronet [S. 1625], of Lesmoir aforesaid, s. and h., who, in 1681, had, v.p., been enfeoffed in the said Barony of Newton; suc. to the Baronetcy, about 1684. He m., about 1680, Jean, only child of Sir John Gordon, 2d Baronet [S. 1642], of Haddo, by Mary, da. of Alexander (Forbes), 1st Lord Forbes of Pitsligo [S.]. He was living 1696.

VI. 1710? Sir William Gordon, Baronet [S. 1625], of Lesmoir aforesaid, grandson and h., being only s. and h. of William Gordon, by Margaret, da. of William Duff, of Drummuir, co. Banff, which William Gordon last named was s. and h. ap. of the late Baronet, but d. v.p. He suc. to the Baronetcy about 1710. He m. Lilias, da. of James Gordon, of Carnousie, co. Banff. He d. s.p., 15 Sep. 1750, leaving very little property.

VII. 1758. Sir Alexander Gordon, Baronet [S. 1625], of Lesmoir aforesaid, cousin and h., being s. and h. of Alexander Gordon, Collector of Customs at Aberdeen, by Isabel, da. of James Gordon, merchant of Holland, which Alexander was 3d s. of the 5th Baronet. He suc. to the Baronetcy 15 Sep. 1750. He m., 5 April or 2 May 1759, Margaret, 1st da. of Robert Scott, of Duninald, co. Forfar, by Anne, da. of George Middleton, of Seaton, co. Aberdeen. He d. 25 March 1782.

VIII. 1782, to 1839. Sir Francis Gordon, Baronet [S. 1625], 3d but 1st surv. s. and h., b. about 1764; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1782. He was in the service of the Hon. East India Company; had a severe sunstroke when young, from which he never altogether rallied; returned home in 1800, and lived many years in Yorkshire. He d. s.p., presumably unm., 9 Nov. 1839, aged 75, when the Baronetcy became dormant.

(a) The cadets of this family were numerous and founded several families, which lasted for generations, so that it is unlikely that the title is extinct. A caveat was lodged, 23 Oct. 1871, by Hugh Gordon, then in India. John Gordon, of Kinneller, co. Aberdeen, 4th of the five sons of Sir James Gordon, the 5th Baronet, had four sons, whose male issue, if any, would probably be entitled. In Aug. 1887 Herbert Spence-Compton Gordon, Capt. of the Princess Louise's Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, s. and h. of John Henry Gordon (by Amelia, da. of Sir Herbert Compton, Chief Justice of Bombay) and nephew and h. of Edward Gordon, who d. s.p., claimed the Baronetcy, on the ground that his said uncle, Edward Gordon, was, on the death of Sir Francis Gordon in 1839, the de jure Baronet, being s. and h. of Edward Gordon (d. 1832), who was s. and h. of Edward Gordon (d. 1802), who was the 1st s. that left male issue of John Gordon (d. 18 Nov. 1728), which last named John, who left Scotland for India, was supposed to be s. and h. of Alexander Gordon, of Gerry, the yr. s. of the 1st Baronet. This supposition, however, is, by a comparison of the dates, very unlikely.

SIR ALEXANDER RAMSAY-IRVINE, Baronet [S. 1625], of Balmain aforesaid, nephew and h., being only s. and h. of Charles RAMSAY, by Catherine, da. of James MILL, of Balweylo, sometime Provost of Montrose, which Charles, who d. in 1727, was br. of the late two baronets, being 3d and yst s. of the 3d Baronet. I. 1625. "[—] Erskine" is said[c] to have been cr. a Baronet [S.], 28 Dec. 1625, but no particulars are known of him, and, though he, apparently, obtained a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, no seizin thereof is recorded.[d]

HUME, or HOME:

cr. 28 Dec. 1625;[e]

In these peerages this Baronetcy then merged, and so continued till the death, s.p.m.s., of the 3d Earl and 4th Baronet, when, the issue male of the grantee apparently failed and both dignities became dormant. The Barony of Polwarth [S.], however, was in 1835 allowed to the grandson and heir general of the last Earl. See Peerage.

Family Estates.—Those assigned to the 9th Baronet in Bateman's Great Landowners (1883), consist of 5,007 acres, co. Kincardine, valued at £4,056 a year, being, apparently, the Stuart property at Fettercairn. These 5,007 acres of the value of £4,056 appear, however, also in the same work as assigned to Lord Clinton, to whom (with the other estates) it is believed they went. At all events, in more recently dated Baronetages, no such property is attributed to the 9th Baronet, whose residence is given as "Carterton, Wellington, New Zealand," and whose estates, if any, are not mentioned.

(a) Playfair's Baronetage [S.], where there is a flaming account both of his improvements of the Pitsligo estate, and of other of his "patriotic labours."

(b) The second son John Hay Forbes, of Medwyn, co. Peebles, was a Lord of Session [S.], as Lord Medwyn (1825-54), and d. 25 July 1854, aged 77.

This Baronetcy was cr. 17 June 1706, with a spec. rem., failing heirs male of the body, to "heirs whomsoever and their heirs male for ever." The grantee d. s.p.m., between 1718 and 1722, and the title was assumed by his grandson William Stuart, of Colinton, co. Edinburgh, whose mother, Margaret, was 1st da. and heir of line of the grantee. He d. s.p. Dec. 1777. It was then assumed by the Grantee's great nephew, John Belshes (mentioned in the text), s. and h. of William Belshes, by Emilia Stuart, only child of her mother Mary, 1st surv. sister of the late Baronet. [Ex inform., R. R. Stodart, Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86.]

(d) William Forbes, Capt. in the army, the eldest son, d. unm. and v.p., 16 Sep. 1826, at Malta.

(e) His estates (Invermay, Balmanno, Pitsligo, and, presumably, Fettercairn, or a part thereof) passed to his only child, Harriet Williamina, Baroness Clinton, first wife of Charles Henry Rolle (Trefusis, afterwards Hepburn-Stuart-Forbes-Trefusis) Lord Clinton. She died 4 July 1869, aged 34.

---

[a] The estate of Tippermalloch devolved on his nephew, John Moncrieff, s. and h. of his sister, Bethia, by the Rev. William Moncrieff, Minister of Methven.

[b] In Douglas' Baronage [S.] it is stated that "the Baronetcy appears to have devolved upon Sir William [Moncreiff, 4th Baronet of the creation of 1685], of Moncrieff, as next heir male, being lineally descended from John, the 3d son of Sir John Moncreiff," who was great great grandfather of the 1st Baronet. This Sir William Moncrieff is accordingly designated therein as "the 4th Baronet [1685] of this branch, the 6th [should be 7th] Baronet [1626] of the house of Moncreiff."

[c] According to the assumption of the Baronetcy, in, or about, 1750.

[d] Foster's Baronetage for 1883, under "Chaos," p. 703, where it is added that William Moncreiff, Minister of Blackford, who assumed the Baronetcy, "was 4th in descent from Archibald, Minister of Abernethy, Perthshire. * * * The pedigree in Douglas's Baronage [S.] only mentions William and David as brothers of [which two brothers] William [was] father of the 1st Baronet, though a note is appended that he [the said William] is said to have had another brother, Archibald, Minister of Abernethy. The pedigree in Playfair's Baronetage [S.] gives six brothers [i.e., William, Archibald, Hugh, David, John, and James] and four sisters, but unaccompanied by any evidence to prove that Archibald was the next brother of William, father of the 1st Baronet."

[e] The estate of Tullibole (a picturesque though not large castle, erected about 1608) was sold in 1749 by the creditors of Robert Halliday, grandson of John Halliday, the maternal grandfather of Sir William Moncrieff. It was purchased by Henry Wellwood, of Garvock, who, three years later, conveyed it to Henry Moncreiff, afterwards the 8th Baronet, 1st s. and h. of his niece, Catharine (da. of his yr. br., Robert Wellwood), by her husband, Sir William Moncreiff, the 7th Baronet, on condition of his taking the name of Wellwood.

(b) According to the assumption of the Baronetcy, in, or about, 1750.

(c) He was the 6th in lineal succession of a line of officiating Clergymen of the Church of Scotland.

(d) It was granted to him, as under. "Reverendo Domino Henrico Moncreiff Wellwood, Baronetto, de Denham Tulliebole, Ministro Evangelii apud Blackford, filio legitimo natu maximo demortuii Domini Gulielmi Moncreiff, Baronetti, nuper Ministri evangelii apud Blackford." The designation of the estate as "Denham's Tulliebole" was in compliance of the wish of Henry Wellwood (the Baronet's uncle), whose mother, Catherine, was 6th da. of John Denham, of Muirhouse and West Shields. As a matter of fact, however, this designation was never used.

(e) The eldest br. William Wellwood-Moncreiff, matric. at Oxford (Ball. Coll.) 20 March 1793, aged 17; B.A., 1797; M.A., 1799; B.C.L. and D.C.L., 1803; Barrister (Mid. OGILVY, or OGILVIE:

cr. 24 April and sealed 22 June 1626;[a] succession unknown till about 1800;

dormant since 20 Feb. 1861.

I. 1626. GEORGE OGILVIE, of Carnousie, co. Banff, s. and h. of George OGILVIE,[b] of the same, M.P. [S.] for Banffshire, 1621, by Margaret his wife, suc. his father, 1 Feb. 1625, being served heir to him 10 May following, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 24 April, sealed 22 June 1626, as "of Carnousie," with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, called the Barony of "New Carnousie," of which, however, he appears never to have had seizin.[c] He m. Jean, da. of Sir Thomas GORDON, of Cluny (Reg. Mag. Sig.).[d] He was alive in 1668, but there is no record of his having had any issue.[d]

* * * * *

The succession to this Baronetcy is unknown, but it was borne early in the nineteenth century as below, by, presumably, the collateral heir male, possibly a descendant of a br. of the grantee.[e]

VIII. 1800? SIR WILLIAM OGILVIE, Baronet [S. 1625]. He m. Christian, da. of the Rev. John PATTISON, of Edinburgh. He d. 1824. Will pr. 1824.

(b) This George was yr. br. of Sir Walter Ogilvy, of Banff and Dunlugus, father of George, cr. 31 Aug. 1642, Lord Banff [S.].

(c) Banks's Lists.

(d) Ex inform., Sir J. Balfour Paul, Lyon, who states that there is absolutely nothing to be found about the succeeding Baronets, and that there are no services of heirs in the family. It appears that "Capt. Gordon, son of Edinglassie, had a charter of Carnousie, in 1695, the lands having fallen under recognition, owing to alienation made thereof by the deceased Sir George" Ogilvy, but "the decreet of recognition which would no doubt give the names of Sir George's heir or heirs" cannot be found.

(e) George Ogilvy, the grantee's father, m. twice. By his 1st wife he had (besides two daughters, Elspeth and Helen) three sons, viz.: (1), George, the Baronet; (2), John Ogilvy, of Burns, of whose posterity, if any, nothing is known; (3), Thomas, of whom nothing is known. By his 2d wife, Barbara, da. of Sir Alexander Fraser, of Philorth, he appears to have had (4), Alexander. No Alexander is mentioned in Margaret Ogilvy's testament dative, Ogilvie of Carnousie, but John Ogilvy of Burns is called cousin german both of Sir George and of Alexander. Alexander Ogilvy was of Knock and had at least three sons, viz. (1), James, his s. and h., who m. Christian Stewart, and sold Knock in 1659; (2), Alexander; (3), Patrick. [Ex inform. J. Maitland Thomson, communicated by Sir J. Balfour Paul, Lyon.]

In Jan. 1736, however, his pedigree was disproved, and on 8 Jan. 1737 he was sentenced to have his ear nailed to the post for perjury.

[a] The pedigree, as above given, is that in Burke's Baronetage of 1901, where it is stated that the issue of the elder brothers [two of whom undoubtedly left issue] of Alexander Napier, who purchased Culcreuch, is now extinct. In Foster's Baronetage for 1883, p. 704, under "Chaos"] three different descents are given of this family from Robert Napier, the yr. br. of the 1st Baronet and Peer, viz. [1] "in Burke's Peerage, edit. 1837-41," wherein William John Millikin Napier (b. 1788, who obtained the service of 17 March 1817) "is said to be third in descent from this Robert, viz., son of Robert John, son of Alexander, son of Robert, of Culcreuch aforesaid ; [2] In the editions of the same work, 1846-52, Robert, of Culcreuch, is said to be ancestor of William, father of Robert John aforesaid (Alexander being omitted), and [3] since 1853 the descent has been published in the same work as follows:—William Millikin, b. 1788, son of Robert John, b. 1765, son of William, b. 1712, son of John, b. 1665 [sic, but in the edit. of 1901 the date is 1686] son of Alexander, b. 1621, son Robert, of Culcreuch aforesaid. It would be interesting to know which of these three descents was under consideration, when, after a lapse of 134 years, William Millikin Napier was served heir male general of Archibald, 3d Baron Napier, on 17 March 1817."

In Burke's Extinct Baronetage, however, "SIR JAMES [sic] HAMILTON, of Preston, sprung from Alexander, son to the LORD HAMILTON" is said to have been thus created in 1627. The grantee was probably the HON. WILLIAM HAMILTON, yr. br. of James, 2d EARL OF ABERCORN [S.], being 3d s. of James, the 1st Earl, by Marion, da. of Thomas (BOYD), LORD BOYD [S.]. He was b. about 1605; was Resident in Rome, about 1660, on behalf of the Queen Dow. of Charles I. He m., after 1645, Jean, Dow. (a) Milne's List, in which, however, no date is given. This Baronetcy is not given in Laing's or Walkeley's Lists, but in Beatson's List the creation of "Hamilton, of Westport," is placed between "Maxwell" and "Stuart," which indicates the date (given in Burke's Extinct Baronetage) of 1627. In Ulster's List [ending 1642] "Sir William Hamilton, br. of the Earl of Abercorn" occurs.

[a] The heir male to the Earldom (which was, however, limited to heirs general), and, consequently, to the Baronetcy was James Livingston, s. and h. of John Livingston, Capt. of Dragoons, by Eliz., da. of Sir Robert Hamilton, of Silverhill. Possibly he was a grandson of James Livingston (br. of the 1st Baronet), who was served tutor to his nephew, the 2d Baronet, 22 Dec. 1628, as above stated.

[b] Wood's Douglas' Peerage, vol. ii, p. 590. The date is the same as the creation of the Baronetcy of Livingstone of Kinnaird, and possibly is confused therewith. This creation is not mentioned in Milne's List or Laing's List, but it is stated in Banks's Lists that "Sir James [sic] Livingstoun, of Newbigging, represented by Viscount Teviot," had seizin of lands in Nova Scotia in March 1629, so that the date cannot be very far wrong.

[e] The Barony of Ruthven of Freeland [S.] was cr. about Jan. 1651, with a limitation (according to the Macfarlane MS. in the Advocates library) to heirs male. No patent, however, was ever enrolled, and since 1701 it has been irregularly assumed in right of female descent, and that too not always (even) by the heir of line.

of line to his maternal grandfather, Thomas (RUTHVEN), LORD RUTHVEN OF FREELAND [S.], but did not take that title which was arbitrarily assumed by his aunt Jean, the yst. of the three sisters and coheirs of the late Lord, on whose death the said Jean had, under a deed of entail, 26 April 1674, suc. to the family estate of Freeland. This, on her death unm. in April 1722, devolved on him (six months before his death) when he assumed the name of RUTHVEN. He m. Ann, da. of Sir Archibald STEWART, 1st Baronet [S. 1668] of Castlemilk, by Mary, da. of William CARMICHAEL, s. and h. ap. of James, 1st LORD CARMICHAEL [S.]. He d. s.p. CARMICHAEL:

cr. 17 July 1627[a];

subsequently, 1647—1817, LORD CARMICHAEL [S.]; and, 1701—1817, EARLS OF HYNDFORD [S.]; dormant since 18 April 1817.

I. 1627. SIR JAMES CARMICHAEL, of Westraw and Hyndford, both in co. Lanark, s. and h. of Walter CARMICHAEL, of Hyndford aforesaid, by Grizel, da. of Sir John CARMICHAEL, of Meadow Flat, in that county, Captain of the Castle of Crawfurd, suc. his Father in 1616; was Cupbearer, Carver and Chamberlain [S.] to James I., and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 17 July 1627,[a] as "of Westraw," being designed "the King's servant," with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with, presumably, a grant of 16,000 acres, called the Barony and Regality of Carmichael, in Nova Scotia, of which he had seizin in Jan. 1633, "with power to dig for searching of gold mines, and for that effect to transport thither all gold affecting mines."[b] Having, on the death of his cousin, Sir John Carmichael, of Carmichael, co. Lanark (living 9 Feb. 1619), suc. to that estate, he was thenceforth designated "of Carmichael;" was Sheriff of Lanarkshire, 1632; Lord Justice Clerk. 1634-36, and again 1649; Treasurer Depute 1636; P.C. [S.] for life (by Parl.), 1641. He m. Agnes, sister of John WILKIE of Foulden, co. Berwick, da. of William WILKIE. She, presumably, was living when, for his services to the King, he was cr., 27 Dec. 1647, LORD CARMICHAEL [S.], with rem. to heirs male whatsoever. He, however, did not assume that title till the patent was ratified, 3 Jan. 1651. Between these dates, 10 March 1649, he was deprived of all his offices for his part in "the engagement." In that peerage this Baronetcy, accordingly, merged, the 2d Baron being cr., 25 July 1701, EARL OF HYNDFORD [S.], and so continued till, on the death, unm., 18 April 1817, of the 6th Earl, 7th Baron, and 7th Baronet, it became dormant.

He was a Lord of Session [S.], 3 Nov. 1629, and was again so appointed by Parl. 14 Nov. 1641, by which also he was made, 1 Feb. 1643, a Commissioner; was M.P. [S.] for co. Edinburgh, 1630. He m. firstly, before 1630, Catharine, da. of Sir John COCKBURN, of Ormston. He m. secondly, about 1645, Christian, da. of Sir William LIVINGSTONE, of Kilsyth. She, presumably, was living when he was cr., 19 April 1661, VISCOUNT OXFURD, &c. [S.]. In that peerage this Baronetcy then merged, and so continued till the death s.p.m.s. 8 Dec. 1706, of the 2d Viscount and Baronet, when both titles became dormant.

OGILVY:

cr. 30 July, sealed 4 Aug. 1627[b];

I. 1627. SIR GEORGE OGILVY, of Banff, s. and h. of Sir Walter OGILVY, of Dunlugus, co. Banff, by Helen, da. of Walter URQUHART, of Cromarty, suc. his father soon after 1625, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 30 July, the patent being sealed 4 Aug. 1627,[b] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register, with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which apparently (though the name is given, probably, in error, as "Sir James Ogilvy, of Banff"), he had seizin in Aug. 1627.[a] He is styled "Dominus Georgius Ogilvy, Baronettus," in a charter to him, 28 Jan. 1628/9, of the Barony of Banff. He m. firstly, before 9 March 1610/1, Margaret, da. of Sir Alexander IRVINE, of Drum. She d. s.p.m. He m. secondly, Mary SUTHERLAND, of Duffus. [b] Milne's List, in which, however, the Christian name is left blank; in Laing's List the date is 20 July 1627; in Beatson's List the creation is called "Ogilvie, of Forglen, now Lord Banff."

[c] The pedigrees of Cockburn are most contradictory. (1) The most reliable, and the one that is here followed, appears to be a tabular one in MS. compiled by Sir Edward Cludde Cockburn, and lent by him, in July 1901, to Sir James Balfour Paul, Lyon King of Arms. (2) An extensive pedigree, compiled by Sir William Betham, Ulster King of Arms [1820-53] for "Sir William Cockburn, Baronet" [see the 7th Baronet under "Cockburn" Baronetcy [S.] said to have been cr. in 1628], which pedigree is now among the Betham MSS. in Ulster's Office. [e] This William was s. of James and grandson of Alexander, both of Langton aforesaid, the said Alexander, who was slain with his father at the battle of Flodden, 9 Sep. 1513, being one of the three sons of Sir William Cockburn, of that ilk, by Anne, da. of Alexander (Home) Lord Home [S.] Of the two other sons (1) William Cockburn, was father of William, father of Alexander, father of William, father of

He m., about 1600, Helen 4th da. of Alexander (ELPHINSTONE), 4th LORD ELPHINSTONE [S.], by Jean, da. of William (LIVINGSTONE), LORD LIVINGSTONE [S.]. He d. in or about Dec. 1628. In 1641, while the question of Usher was being discussed, he seized the rod and took his place, for which conduct he was, by the King's order, imprisoned, but was released after a few days on the remonstrance of the House. He subsequently alienated a moiety of his office. He m. Margaret, da. of Sir Archibald ACHESON, 1st Baronet [S. 1628] by his 1st wife, Agnes, da. of (—) VERNOR.

IV. 1657? SIR ARCHIBALD COCKBURN, Baronet [S. 1627], of Langton aforesaid, s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy in or before 1657, being retoured heir to his brother, William, 10 Dec. 1657. In 1674, he by purchase and grant obtained the moiety of the office of Usher, which his father had alienated, together with a salary of £250; Heretable Sheriff of Berwickshire, 1686; M.P. [S.] thereof 1678, 1685-86, 1689, and 1689-1702. He m. firstly, Marion, da. of John SINCLAIR, the younger, of Stevenson. He m. secondly, Anna, da. of Sir Thomas STEWART, of Cultness, by Margaret ELLIOT, his wife. He was bur. 28 June 1705, at Langton.

The remaining son (2) Christopher Cockburn, was father of William, father of James, all of Chouslie, which James was father of James Cockburn, of Ryslaw, said to be cr. a Baronet [S.] in 1628, whose representative, Sir Edward Cludde Cockburn, claims (1) not only that Baronetcy, but, (2) the Baronetcy (of that ilk) of 1671, as well as (3) that (of Langton) of 1627. [See Sir E. C. Cockburn's MS. pedigree, mentioned on p. 327, note "c."

This John, who was an advocate [S.] 7 June 1642, and who d. 1666, is not to be confused with his nephew, John (son of Sir William, the 2d Baronet), who, being a minor in 1656, was not born till many years after 1631.

[a] His elder br., Alexander Cockburn, survived their father, and was retoured his heir, 22 July 1732. He d. unm., being then an officer of H.M.S. "Medway," apparently before April 1745. Admon. 1747. He is said in Hood's House of Cockburn (p. 102), to have died on his way to India a few months after the battle of Fontenoy (30 April 1745), aged 17. In that case he would have been entitled to the Baronetcy for a short time. This account, however, is disbelieved in Sir E. C. Cockburn's MS. pedigree [see p. 327, note "c"], and he is not described as a Baronet in his admon.

[b] The Langton estates and the office of Usher had been disponed 6 May 1690, by the 4th Baronet, the then possessor, to his cousin, Sir James Cockburn, 1st Baronet [S. 1671] of that ilk, and the amount charged on them appears in 1745 to have exceeded their value. Sir James Cockburn, 3d Baronet [S. 1671] of that ilk, was, 25 Nov. 1754, retoured heir special of his father in Langton and in the office of Usher. These possessions, however, were finally sold by auction at Edinburgh, 15 Dec. 1757, being set up at about 23 years' purchase. The Barony of Langton, set up at £26,500, sold for £50,000 or £60,000 ; the estate of Simprim, set up at £6,784, sold for £12,200, and the office of Heretable Usher of Scotland (salary £250), set up at £5,166, sold for £6,500, the purchaser of the latter being Alexander Coutts, of London.

Advocate to Univ. of Cambridge, 1803-10; Dean of York, 1822-58; Rector of Kelston, co. Somerset, 1832-58; suc. to the Baronetcy, 19 Aug. 1853. He m. firstly, 30 Dec. 1805, Elizabeth, 2d da. of Sir Robert PEEL, 1st Baronet [1800], by his 1st wife, Ellen, da. of William YATES. She d. 16 June 1828. He m. secondly, 14 Sep. 1830, Emma, da. of (—) PEARSE, of Hatley St. George, co. Cambridge, Lieut.-Col. 15th Foot. He d., s.p.m.s., 30 April 1858, at Kelston Rectory, aged 84. His widow m. 5 July 1859, at Weaverham, Cheshire, the Rev. Thomas William WHALE, Rector of Dolton, North Devon. She d. there 24 Aug. 1876.

XII. 1858, to 1880. SIR ALEXANDER JAMES EDMUND COCKBURN, Baronet [S. 1627], nephew and h., being only s. and h. of Alexander COCKBURN, sometime 1820-23, Envoy Extraordinary to the Court of Stuttgart, and, subsequently, 1826-29, to Columbia, by Yolande, da. of VISCOMTE DE VIGNIER, of St. Domingo, which Alexander (who d. 14 Oct. 1852, aged 76), was 4th s. of the 6th Baronet. He was b. 24 Dec. 1802, ed. at Trin. Hall, Cambridge; Fellow Commoner, 1825; Fellow, 1829; LL.B., 1829; Hon. D.C.L. of Oxford, 22 June 1870; Hon. LL.D. of Cambridge, 1874; Student at the Middle Temple, Nov. 1825; Barrister, Feb. 1829, and a member of the Western Circuit. One of the Municipal Corporation Commissioners; Recorder of Southampton, 1840-46; Q.C., 1841; Bencher of the Middle Temple; M.P., for Southampton, 1847 to 1856; Solicitor General, Aug. 1850 to March 1851, being Knighted, 14 Aug. 1850; Attorney General, March 1851 to Feb. 1852, and again Dec. 1852 to Nov. 1856, conducting the prosecution of Palmer, the Rugeley poisoner, who was hanged 14 June 1856; Recorder of Bristol, 1854-56; LORD CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE COMMON PLEAS, Nov. 1856 to June 1859; Privy Councillor, 2 Feb. 1857; LORD CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE QUEEN'S BENCH,[a] June 1859, till his death; one of the Arbitrators, under the treaty of Washington, respecting the Alabama claim, 1871-72; G.C.B. (extra) 12 Feb. 1873, having declined a peerage. He presided, 1873-74, at the trial of the Tichborne case, (188 days), which was the last important incident of his brilliant professional career, one that was throughout conducted with the strictest regard to the rules of honour and integrity. He d. unm. in Hertford Street, Mayfair, late at night, 20 Nov. 1880, having been presiding in his Court that afternoon. Bur. in Kensal Green Cemetery. At his death the Baronetcy became dormant.[b]

said to have been cr. in 1628.[c]

I. 1628. JAMES[d] COCKBURN, of Ryslaw, co. Berwick, s. (apparently 2d s.) of James COCKBURN, of Chouslie (d. 22 July 1586), by Marion, da. of John DOUGLAS,[e] was b. about 1576; was M.P. [S.]

[a] Strictly speaking he was Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Chancery from and after 2 Nov. 1875, when the Judicature Act of 1873 came into operation, by which the old Court of Queen's Bench was extinguished.

[b] The following advertisement appeared in The Times newspaper for 10 May 1881:—"The relatives of the widow and three children of the late George Henry Cockburn, eldest son of the late George Henry Cockburn, Admiral of the British Navy, and nephew of the late Sir Alexander Cockburn, Lord Chief Justice of England, can be heard of at the Cottage of Content, Mary Street, Waterloo, near Sydney, New South Wales."

[c] This creation does not appear in Milne's, Laing's, Walkley's, or Ulster's Lists of Scotch Baronets, nor even in that of Beatson (1810), but it is stated in Playfair's Baronetage [S.], pub. in 1811, that "Sir James Cockburn, of Ryslaw, Baronet was so created in 1628," and the descent of that title is deduced therefrom to William, the then Baronet. There is, however, no record of any grant of land in Nova Scotia to any such person.

[d] He is called "John" (not "James") in Burke's Baronetage of 1871, while in the more recent editions of that work the Baronetcy itself is altogether ignored.

[e] The pedigree of Cockburn here followed, unless otherwise stated, is the carefully compiled one in MS. of Sir E. C. Cockburn. See p. 327, note "c."

for Berwickshire, 1625, and is said to have been cr. a Baronet [S.] in 1628.[a] A letter from Charles II, dated Oct. 1653, at Chantilly, and addressed to Sir James Cockburn, of Ryslaw, Knight Baronet of Nova Scotia, is, if correctly inscribed, confirmatory thereof. He m. Mary, da. of Sir Andrew EDMONSTONE, of that ilk, by Mary GORDON, his wife.[b] He d. in 1643.

II. 1643. SIR JAMES COCKBURN, Baronet [S. 1628][c] of Ryslaw aforesaid, nephew and h. male,[d] being s. of William COCKBURN, of Chouslie, by Sybilla, da. of Matthew SINCLAIR, of Longformacus, which William, who d. 1628, was elder br. of the 1st Baronet. He suc. to the Baronetcy[c] in 1643, and is said to have been in command on the King's side at Edgehill and Worcester. He entered his Arms in the Lyon Office, about 1670, as "Sir James Cockburn, of Ryslaw," without, however, the style of "Baronet," and with no indication of his parentage. He m. firstly, Jean, da. of Alexander SWINTON, of Swinton, co. Berwick, by Margaret, da. of James HOME, of Frampath. He m. secondly, Jane, da. of Andrew KER, of Lintoun, co. Roxburgh. He d. in or before April 1666.

III. 1666? SIR JAMES[e] COCKBURN, Baronet[c] [S. 1628], of Ryslaw aforesaid, s. and h., by 1st wife, b. about 1646, suc. to the Baronetcy[c] in or before 1666, being retoured heir to his father; was, as "Sir Jas. Cockburne, Knt.," Lieut. in the Royal Reg. of Foot, 1689; Capt. in or before July 1693; wounded at Landen; left the regiment in May 1694; Capt. in Lord Lindsay's reg. of Foot, April 1696. He m. firstly, Alison, 2d da. of Sir Robert SINCLAIR, 1st Baronet [S. 1664], of Longformacus, by Elizabeth, da. of Sir Robert DOUGLAS, of Blackerstoun. She was bur. 14 Feb. 1669, at Holyrood.[b] He m. secondly,[f] about 1675, (—). He d. 1711.[b]

[a] See p. 330, note "c."

[b] See p. 330, note "e."

[c] Presuming that a Baronetcy [S.] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever was conferred on James Cockburn of Ryslaw in 1628.

[d] This is the parentage assigned to him in Sir E. C. Cockburn's pedigree (see p. 327, note "c") and to his brother, Christopher Cockburn, of Chouslie (b. about 1647, inherited the family estate, and d. about 1653), whose male issue continued for three generations, when (writes Sir Edward) "the elder line became extinct." But if Christopher was (as would thus appear) elder br. to James, the latter could not have succeeded their uncle as h. male. This difficulty, however, is solved by considering James, the 2d Baronet, to have been son (not nephew) of the 1st Baronet, as is done by Betham, by Playfair, and by most others.

[e] The succession in Betham's pedigree (see p. 327, note "c") is entirely different. The 3d Baronet is therein called WILLIAM (not James), and is said to have "lived in England," to have m. (—), da. of (—) Douglas of Blackerstoun, in Berwick, and to have died in 1680. To him three sons are assigned, viz. (1), James, the 4th Baronet, father of William, the 5th Baronet, as in the text; (2), Charles, a General under the Duke of Marlborough, whose male issue failed with his two sons, Charles and George, both Captains in the army; (3), William Cockburn, M.D., Physician to the army, who m. Margaret, da. of John Maitland, and who d. at Kilkenny in 1730, leaving two sons, the elder of whom, William Cockburn, M.D., of Dublin, d. s.p.m., while the younger [therein, erroneously, called], James [not John, as in the text] Cockburn, of Kilkenny (d. 1758), was father of James, the 6th Baronet (on the death, in 1782, of his cousin, William, the 5th Baronet), who was father of Sir William, the 7th and then existing Baronet.

The succession given by Playfair differs from the above in making William, the then Baronet (and not his father, James) succeed to the Baronetcy, and in making this William's great grandfather, William Cockburn, M.D., abovenamed, to be a son of the 1st [!] Baronet instead of a son of the 3rd.

[f] Presuming the date [1669] of the burial of Alison Sinclair, wife of the 3d Baronet, and that [1677] of the birth of his s., the 4th Baronet, to be correctly given in Sir E. C. Cockburn's pedigree, it is manifest that the 4th Baronet must be the s. of a subsequent, presumably a second, wife.

IV. 1711. Sir James Cockburn, Baronet [S. 1628],[a] 1st s. and h., b. 27 March 1677, and bap. at Edinburgh,[b] suc. to the Baronetcy[a] in 1711 ; was a Colonel in the service of the States of Holland.[c] He m. Catherine, da. of (--) Van Offle, of Friesland. He d. at the Hague 1720.[c]

V. 1720. Sir William Cockburn, Baronet [S. 1628],[a] 1st s. and h., b. in Holland, suc. to the Baronetcy[a] in 1720 ; was Lieut. Col. in the service of the States of Holland. He m. (—), da. of (—) Von Akersdyck, of the province of Utrecht. He d. s.p. 1782, at the Hague.

VI. 1782. Sir James Cockburn, Baronet [S. 1628],[a] cousin and h. male, being yr. br. of William Cockburn, Archdeacon of Ossory (1762), who d. s.p.m., at Bath, 7 June 1776, both being sons of John Cockburn, Surgeon, of Kilkenny, by Martha, da. of (—) Rich, of Kilkenny, which John (b. 12 Nov. 1683, at Fogo, d. 12 Dec. 1758, at Kilkenny) was yr. br. of James, 4th Baronet,[a] both being sons of the 3d Baronet.[a] He was b. 1723 ; was Lieut.-Colonel in the 35th Regt. ; Brigadier General and Quartermaster General in North America. He suc. to the Baronetcy[a] in 1782, but it is doubtful if he ever assumed the title.[d] He is said[e] to have suc., as h. male collateral, on the death, 9 Jan. 1800, of Sir William James Cockburn, 4th Baronet [S. 1671], to that Baronetcy (cr. 24 May 1671), of which, however, the limitation is not known. He m. in or before 1770, Lætitia, da. and coheir of Luke Little, of Carlow, an officer of Cavalry, by Jane, da. of Col. John Russell, of the Guards.[c] He d. at Stapleton, near Bristol, 1801.[b] His widow d. 11 Nov. 1804, at her son's house at Weston, near Bath.

VII. 1801. Sir William Cockburn, Baronet [S. 1628,[a] and possibly[f] 1671], s. and h., b. 26 Jan. 1771, at Winchester ;[c] suc. to the Baronetcy[a] or Baronetcies on the death of his father ; was ([d]) The account given of this family in Playfair's Baronetage [S.] in 1811, seems to have been furnished by "Sir William" the then Baronet. The elaborate and nihil ad rem narrative therein set forth of the families of Rossiter and Devereux (from whom his mother Lætitia Little was descended), as also of that of Creutzer (being that of his wife), could hardly have come from another source. Yet, not only is Sir William's father (the date of whose death is not given) spoken of merely as "Esq.," but it is also stated that "Sir William Cockburn, only son of James, is the present Baronet, having succeeded to the title [not on the death of his father, but] on the branch of Sir James the 4th [sic] Baronet becoming extinct." The subsequent discovery of Betham that the then Baronet's father, James, had himself been a Baronet, and had in 1782 suc. his cousin as such, was in 1811 apparently unknown to (Sir William) his son and successor! The account in Playfair is more in harmony with Sir William having assumed the Baronetcy [S. 1671] of Cockburn of Cockburn soon after the death (9 Jan. 1800) of the 4th Baronet of that creation, which death took place not long before the death of his own father, who probably never assumed it.

([e]) "Sir William James Cockburn [4th] Baronet [S. 1671] . . . died 9 Jan. 1800 . . . was suc. in the title by his kinsman, Col. James Cockburn, who had previously [1782 ?] inherited the Ryslaw Baronetcy, who dying in 1801 was suc. by his only son, William Cockburn," who came home from India in that year. [MS. account of the Baronetcy of Cockburn, of Cockburn, written by Sir Edward Cludde Cockburn, and lent by him to Sir J. Balfour Paul, Lyon, in July, 1901.]

([f]) In Broun's Baronetage for 1844, the Baronetcy assigned to this family is the one created in 1671, of which creation the then holder is called the sixth Baronet, no mention being made of the creation of 1628 ; but, on the other hand, that creation (and not the one of 1671) is the one attributed to these Baronets by Playfair in 1811, and by Burke till (at some date after 1871) he *dis*continued to include them among existing Baronets.

an officer in the Army, sometime Major in the 73d Foot, becoming eventually (1821) Lieut. General; was cr. D.C.L. of Oxford, 26 June 1816. He m. firstly, 1 Jan. 1791, at Madras, Elizabeth Anne, widow of Thomas DAVIS, M.D., and previously of Charles CLIFTON, Major R.A., sister and h. of Henry Jacob CREUTZER, da. of Col. Henry Frederick CREUTZER, of Manheim in Germany, by Elizabeth, da. of Lieut. Col. Alexander JACOB. She d. 30 June 1829, at Wrockwardine, Salop, and was bur. there. He m. secondly, 2 July 1834, at Swanswick, Martha Honora Georgina, widow of Osborne MARKHAM, 1st da. and coh. of William Henry RICKETTS-JERVIS, of Longwood, Hants, Capt. R.N., by Elizabeth Jane, da. of Richard (LAMBART), 6th EARL OF CAVAN [I.]. He d. at Lansdowne Crescent, Bath, 19 March, and was bur. 3 April 1835, at Wrockwardine, aged 67. M.I. in Bath Abbey. He was author of a work called "The Massacre of St. Bartholomew," and of other publications. He m. 15 Oct. 1823, at Gardesley, co. Hereford, Anne, 1st da. of the Rev. Francis COKE, of Lower Moor, co. Hereford, Preb. of Hereford, by Anne, da. of Robert WHITCOMBE, of Kington. He d. suddenly, 12 April 1858, at Downton aforesaid. His widow d. 12 April 1879.

IX. 1858. SIR EDWARD CLUDDE COCKBURN, Baronet [S. 1628[a] and possibly 1671], of Pennockstone, co. I. 1627. SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, of Lundy in Angus, co. Forfar[e] being s. and h. of the Hon. COLIN CAMPBELL, of Lundy aforesaid, which Colin was 2d s. of Colin 6th EARL OF ARGYLL [S.] was served heir gen. of his father, 15 May 1619, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 13 Dec. 1627, such creation not, however, being recorded in the Great Seal register, with rem. to heirs male what-

[b] His elder br. Devereux Cockburn, an officer in the Scots Greys, d. unm. and v.p. at Rome, 3 May 1850, in his 22d year.

[c] After the death, 20 Nov. 1880, of Lord Chief Justice Cockburn, the 12th Baronet [S.] of the creation, 22 Nov. 1627, of Cockburn, of Langton, it seems not impossible that this dignity as well as the Baronetcy [S. 1671] (see note " " above) may have devolved on Sir E. C. Cockburn, and he indeed in his MS. pedigree (see note "c" above) as "9th Baronet of Ryslaw, 7th of that ilk, and 13th of Langton."

[d] Laing's List; in Milne's List this entry is given as "28 May 1625 (—) Campbell, of Lundie, wes nixt Straquhan, of Thorntoun in Denmill's List, bot is extinct." The date and place thus assigned to this creation seem clearly erroneous.

[e] He is, erroneously, designated in Ulster's List as "brother to the Earl of Argyll," as also in Wood's Douglas' Peerage [S.].

soever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which he had seizin in May 1628.[a] He is styled Baronet in a spec. service to his father, 22 May 1630, and elsewhere. He appears to have sold Lundie, before 1648, to a person of his own surname.[b]

II. 1650? to 1696? Sir Colin Campbell, Baronet [S. 1627], s. or grandson and heir, appears to have suc. to the Baronetcy and to have d. s.p.m.[c] before 1696, when it became dormant, and the issue male of the grantee became probably extinct, in which case the title vested and still vests in the Earls (now Dukes) of Argyll [S.].[b]

Being a zealous supporter of the Protestant interest there, he obtained large grants of land in Armagh and Cavan, acquiring others by purchase from his br. Sir Henry Acheson, of Dromleck, co. Armagh. He was made a Master in Chancery [I.] 27 June 1621 (being admitted to King's Inn, Dublin, 16 Nov. following), which post he resigned when made a Lord of Session [S.] in 1627. He was for many years Secretary of State for Scotland, which office he held till his death. He was Knighted at Theobald's, 1 April 1620; was M.P. [S.] for Haddington Constabulary, 1625, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 1 Jan. 1628, sealed 8 Aug. 1631,[d] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register, with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which, apparently, he never had seizin.[f] He m. firstly, in or before 1610, Agnes Vernor, of Edinburgh. He m. secondly, 1622, Margaret, da. and h. of the Hon. ---

[a] This is according to the numbering that would have been if his five immediate ancestors (as given in the text) had suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of the grantee in 1651, when the first of them suc. to his estate of Airds.

[b] According to the assumption of that dignity in 1804.

[c] Playfair's Baronetage [S.], where there is the advantage of a few dates to elucidate this descent, such being wholly wanting in the descent (at variance herewith) given in Burke's Baronetage of 1901. In that work Sir John is made s. and h. of Donald, s. of Alexander, s. of John, s. of George Campbell, all of Airds aforesaid, the said George being the successor of the 1st Baronet in that estate.

[d] This service, accordingly, implies that there can be a lawful heir to a bastard, other than one of his own descendants.

Possibly this was a successor (perhaps, indeed, a son) of the 2d Baronet. Gilbert Skene, of Pollerton, co. Aberdeen, Professor of Medicine in King's College, Aberdeen (who was living 1597, and who was yr. br. of Sir John Skene, father of the grantee), left a large family, among whose issue the heir male of the Baronetcy probably exists, the issue male of the two yr. brothers of the 1st Baronet being extinct [Burke's Commoners, vol. iv, 476].

GIBSON :

said (apparently in error) to have been cr. 22 Feb. 1628.[a]

I. 1628. ALEXANDER GIBSON, of Durie co. Fife, s. and h. of George GIBSON, of Goldingstones, Clerk of Session [S.], by Elizabeth, da. of (—) AIRTH, was himself made Clerk of Session [S.] 14 Dec. 1594; purchased the estate of Grantoun, co. Edinburgh, 1603, and subsequently the fine estate of Durie, including the town and harbour of Leven, in 1614, and other lands, all erected into the Free Barony of Durie; and was a Senator of the College of Justice [S.], 10 July 1621, being designated "LORD DURIE," and was L. President of the Court of Session [S.], 1642. On 22 Feb. 1628, he had sasine from Sir William Alexander of the Barony of Durie in Anticosti, Canada,[b] perhaps with a view to being created a Baronet, but, apparently, no such creation followed. Lord Durie's "Practicks" or decisions, 1621-1642, were published in 1690. He m., 14 Jan. 1596, Margaret, da. of Sir Thomas CRAIG, of Riccarton, co. Edinburgh, a celebrated feudal lawyer. [a] This creation is omitted in Milne's List, though inserted in Laing's List as "given on the authority of former lists." No such creation, however, is entered in the Registrum Preceptorum Cartarum pro Baronettis Novæ Scotiæ, and it is remarked by R. R. Stodart [Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86] that the long line of Knights and the grant in 1628 of land in Nova Scotia led to the error of supposing a creation of Baronetcy in that year, but that, in point of fact, the only Baronetcy [S.] granted to the name of Gibson is the one cr. 31 Dec. 1702.

[b] No seizin of this territory is recorded in Banks's Lists.

V. 1697? ALEXANDER GIBSON, sometimes considered a Baronet[a] [S. 1628], of Durie, aforesaid, s. and h. Had general service to his father (neither of them being therein styled "Sir"), 26 April 1698. He m. (—) da. of John MURRAY, of Polmaise and Touch Adam, co Stirling. He d. s.p., at Edinburgh, 30 Jan. 1699. Will pr. 14 April 1699 [S.].

He m. in or before 1630, Margaret, da. and coheir of Sir George ERSKINE, of Innerteil, co. Fife, a Lord of Session [S.] under the style of Lord Innerteil (1617-46), which George was a yr. br. of Thomas, 1st VISCOUNT FENTOUN [S.]. He d. 10 Sep. 1654. His widow m. Sir James FOULIS, 2d Baronet [S. 1634] of Colinton, a Lord of Session and Lord Justice Clerk [S.] till his death, 19 Jan. 1688.

II. 1654. SIR GEORGE MACKENZIE, Baronet [S. 1628], of Tarbat and Cromarty aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. 1630 at Innerteil aforesaid; ed. at the Univ. of St. Andrew's and at King's Coll., Aberdeen, where he graduated, 1646: joined, in 1653, Glencairn's expedition on behalf of Charles II, on defeat of which, 26 July 1654, he fled to the continent; suc. to the Baronetcy, 10 Sep. 1654; was, after the Revolution, the chief confidant of the Earl of Middleton [S.], who had the management of Scotch affairs; was M.P. [a] Laing's List (where it is "given on the authority of former lists"), but not in Milne's List, neither is the creation enrolled in the Registrum Preceptorum Cartarum pro Baronettis Novæ Scotiæ.

[b] Banks's Lists.

[c] Laing's List; Milne's List. He is called "Dominus Johannes McKeinzie de Tarbat" in the diploma dat. at Whitehall 21 May 1628, as recited in the Diploma of 29 April 1704.

[d] He was yr. br. of Kenneth, 1st Lord Mackenzie of Kintail [S.], both being sons of Sir Colin Mackenzie, of Kintail.

III. 1704. The Hon. Sir Kenneth Mackenzie, Baronet [S. 1628], of Cromarty aforesaid and of Grandvale, 2d s. (by 1st wife) to whom his father in 1695 had made over the estate of Cromarty. ∧He was M.P. [S.] for Cromartyshire (two Parls.), 1693-1707 and [G.B.] 1707-08, 1710-13 and 1727 till death, having been a supporter of the treaty of Union [S.]. By patent 29 April 1704 he was cr. a Baronet [S.], with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, "on his father's resignation(a) as air to Sir John McKenzie, of Tarbet, with his precedency which is 21 May 1628,"(b) thus becoming the 3d Baronet of that creation. He m. ~~in 1701, Ann Campbell~~. He d. 13 Sep. 1728.

IV. 1728. Sir George Mackenzie, Baronet [S. 1628], of Cromarty and Grandvale aforesaid, s. and h.; was M.P. [S.] for Ross-shire, 1704-7, and [G.B.] for Inverness burghs, 1710-13, and for Cromartyshire, 1729-34; was (as "Master George Mackenzie of Inchculter") Provost of Fortrose; suc. to the Baronetcy, 13 Sep. 1728. He became bankrupt, and, consequently, the estate of Cromarty was sold in 1741 to William Urquhart. He m. Elizabeth Reid, sister of Capt. John Reid, of Greenwich. He d. s.p., 20 May 1748. His widow d. 24 Aug. 1807, aged 84.

V. 1748, to 1763. Sir Kenneth Mackenzie, Baronet [S. 1628], br. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1748. He d. s.p. 14 Sep. 1763. Will pr. 1763. On his death the issue male of his grandfather, the 3d Baronet (who obtained the novodamus of the Baronetcy 29 April 1704), became extinct, and the Baronetcy fell under attainder, inasmuch as the right thereto devolved on the attainted heir male of the body of the elder brother(c) of the 1st Baronet. That heir was George Mackenzie, sometime (1731-46) Earl of Cromarty [S.], who suc. his father, John, the 2d Earl, in that title, 20 Feb. 1731, which John was s. and h. of George, the 1st Earl and 2d Baronet [S. 1628]. This George was engaged in the Rising of 1745, and sentenced to death for high treason, 1 Aug. 1746, whereby his peerage honours were forfeited in that year, and the Baronetcy when, in 1763, it devolved upon him, became likewise forfeited.(d)

(a) See p. 294, note "e," under "Colquhoun," shewing the validity, before the Scotch Union, of such resignation and regrant.

(b) Milne's List. He is styled in the diploma, dat. 29 April 1704 at Kensington, as "Magister Kennett McKeinzie filius legitimus natu secundus Georgii Comitis de Cromartii et nepos prædicti quondam domini Johannis McKeinzii de Tarbat, ejus avi," and it is expressly stated he is to have the same precedency as if he, instead of his said grandfather, had been cr. a Baronet on 21 May 1628.

(c) According to Scotch law the next junior brother is heir before the elder, but the only junior brother, Sir James Mackenzie, Baronet [S. 1704], had died previously, s.p.m.s., 9 Nov. 1744.

(d) In 1796 the issue male, if any such remained, of Roderick Mackenzie, of Prestonhall (one of the Lords of Session [S.] under the title of Lord Prestonhall), who was 2d and yst. s. of the 1st Baronet, and who d. 4 Jan. 1712, would, barring the attainder, have been entitled to this Baronetcy, after the extinction of the issue male of the Earls of Cromarty, which happened on 4 Nov. 1796. Alexander Mackenzie, s. and h. of the said Roderick, m., in 1702, Amelia, 1st da. and h. of line of Hugh (Fraser), Lord Lovat [S.], and claimed that peerage. He changed his name to Fraser, and was of Fraserdale, but was attainted for taking part in the Rising of 1715. Failing such issue, the representation would devolve on the issue male of Kenneth Mackenzie of Scattwell, co. Ross, next yr. brother of the 1st Baronet, whose son Kenneth was cr. a Baronet [S.], 22 Feb. 1703. The 6th Baronet of that line is said to have suc. to this Baronetcy "in 1882" (Debrett's Baronetage), but no reversal of the attainder of 1746 has, apparently, ever taken place so as to enable him to do so.

ELPHINSTONE:

but assumed since 1877.

I. 1628, to 1645. "Master William Elphinstone, Cupbearer to His Majesty,"[a] called also "the King's servant, brother to Woodhead,"[b] was yst. br. to Sir George Elphinstone, Lord Justice Clerk [S.], both being sons of George Elphinstone, of Blythswood, co. Lanark; was Cupbearer to Charles I, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 20 June 1628,[a] being then apparently of Glasgow, with rem. to heirs male whatsoever (the patent being sealed 20 Jan. 1630[b] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register) with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia entitled the Barony of New Glasgow, of which he had seizin Jan. 1630.[c] He was a Lord of Session [S.] in 1637, and shortly afterwards Lord Justice General [S.], but was apparently displaced in 1641. He was Knighted, at Whitehall, 3 Feb. 1636/7. He d. s.p., probably unm., and was bur. (under the name of "Elveston") 10 Dec. 1645, in Westm. Abbey, when the Baronetcy became dormant. Will, in which (ignoring the Baronetcy) he describes himself merely as "Knight, Justice General, and one of the Senators of the College of Justice" [S.], dat. at Westm. 26 Nov. 1639 and proved by Sir David Cunningham, Baronet [S.], the universal legatee save as to £100 bequeathed to testator's "nephew, William Elphinstone, son of James Elphinstone, of Woodside.

(h) In Foster's Baronetage, 1883 (p. 209), the Baronetcy is spoken of as having been assumed by him, but, as he died before his elder brother, such assumption, if indeed it ever was made, would have been absurd.

BRUCE:

cr. 26 June or 29 Sep. 1628; sealed 10 Aug. 1629.[b]

I. 1628. "WILLIAM BRUCE, of Stenhouse" [co. Stirling], 2d s. of William BRUCE, by Jean, da. of John (FLEMING), 5th LORD FLEMING [S.], having received, previous to 1603, from his grandfather, Sir Alexander BRUCE, of Airth (his father having d. v.p.), the lands of Stenhouse, to "remain with him and his heirs"; was cr. a Baronet [S.], 26 June or 29 Sep. 1628, sealed 10 Aug. 1629,[b] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register [S.], with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which he had seizin, Aug. 1629.[c] He m. firstly, (—), da. and h. of Gen. He was on the Parl. side during the Civil Wars, and joined Argyll's party against the Duke of Hamilton's "engagement." In 1649 he was one of the "Colonels" for the county of Stirling.

III. 1660? SIR WILLIAM BRUCE, Baronet [S. 1628], of Stenhouse aforesaid, only s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father. He m. firstly, 16 Sep. 1665, Jean FORTUNE. He m. secondly, 17 April 1679, Alison TURNBULL, "Lady Kirkland." He d. March 1682.

[a] According to the pedigree in Burke's Baronetage of 1901, Admiral Elphinstone was son of "John Elphinstone of the Royal Navy," son of another "John Elphinstone," who was son of "John Elphinstone, of Lopness-Waas," only son of "Robert Elphinstone, Page to Prince Henry, eldest son of James VI," one of the two sons of "Ronald Elphinstone, who settled at Orkney," who was son of John Elphinstone, of Baberton, 3d son of Robert, 3d Lord Elphinstone [S.] and yr. br. of James, 1st Lord Balmerino [S.]. No such John, however, appears as a younger br. to the said Lord Balmerino in Wood's Douglas' Peerage [S.], but, even if the pedigree as above is correct, it seems to have no bearing on the heirship to this Baronetcy, but only to that of the attainted Barony of Balmerino [S.].

[b] In Laing's List the creation is given as 26 June 1629, but in Milne's List as 29 Sep. 1628, sealed 10 Aug. 1629.

[c] Banks's Lists.

V. 1721. Sir Robert Bruce, Baronet [S. 1628], of Stenhouse aforesaid, 2d but 1st surv. s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father. He d. unm.

He m. June 1795, Anne Colquhoun, 3d da. of Sir William Cuningham (afterwards Cuningham-Fairlie), 5th Baronet [S. 1630], by Anne, da. of Robert Colquhoun, of the island of St. Christopher. He was b. 20 Sep. 1825, at Bombay; was sometime Capt. 74th Highlanders; suc. to the Baronetcy, 14 Dec. 1862. He m. 21 Aug. 1850, at Monkstown, co. Dublin, Charlotte Isabella, 3d da. of the Hon. Walter O'Grady (2d s. of Standish, 1st Viscount Guillamore [I.]), by Grace Elizabeth, da. of Hugh (Massy), 3d Baron Massy [I.] She d. 16 Oct. 1873.

BRUCE:

Qy. if not cr. about 1628, and dormant or extinct soon afterwards.

I. 1628? "Sir John Bruce, of Clackmannan," is said[b] "in ane old list" to have been cr. a Baronet [S.]. His identity is not certain. His name, as above, occurs in a list of the Nova Scotia Baronets compiled before 1643,[c] but no such person in or near that date appears among the Clackmannan family. It is not improbable that the elder br. of Sir William Bruce, of Stenhouse, cr. a Baronet [S.] in 1628, is meant, viz., Sir John Bruce of Airth, co. Stirling, grandson and h. to Sir Alexander Bruce, of Airth and Stenhouse. This Sir John, who had a charter, 1610, as Dominus Johannes Bruce de Airth, m. in 1601, Margaret, da. of Alexander Elphinstone, 4th Lord Elphinstone [S.], and was father of Alexander Bruce, of Airth aforesaid, who was father of Sir Alexander Bruce, of Airth aforesaid, who d. s.p.m., when the issue male of his grandfather became extinct.

[b] Milne's List, where however no date is given. In Laing's List there is no notice of the creation, neither is there in Banks's Lists any record of grant or seizin of lands in Nova Scotia.

BARR:

cr. 29 Sep. 1628;[a]

dormant, soon afterwards.

ROBERT BARR, a Burgess of Glasgow, is said to have been cr. a Baronet 29 Sep. 1628,[a] but no further particulars are known of him and no seizin of lands in Nova Scotia is recorded.[b]

FORBES:

cr. 29 Sep., and sealed 10 Oct. 1628;[c]

afterwards, since 1675, VISCOUNTS GRANARD [I.]; and subsequently, since 1684, EARLS OF GRANARD [I.].

He m., between 12 Feb. 1618 and 1623, Jane, widow of Sir Claud HAMILTON, of Clonyn, co. Cavan, da. of Robert LAUDER, of the Bass [S.]. He d. 14 April 1632, being slain in a duel at Hamburgh. His widow suffered greatly in the Civil Wars, and was besieged for many months at Castle Forbes till forced to surrender in Aug. 1642.

II. 1632. SIR ARTHUR FORBES, Baronet [S. 1628], of Castle Forbes aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. about 1625, being aged 7 when he suc. to the Baronetcy, 24 April 1632; was in command in Scotland for the Royal cause in 1655; was a Commissioner of the Court of Claims [I.] in 1661, and Capt. of a troop of horse; M.P. [I.] for co. Tyrone, 1661-66; P.C. [I.]; Marshal of the army [I.], 1670; and one of the Lord Justices [I.], 1671, 1673 and 1681. He m. about 1655, Catharine, widow of Sir Alexander STEWART, 2d Baronet [I. 1623], da. of Sir Robert NEWCOMEN, 4th Baronet [I. 1625], by his 1st wife Anne, da. of [—] BOLEYN. (a) The marriage (by Licence) at St. Martin's in the Fields, 5 Oct. 1693, of "Capt. Archibald Hamilton and Anne Pennington of St. James' Westm.," probably refers to a first marriage, though none such seems to have ever been attributed to him. In that same year, 1693, he obtained his Captain's commission in the navy.

[f] Helen, his sister, widow of James Livingstone, was in 1729 served his heir special in lands of Balrownie, Ballichill, etc., co. Forfar. In Playfair's Baronetage [S.] he is said to be father of two sons, John and William, of whom the eldest is said to have been the 3d Baronet, who d. July 1782 and who is conjectured to be father of John, the 4th Baronet, father of William, the 5th Baronet, father of William, the 6th and then (1811) existing Baronet. Thus the Sir William, who d. July 1782, is made the 3d, instead of the 7th Baronet, as in the text above.

Sir John Arnott, Baronet(a) [S. 1629], of the island of Jersey, whose relationship to the grantee is unknown(b); was sometime (1750 a Capt. in Fonlis' regiment; and assumed the Baronetcy probably about 1762. He d. a widower and s.p. probably about 1765, although the admon. to his effects was dated as late as 10 Aug. 1781, when it was granted to "Matthew Robert Arnott, Esq.," a creditor, Mary Arnott, spinster, sister and only next of kin, having renounced.

* * * * * * *

VI. 1765? Sir Robert Arnot, Baronet(a) [S. 1629], of Dalginch, co. (b) He, certainly, was not a son of William Arnot, Col. of the 53d Regt., only br. of the last Baronet, as that William d. s.p. before 1762, when his sisters were served his coheirs of provision general.

VIII. 1782? MATTHEW ROBERT ARNOTT,[a] Clerk of the Private Committees of the House of Commons, Usher of the Green Rod, etc., was (according to a statement said to be in the "Scottish Nation") a de jure Baronet, presumably as succeeding to this Baronetcy [S. 1629] in July 1782. He was s. and h. of the Rev. George ARNOT, Vicar of Wakefield, co. York, 1728 to 1750, but his relationship to the grantee is unknown. He d. s.p. 1801, his sister's son, George ROBINSON, Capt. [d] This William was yr. br. to Laurence Oliphant, of Williamston, afterwards of Forgandenny, who was ancestor of the Oliphants of Bachilton, and whose male line failed in 1770, the heir of line being Lord Elibank [S.]. They were sons of Thomas Oliphant, of Freeland, afterwards of Williamston aforesaid [1546-77], by Isabel Gibb, which Thomas is the first on record of the family, being traditionally said to have been descended from Lawrence, Abbot of Machaffray, who fell at Flodden.

[f] The cause, according to the Staggering State (p. 139), by Scot of Scotstarvet, was that he had "shot his gardener dead with a hagbut."

I. 1628. Sir William Keith, of Ludquhairn, only s and h. of Sir William Keith, of the same, by Margaret, sister of George, 5th Earl Marischal [S.], da. of William Keith, styled Lord Keith, suc. his father before 1625 and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 28 July 1629, the patent being sealed 8 May 1630[a] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, no grant or seizin of lands in Nova Scotia however being recorded. (c) His eldest son, Sir William Keith, was much in favour with Charles I, by whom he was, though a young man, made Knight Marischal [S.]. He d. s.p. and v.p.

V. 1749, to 1771. Sir Robert Keith, Baronet [S. 1629], s. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy, 18 Nov. 1749. He served in the Prussian service, under his cousin, the well-known Field-Marshal Keith, in Russia, Poland, Germany, Turkey, and Sweden, becoming a Lieut.-Colonel, and was subsequently (after the Marshal's death in 1758) in the Danish service, in which he became Major-General, and Commandant of Hamburg. SAINT ETIENNE, or DE LA TOUR:
dormant or extinct probably about 1660.

I. 1629. "Sir Claude Saint Etienne, Knight, Seigneur de la Tour and Uuarse" sometimes spoken of as "Claude de la Tour," a native of France, who had rendered Sir William Alexander, great assistance in the settlement of the colony of Nova Scotia, was cr. a Baronet [S.] by patent, dat. at Whitehall, 30 Nov. 1629, with rem. to the heirs male of his body[b], the said patent, however, not being recorded in the Registrum Preceptorum cartarum pro Baronettis Novæ Scotiæ, or in the Great Seal Register [S.]. He, together with his son Charles (who was similarly created 12 May 1630) received, 30 April 1630, a grant of lands, presumably 16,000 acres each, in Nova Scotia, entitled respectively the Barony of St. Etienne and the Barony of De la Tour[c], on condition that they, their heirs and successors should be "good and faithful vassels" of the King of Scotland. This condition he ceased to fulfil (thereby apparently, forfeiting the said grant) when he took part with the French, on their entry into Nova Scotia after the treaty of St. Germain (29 March 1632) by whom he was made Gov.-Gen. of the province, another Frenchman, named D'Aulney, being subsequently added as a co-partner with him. He apparently was dead before 13 May 1649, when Charles, his son and successor (see next below) is called "Lord of De la Tour in France."

II. 1645? to 1660? Sir Charles Saint Etienne, Baronet [S. 1629], s. and h., who, v.p., as "Charles Saint Etienne, Esquire, Seigneur de St. Denniscourt and Baigneux" had already been cr. a Baronet [S.] by patent dat. at Whitehall, 12 May 1630,[b] in like manner as his father, with whom he received grant of lands in Nova Scotia, as above stated[c]. He suc. to the Baronetcy conferred on his father, apparently before 13 May 1649, when as "Lord of De la Tour in France and Knight Baronet of Scotland" he, for £2,084 to be redeemed 20 Feb. 1652, mortgages the Fort La Tour and plantation near the mouth of the St. John's river, as the same was purchased, 30 April 1630, by Sir Claude St. Etienne, of Sir William Alexander. This fort he had held for many years against the French, when they, according to their construction [or misconstruction] of the treaty of St. Germain (29 March 1632) invaded Nova Scotia. He made good his title to these premises when in England in 1656. On his death, both of his Baronetcies appear to have become dormant or extinct.

(a) He had two sons: (1), Frederick William Keith, b. 7 Oct. 1751, Lieut. in the Danish Guards; (2), Robert George Keith, b. 6 Oct. 1752. Of these, however, nothing more is known. They possibly d. unm. and before their father.

(b) The patent of 30 Nov. 1629; an abstract of that of the Baronetcy [S.], 12 May 1630 and the grant of lands, dat. 30 April 1630 are given in Banks's account of Nova Scotia Baronets [Baronia Anglica concentrata, vol. ii, pp. 210-248] from which work the description of these grantees and the particulars of their career are also taken. The same dates of creation are given in Laing's List, "on the authority of former lists."

(c) No Seizin of these lands is recorded in Banks's Lists.

Kirkcudbright, "Knight,"[a] whose parentage is unknown, was appointed Clerk of the Nichells [I.] by Privy Seal, 19 Oct. 1629 (patent 11 Dec. 1631), which office he surrendered 30 May 1639, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 31 March 1630,[a] the patent, however, not being in the Great Seal Register, [S.] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which he does not appears to have had seizin.[b] He m. (—), da. of (–) STEWART. He d. 8 and was bur. 24 Jan. 1657/8 in Dublin. Funeral entry [I.]. Admon. 29 Nov. 1658 [I.] to his s., Sir Robert Hannay. He d. s.p.,[c] presumably unm.,[d] and was bur. at St. Michan's, Dublin, 30 April 1689,[e] when the Baronetcy appears to have remained dormant for nearly 100 years.

(d) Ex inform. R. R. Stodart, Lyon clerk depute (1863-86).

(e) James, probably the 1st son, was b. 4 Nov. 1627; the 2d son, Henry Sibbald, of Giblistoun abovenamed, was living 1674 and soon afterwards sold that estate. The youngest son, George d. s.p., his brother, John Sibbald, being served, 27 May 1678 his heir general.

III. 1833, to 1846. Sir William Sibbald, Baronet[a] [S. 1630], of Edinburgh, sometime a sailor at South Shields, was only s. of James Sibbald, master mariner at South Shields, 2d s. of James Sibbald, desk and trunk maker at South Shields, 3d s. of David Sibbald, a sailor, Portioner of Canongate (who, on 28 July 1694, was served heir general of his grandfather), s. of George Sibbald, of Canongate, only s. of George Sibbald, of the same, formerly of Uthrogall, near Rankeillour aforesaid, who was 2d of the 1st Baronet. He, on 31 May 1831, was served heir male of Henry Sibbald, 2d s. of the 2d Baronet, and on 18 Nov. 1833 was served heir male special to the 1st Baronet in the Barony and Regality of Rankeillour-Sibbald in Nova Scotia, whereupon he assumed the Baronetcy. He, on 13 May 1834 (as a Baronet) was served heir to his great grandfather,[b] David Sibbald. In 1846, however, these services were reduced before the Court of Session at the instance of the Lord Advocate, though it has been remarked thereon (by Maidment) that the evidence in Sir William's case was better than that produced by many wealthy persons left to enjoy their assumed honours without challenge.[c]

RICHARDSON:

cr. 13 Nov. 1630; sealed 31 Jan. 1631[d]; dormant 1640, or 1642, to 1678?; 1752 to 1783? and 1821 to 1837.

I. 1630. Robert Richardson, of Pencaitland, co. Haddington, younger s. of James Richardson, of Smeaton in that county and of Pencaitland aforesaid, by Elizabeth Douglas, his wife; was M.P. [S.] for co. Haddington 1630, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 13 Nov. 1630, the patent being sealed 13 Jan. 1631,[a] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register [S.], with apparently rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, entitled the Barony of Pencaitland in New Brunswiek, of which he had seizin in Feb. 1631.[e] He m. 4 Jan. 1610, Euphan, da. of Sir John Skene, of Curriehill, Lord Clerk Register [S.] 1594-1612. In 1634 he was old and in bad health, and, being offended with his eldest son, sold his estate to John Sinclair, but d. April 1635, within a year of this transaction, when his son reduced the sale[f].

II. 1635, to 1640? Sir Robert Richardson, Baronet [S. 1630], of Pencaitland aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. 24 Jan. 1613, suc. to the Baronetcy in April 1635, and was on 30 of that month served heir general of his father, and on 30 Sep. following, heir special. He sold his estate of Pencaitland to James Macgill, of Cranstoun Riddell. He d. s.p.,[g]

(a) According to the service of 18 Nov. 1833.

(b) In both cases it was before a respectable jury. In 1833 one of the jury was a writer to the Signet and the trial was held before George Tait, Sheriff Substitute of Edinburgh. In 1834, one of the jurors was John Melville, afterwards Knighted and sometime Lord Provost of Edinburgh.

(c) See p. 379, note "d."

(d) Laing's List; as also in Milne's List, where the date of the sealing is added, and the description given as "of Eister Pentland."

(e) Banks's Lists.

(f) Ex inform. R. R. Stodart, Lyon clerk depute (1863-86), as also is much else contained in this article.

(g) His only br., Alexander Richardson had d. the year before him, presumably, s.p.m.

being then an "indweller in Smeaton" in 1640, or 1642, when the Baronetcy became dormant and remained so for nearly forty years.

* * * * * * *

III. 1678? Sir James Richardson, Baronet [S. 1630,] of Smeaton aforesaid, cousin and h. male, being s. and h. of James Richardson, of the same (d. 11 June 1634), by Rachel Wardlaw, which James, was s. and h. of Sir James Richardson, of Smeaton aforesaid (d. 25 Dec. 16), elder br. of the 1st Baronet. He, however, did not assume the Baronetcy till long after the death of the 2d Baronet, though they both were actually residents in the same parish. He was Knighted by Charles II, at Scone, 2 Jan. 1651, and was served heir general of his grandfather, 20 June 1656. On 25 May 1672 the testament of his 1st wife is recorded as "spouse of Sir James Richardson of Smeaton, Knight." Before the end of 1678, however, he assumed the Baronetcy, and recorded his arms as "Knight Baronet," though (oddly enough) the badge of Nova Scotia was omitted. He m. firstly, before 1649, Anne McGill, whose will is recorded 25 May 1672. He m. secondly, Helen, widow of Sir John Hamilton, of Redhouse, co. Haddington, formerly Helen Richardson, spinster, probably one of the two sisters and coheirs of the 2d Baronet.[a] He d. 1680. His widow d. 1688.

IV. 1680. Sir James Richardson, Baronet, [S. 1630,] of Smeaton aforesaid, s. and h. by 1st wife, suc. to the Baronetcy, 1680. In 1707 he petitioned Parliament for protection from arrest. In 1708 he sold the estate of Smeaton. He m. in 1666, Margaret, 6th da. of William (Kerr), Earl of Lothian [S.], by Ann, suo jure Countess of Lothian [S.]. He d. 28 May 1717, at Holyrood. His widow was confirmed as his sole executrix on 29 Nov. following.

V. 1717. Sir James Richardson, Baronet [S. 1630], s. and h.; sometime Captain in the Scots Foot Guards, suc. to the Baronetcy, 28 May 1717. He d. s.p. 13 April 1731. Will pr. 1731.

VI. 1731. Sir William Richardson, Baronet [S. 1630], br. and h.; somctime Lieut. in Col. Kerr's Dragoons, suc. to the Baronetcy, 13 April 1731. He m. Elcanor, 1st da. of Robert Hilton, of Bishop's Auckland, by Elizabeth, da. of George Crozier, of Newbiggin. He d. in England, 4 April 1747.[b]

VII. 1747, to 1752. Sir Robert Richardson, Baronet [S. 1640], s. and h.; sometime Captain in the Royal Artillery, suc. to the Baronetcy, 4 April 1747. He d. s.p., 1752,[c] when the Baronetcy again became dormant, and so remained for about thirty years.

* * * * * * *

VIII. 1783? Sir James Richardson, Baronet,[d] [S. 1630,] having assumed the title without a service, registered arms in the Lyon office [S.], 8 Feb. 1783, as "Sir James Richardson, of Bellmount, in Hanover parish, Jamaica, Baronet, heir male of the families of Smeatoun and Pencaitland." In 1768, however, no such Baronetcy is mentioned in the registration of arms (10 May 1768) to his yr. br. George Richardson, who is merely described as "descended of a younger son of the family of Richardson of Smeaton." He was [a] This match may have been the cause of his (tardy) assumption of the Baronetcy, but it is, however, just possible that the heir male from 1640 to 1678 might be a son or grandson of Alexander Richardson, next elder br. of the 1st Baronet, though no such descendant can be found in any of the family pedigrees.

[b] The will of "Sir William Richardson" is proved 1769, being, however, apparently that of a "Knight," who died at Bermondsey, 16 March 1769.

[c] His uncle, George Richardson, Captain in Col. Handysides' Reg. of Foot, had d. s.p. 1748.

[d] According to the registration of 8 Feb. 1783.

s. and h. of George Richardson,[a] Writer [S.], by Jean, da. of James Watson, of Woodend, co. Stirling, which George was s. and h. of James Richardson, Burgh Clerk of Perth (d. 1723), s. of James Richardson, said to have been Notary Public at Forgandenny,[b] co. Perth (but more probably at Forgan, co. Fife), who is said to have been a legitimate s. of Robert Richardson, who was (undoubtedly) 2d s. of Sir James Richardson, of Smeaton, Knt., br. of the 1st Baronet. He d. unm., 24 Nov. 1788, at Paradise, Savannah-le-Mar, Jamaica.

IX. 1788. Sir George Richardson, Baronet[c] [S. 1630], of Abingdon street, Westminster, br. and h.; sometime a naval officer in the East India Company's service, and Capt. of the ship "Pigott," when he registered arms, 10 May 1768, in the Lyon office [S.]. Was Commander of the "Ganges"; suc. to the Baronetcy,[c] 24 Nov. 1788. He m. at Freeland, co. Perth (at some date subsequent to the birth of their sons, who, of course were legitimated [S.] thereby), Mary, da. of David Cooper, R.N. He d. 11 and was bur. 20 Dec. 1791, at St. Margaret's Westm. Will pr. Jan. 1792. His widow was bur. there (from Marylebone) 15 Jan. 1828, aged 76. Will pr. Feb. 1828.

IX. bis. 1791, to 1801. Sir John Richardson, Baronet[d] [S. 1630], br.; who, denying the legitimacy of his nephews, assumed the Baronetcy[c] in 1791. He was a Barrister at Law of the Middle Temple, London. He d. s.p. at Calcutta, 1801. Will pr. 1804.

X. 1791. Sir George Preston Richardson, Baronet[c] [S. 1630], s. and h. of Sir George abovenamed, suc. to the Baronetcy,[c] 11 Dec. 1791; was a Major in the 64th Foot. He was mortally wounded at the taking of St. Lucia, 22 June 1803 and d. unm. 21 Oct. following in his 26th year at Barbadoes. Admon. Jan. 1805.

XI. 1803. Sir James Richardson, Baronet[c] [S. 1630], br. and h.; Lieut. 17th Native Infantry. He suc. to the Baronetcy,[c] 22 June 1803. He d. unm. in India, 8 Nov. 1804, of wounds received in Lord Lake's action. Admon. March 1808.

XII. 1804, to 1821. Sir John Charles Richardson, Baronet[c] [S. 1630], br. and h.; b. about 1785; sometime Commander in the Royal Navy; suc. to the Baronetcy,[c] 8 Nov. 1804, and entered and signed his pedigree at the Heralds' College, London, 15 June 1807. He d. s.p., in Marylebone, 12 and was bur. 19 April 1821, at St. Margaret's Westm., aged 36, when the Baronetcy became again dormant, and so remained for sixteen years. Will pr. 1823.

(a) This George is styled "Sir George Richardson, Baronet" in the service of 9 Jan. 1837, mentioned in the text below, but if he had been a Baronet, or had even so styled himself, surely his son George would not (as abovestated) have been described in 1768 as "descended of a younger son, etc."

(b) In a service dated 26 Jan. 1693, of James Richardson, the Burgh Clerk of Perth to (his maternal grandmother) Janet Johnston, (mother of his mother, Margaret Miller) of Forgan, he is stated to be son of James Richardson, Notary Public in Forgan, not Forganderry, which last is a small village in Perthshire.

(c) According to the registration of 8 Feb. 1783.

(d) According to his own view of his heirship to the person registered as a Baronet in 1783.

XIII. 1837. Sir John Stewart-Richardson, Baronet[a] [S. 1630], of Pitfour, co. Perth, cousin and h. male, being s. and h. of James Richardson, of Pitfour aforesaid, by Elizabeth, 1st da. and coheir of James Stewart, of Urrard, co. Perth, which James Richardson (who d. 26 July 1823, having assumed the supporters granted to the Baronetcy, though, apparently, not the Baronetcy itself, on the death, 12 April 1821, of the 12th Baronet), was s. and h. of John Richardson, of Pitfour (who purchased that estate and d. 1821), who was s. of Thomas Richardson, of Perth, a Baker, and "Deacon of the Bakers" of that burgh,[b] who was s. of William Richardson, of Forgandenny, co. Perth, who is stated (in the service of 1837) to have been younger s. of James Richardson,(c) Notary Public (see p. 382, line 3), to have been a legitimate s. of Robert Richardson, who was (undoubtedly) 2d s. of Sir James Richardson, of Smeaton, Knt., br. of the 1st Baronet. He was b. 1 Sep. 1797; was an Advocate [S.] 1 July 1820. He, on inheriting one-third of the estate of Urrard, being that of his maternal grandfather, assumed the name of Stewart before that of Richardson. He was served 9 Jan. 1837 heir male of Sir John Charles Richardson, the 12th Baronet and of that Baronet's father, Sir George, the 10th Baronet, and on the 27 May 1837 was entered in Lyon's office [S.] as a Baronet; was Secretary to the order of the Thistle, 1843-75; was Major-Gen. of "the Royal Company of Archers" [S.] i.e. the Queen's body-guard. He m. 20 Dec. 1826, Mary, da. of James Hay, of Colliepriest, Devon. He d. 1 Dec. 1881, at Edinburgh, aged 84. His widow d. there 21 July 1886 in her 79th year.

Colonel 3d Vol. Batt. of the Black Watch; Secretary to the Order of the Thistle (on the resignation of his father) 1875-95; suc. to the Baronetcy,[a] 1 Dec. 1881. (a) According to the entry in the Lyon office [S.] of 27 May 1837. As to this entry, R. R. Stodart (see p. 380, note "f") remarks:—"On which assumption [i.e., that of the Baronetcy of Richardson] much has been and is said, but Sir John is as safe as anyone in such a false position can be, having had every sort of recognition."

(b) Thomas, s. of William Richardson bap. at Forgandenny, 23 Feb. 1696, was probably this Thomas. It is difficult to see how any satisfactory proof was afforded of the parentage of the said William. There are other Richardsons in these Registers, all of them apparently obscure people.

(c) In the pedigree lodged with his petition, this James, the "notary," is left out, and James Richardson, the town clerk (ancestor of the 8th and 9th Baronets), and William Richardson, of Forgandenny, are put as sons (not as grandsons) of Robert, the 2d s. of Sir James.

I. 1630. David Cuningham, of Robertland, in the parish of Stewarton, co. Ayr, s. and h. of David Cuningham,[f] of the same, by Margaret, da. of Patrick Fleming, of Barochan, co. Renfrew, suc. his father in April 1619, being in Nov. following served his heir general and, in Oct. 1628, his heir special in Robertland, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 25 Nov. 1630, sealed 8 June 1631,[e] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register [S], with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, entitled the Barony of New Robertland, of which, however, he appears never to have had seizin.[g] He was, as "my honoured kinsman, Sir David Cuningham, of Robertland, Knt. and Baronet," appointed universal legatee and executor in the will, dated 15 Dec. 1647, of "Sir David Cuningham, of Covent Garden, co. Midx, Knt. and Baronet,"[h] which he accordingly proved 26 Aug. 1659. He was a Commissioner of Supply [S.] in 1661. He, apparently, is the "Sir David Cunyngham, Knt. and Baronet, of St. Martin's in the Fields, Bachelor, aged 29," who had lic. (London), 8 June 1637, to marry at St. Faith's, "Elizabeth Harriott, of the same parish, widow, aged 28, widow of James Harriott, Esq.," i.e., widow of James Heriot, Jeweller to the King, da. of Robert Joyce, Keeper of the Robes.[i] He, possibly (though more probably it was his son) m., as a 2d wife, Eva,[k] sister of James, 1st Earl of Kilmarnock [S.], da. of James (Boyd), 8th Lord Boyd [S.], by Catharine, da. of Robert Creyke. In it he directs his burial to be at Kilmauris, with his predecessors, stating his "great debts, burthens, etc., and not mentioning any wife or child other than his "son and heir" David, who is said (possibly by mistake),(a) to have pr. the same 2 Nov. 1671.

II. 1665? SIR DAVID CUNINGHAM, Baronet [S. 1630], of Robertland aforesaid, only s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father. He presumably (and not his father), m. Eva,(b) sister of James, 1st EARL OF KILMARNOCK [S.], da. of James (BOYD), 8th LORD BOYD [S.], by Catharine, da. of Robert CREYKE. She d. 6 May 1665.(c) Will confirmed 20 May 1667 in the Glasgow Com. Court. He d. s.p.(d) before 2 Nov. 1671, when admon. was granted, he being therein styled as "Knight and Baronet of Robertland in Scotland" to "Sir James Cunningham, Knight and Baronet sic. uncle by the father's side and next of kin."

III. 1671? SIR ALEXANDER CUNINGHAM, Baronet [S. 1630], of Robertland aforesaid, uncle and h. male suc. to the Baronetcy in or before 1671. Had spec. service, in Kirkland of Kilmaurs, to his nephew David, 29 Feb. 1672, and to his brother, David, in Robertland, 21 July 1692. He was much in debt and disponed Robertland to Sir David Cuningham, 1st Baronet [S. 1702] of Milncraig. He m. Elizabeth, da. and coheir of the Hon. John CUNINGHAM, of Cambuskeith, a yr. s. of James, 7th EARL OF GLENCAIRN [S.]. He was dead in 1696.

IV. 1690? to 1708? SIR DAVID CUNINGHAM, Baronet [S. 1630], s. and h. suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father. He was insolvent and was a prisoner in the Tolbooth of Ayr. In 1696 was released by Parliament and had authority to dispose of all his estates for his creditors. Was accused of many frauds, as also of an endeavour to murder his father. He m. Elizabeth, widow of James CUNINGHAM, styled LORD KILMAURS, 2d da. and coheir of William (HAMILTON), 2d DUKE OF HAMILTON [S.], by Elizabeth, da. and coheir of James (MAXWELL), EARL OF DIRLETON [S.]. (a) This date of probate (2 Nov. 1671) is also that of the admon. of "Sir David Cunningham, Baronet, of Robertland," i.e. (presumably) the second Baronet [S.] The admon. de bonis non to the will of Sir David Cuningham, the English Baronet [1642], pr. 26 Aug. 1659 by Sir David Cuningham, the 1st Baronet [S.] of Robertland, is granted 4 March 1674/5, "to Sir James Cuningham, Knight, administrator of Sir David Cuningham, of Robertland in Scotland, Knight and Baronet deceased, son of David Cuningham, of Robertland aforesaid, who was cxor. and principal legatee of Sir David Cuningham, of Auchinharvey." The administration thus mentioned can apparently be no other than that of 2 Nov. 1671, i.e., that of the 2d Baronet, as assigned to him in the text.

(c) Burke's Baronetage for 1901.

(e) The word "Baronet" is probably a mistake, and he is not so designated, 4 March 1674/5, see note "a" above. This James was a yr. br. of Alexander, who (as in the text) suc. their nephew as the 3d Baronet.

(f) Diana, his da. and h. m. Thomas Cochrane, of Polkelly, co. Ayr, who d. s.p. 1694.

He suc. his father in June 1727, to whom he was served h. general, 19 March 1734; had sasine of Inchbean and other lands, 12 Oct. 1764, and was served heir male of his great great grandfather, Sir David CUNINGHAM, of Robertland, 3 Aug. 1778, when he assumed the Baronetcy, as cousin and h. male of the 1st Baronet, grandson of Sir David last named. He m. in 1741, Margaret, da. of William FAIRLIE, of Fairlie, co. Ayr. He d. 25 Oct. 1781. CUNINGHAM:

supposed to have been cr. about 1630;

ex. or dormant about 1670.

I. 1630? to 1670? "Sir William Cuninghame, of Capringtoun" [i.e., Caprington in the parish of Riccarton, co. Ayr], appears in Milne's List of Scotch Baronets without any date and with the remark that the creation is "only in ane old list."(b) No record thereof is in the Great Seal Register [S.], and no grant of lands in Nova Scotia is known, and the probability is it never existed. The person indicated was, doubtless, Sir William Cuninghame, of Capringtoun, or Caprington, s. and h. of William Cuninghame, of the same, by Agnes, da. of Sir Hugh Campbell, of Loudoun. He suc. his father, between 1602 and 1618; was Knighted before 31 July 1618. He had several charters of lands under the Great Seal, 1619-37, and was, according to the above account cr. a Baronet [S.] probably about 1630. He was at first on the side of the Parliament and was one of their Commissioners in 1640 and 1641, but subsequently joined Montrose; was fined £1,500 and imprisoned in Edinburgh Castle in 1646 to 1647. By these fines and by his own extravagance he ruined his estate, from which he was finally evicted by his creditors, who sold the same. He m. Margaret, 2d da. of James (Hamilton), 1st Earl of Abercorn [S.] by Marion, da. of Thomas (Boyd), 5th Lord Boyd [S.]. Her will as that of "Dame Isabel Hamilton, spouse to Sir William Cuninghame, Knight," pr. at Edinburgh, 4 May 1642. He d. s.p.m. and probably s.p., when the Baronetcy (if indeed it ever existed) became extinct or dormant.

[b] The descent of the 12th and the succeeding Baronets from this William as here given, agrees with that in Foster's Baronetage for 1883, wherein it is stated to have been "very courteously supplied by Messrs. Duncan and Archibald, of Edinburgh, solicitors to Sir Henry Wardlaw," it being, however, added that "the information is unfortunately most meagre, and this is clearly a case for investigation prior to the title being officially acknowledged."

SINCLAIR :

cr. 2 June 1631, and sealed 18 June 1631[a] ; afterwards, since 1789, EARLS OF CAITHNESS [S.].

I. 1631. JAMES SINCLAIR, of Canisbay, co. Caithness, s. and h. ap. of Sir William SINCLAIR,[b] of Canisbay aforesaid, of Mey in the said county, and of Cadboll, co. Ross, by Catherine, da. of Sir David Ross, of Balnagowan, co. Ross, was cr. a Baronet [S.] 2, the patent being sealed 18 June 1631, but not recorded in the Great Seal register [S.] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, called the Barony of Cannisby Sinclair, of which he had seizin with "haill gold mines within the said Barony," in July 1631.[c] He suc. his father in 1643 and had, 18 July 1643, special service to his grandfather, the Hon. George SINCLAIR, of Mey aforesaid (yr. s. of George, EARL OF CAITHNESS [S.]), in the lands afterwards erected into the Barony of Cadboll. He m. Elizabeth, 3d da. of Sir Patrick LESLIE, of Lindores, by Jean, da. of Robert (STEWART), EARL OF ORKNEY [S.]. He d. 1662.

II. 1662. SIR WILLIAM SINCLAIR, Baronet [S. 1631], of Mey and Canisbay aforesaid, s. and h. ; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1662. He had special service, 15 April 1657 to his great uncle, Sir John[d] SINCLAIR, of Dunbeath, co. Caithness, who d. Sep. 1651. He m. (contract 4 Oct. 1648) Margaret, 2d da. of George (Mackenzie), 2d EARL OF SEAFORTH [S.], by Barbara, da. of Arthur (FORBES), 9th LORD FORBES [S.]. He was living 1670, but dead in 1685.

III. 1677 ? SIR JAMES SINCLAIR, Baronet [S. 1631], of Mey and Canisbay aforesaid, s. and h. ; suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father. He m. Jane,[e] sister and (in 1698) heir of George, EARL OF CAITHNESS [S.], da. of the Hon. Francis SINCLAIR, of Keiss, Tister, and Northfield. He was unjustly ejected from the Keiss and other of his wife's estates, by the Earl of Breadalbane [S.], who claimed them under a disposition made in 1672, by George, the then Earl of Caithness [S.]. He was living 1704.

IV. 1710 ? SIR JAMES SINCLAIR, Baronet [S. 1631], of Mey and Canisbay aforesaid, s. and h. ; suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father. He m. Mary, da. of James (SUTHERLAND), 2d LORD DUFFUS [S.],[f] by Margaret, da. of Kenneth (MACKENZIE), 3d EARL OF SEAFORTH [S.].

V. 1730 ? SIR JAMES SINCLAIR, Baronet [S. 1631], of Mey and Canisbay aforesaid, s. and h. ; suc. to the Baronetcy in or before 1736 and was, on 11 Aug. 1736, served heir male of entail and of provision general to his father. He m. Margaret, da. of John SINCLAIR, of Barrack, by his 1st wife, Anne, d. of Robert SINCLAIR, of Durran. He d. 4 Oct. 1760.

(a) Milne's List ; Laing's List.

(b) Erroneously called a Baronet by Sir Robert Gordon in his history of the Sutherland family [Ex inform. R. R. Stodart, Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86, by whom much else in this article was supplied.]

(c) Banks's Lists.

(d) This John is often, erroneously, supposed to have been cr. a Baronet. See note to Sir James Sinclair, 1st Baronet [S. 1704], of Dunbeath, nephew and h. male of the said John.

(e) In Douglas's Baronage [S.], his wife is given as "Frances, da. of Sir John Towers, of that ilk." There never was such a family. Probably it is a confusion with Jean, da. and h. of Sir John Towers, of Innerleith, who, about 1680, m. Sir John Sinclair, 2d Baronet [S. 1664], of Longformacus.

(f) See Fraser's Sutherland, contradicting the account in Wood's Douglas' Peerage [S.], which makes her da. of Alexander, the 1st Lord,

VI. 1760. Sir John Sinclair, Baronet [S. 1631], of Mey and Canisbay aforesaid, s. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy, 4 Oct. 1760, and was, on 1 May 1765, served heir male of entail and provision special of his father in Mey, Canisbay, etc. He m. Charlotte, 2d da. of the Hon. Eric Sutherland (who, but for his father's attainder, would have been 4th Lord Duffus [S.]), by Elizabeth, 3d da. of Sir James Dunbar, 1st Baronet [S. 1706], of Hempriggs. He d. April 1774, at Barrogill Castle, co. Caithness.

VII. 1774. Sir James Sinclair, Baronet [S. 1631], of Mey aforesaid, s. and h., b. 31 Oct. 1766, at Barrogill Castle; suc. to the Baronetcy in April 1774, and had, on 5 Dec. 1785, special service to his father. He m. 2 Jan. 1784, at Thurso Castle, Jean, 2d da. of General Alexander Campbell, of Barcaldine, by Helen, da. of George Sinclair, of Ulbster, co. Caithness. She was living, when by the death, 8 April 1789, of his distant cousin John, the 11th Earl, he became EARL OF CAITHNESS [S.]; his right, as such, being allowed 4 May 1793. In that peerage this Baronetcy then merged and still so continues.

SINCLAIR:

cr. (as alleged) 3 Jan. 1631(a);

ex. soon after 1650.

I. 1631 to 1652? Sir John Sinclair, of Dunbeath, co. Caithness, 2d s. of the Hon. George Sinclair, of Mey, by Margaret, da. of William (Forbes) Lord Forbes [S.], which George was younger s. of George, Earl of Caithness [S.], is said to have been cr. a Baronet [S.] 3 Jan. 1631, with rem. to the heirs male of his body.(a) He was M.P. [S.] for Caithness-shire 1649-50. He m. firstly, before 31 July 1634 (when she was living as his wife) Christian, da. of Magnus Mowat, of Buchollie. He m. secondly, Catherine (b. 1619), da. of Hugh (Fraser) Lord Lovat [S.], by Isabel, da. of Sir John Wemyss. He was living May 1650 (Act Parl.) but d. s.p.m.(b) probably shortly afterwards, when the Baronetcy became extinct.(c) His widow m., as his second wife, Robert (Arbuthnott) 1st Viscount Arbuthnott [S.], who d. 10 Oct. 1655. She m. thirdly, in 1663, Andrew (Fraser) 3d Lord Fraser [S.], who d. 22 May 1674.

(a) There is, however, no mention of any such creation in Milne's, Laing's, Banks's or any other List. Neither, apparently, is the supposed grantee called a Baronet in any Act of Parl. or other record. The limited remainder is an unusual one, at that date, for Nova Scotia Baronetcies, though so stated in Douglas's Baronage [S.], p. 252, and Playfair's Baronetage [S.], p. cclxviii, in which last the date of "2 Jan." is supplied.

(b) Margaret, his da. (by his 1st wife), m. Hugh Rose, of Kilravock, and her eldest son, Hugh Rose, inherited £10,000 from his grandfather, Sir John Sinclair; her second son, John Rose, 5,000 merks and lands of the value of 50,000 merks; and her daughter Margaret 5,000 merks.

(c) The estate of Dunbeath was inherited by his nephew and h. male, William Sinclair, s. of his brother, Alexander Sinclair, of Latheron, co. Caithness, who d. before 1638. This William was a Royalist, and is incorrectly spoken of as the second Baronet (Burke's Baronetage, 1841-71, and Foster's, 1883, in the "Chaos"), but never assumed that title. He was suc. in the estate of Latheron by John Sinclair, his 2d but 1st surv. s. and h., who was suc. therein by James Sinclair, his s. and h. (d. 1775), who was suc. therein by another James Sinclair, who d. unm. 1788. The estate of Dunbeath, however, was inherited by James Sinclair, fourth s. of William Sinclair abovenamed, which James was cr. a Baronet [S.] 12 Oct. 1704. This creation, of 1704, is unnoticed in Playfair's Baronetage [S.], in which it is, misleadingly, said that he "appears to have claimed and used the title of Baronet under his grand-uncle's patent" of 2 Jan. 1631.

MACLELLAN:

cr.[a] about 1631;

afterwards, 1633-1832, LORDS KIRKCUDBRIGHT [S.]; dormant 19 April 1832.

I. 1631? SIR ROBERT MACLELLAN, of Bombie in Galloway, s. and h. of Sir Thomas MACLELLAN of the same, by Grizell, da. of John (Maxwell), LORD HERRIES [S.], suc. his father July 1597; was Gentleman of the Bedchamber to James VI [S.], before and after his accession to the English throne, as also to Charles I; was M.P. S.] for Wigtonshire, 1621, and was cr. a Baronet [S.][a] about 1631, being subsequently cr., 25 June 1633, LORD KIRKCUDBRIGHT [S.], in which Peerage this Baronetcy then merged, and so continued till, on the death of the 10th holder, 19 April 1832, it became dormant. He m. three wives, as to whom, and as to other particulars about him and his successors, see Peerage.

cr. 18 and sealed 29 June 1631[b].

I. 1631. JOHN GORDON, of Embo, co. Sutherland, s. and h. of John GORDON, of the same, who, though of illegitimate descent, had acquired a great estate in that county, suc. his father 23 Nov. 1628, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 18, the patent being sealed 29 June 1631,[b] but not recorded in the Great Seal Register [S.], with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, entitled the Barony of New Embo, of which he had seizin in the said month of June 1631[c]. In 1634 he bought the estate of Achrinnes. On 25 May 1648 he was served heir general of his father. He m. Margaret, da. of Hon. Robert LESLIE, of Findrassie, co. Moray, by Margaret, da. of Alexander DUNBAR, of Grange, Dean of Moray and one of the Lords of Session, which Robert was son of George, EARL OF ROTHES [S.]. He d. 1649, his estate being "much decayed."

II. 1649. SIR ROBERT GORDON, Baronet [S. 1631], of Embo aforesaid, s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1649, and was, on 5 June 1649, served heir general. His liabilities amounted to £10,862 2s. 4d., and he was adjudged in 1649 to be imprisoned till that sum was paid. He was M.P. [S.] for Sutherlandshire, 1649-50 and 1661, being in 1663 excused from attendance, as in the King's service. He m. Jean,[d] da. of Robert LESLIE, of Findrassie, co. Moray, by Isabel, da. of Abraham FORBES, of Blackford. He d. 16 Oct. 1697.

III. 1697. SIR JOHN GORDON, Baronet [S. 1631], of Embo aforesaid, s. and h., was (v.p.) M.P. [a] Milne's List. There is no mention whatever of this creation in Laing's List, neither is it in Ulster's List. It is, however, in Walkley's List and in Beatson's List, being placed in each case between the creations of Munro (sealed 3 July) and Foulis (sealed 22 July), which, as it was sealed between these dates, seems to be the proper place.

[b] The whole of the information, as to the collateral relatives of the grantee, is taken from a work entitled The Life and Times of Robert Gib, Lord of Caribber, by "Sir George Duncan Gibb, Baronet, of Falkland and Caribber," pub. 1874, in 2 vols, 8vo, by Longman & Co., London. Its author claimed to be heir male of the grantee, but the absence of dates and of the marriages of many of the parties concerned, constitute a great defect in the pedigree, which appears mainly to rest on the following statement, said to be a copy of an entry (now lost), which, it is stated, was written (in a volume of sermons) by Thomas Gibb (who, in the text, is set forth as 4th in succession to the Baronetcy), the great grandfather of the said George Duncan Gibb. It is dated "July 24, 1744," and is as under:—"Robert Gib, of Carieber, had two sons, John and Patrick. Patrick was a Burgess of Linlithgow, and left a son, Robert, named after his grandfather. Robert had a twin son and daughter; the son was named after his grand-uncle, John Gib. John was a zealous supporter of the blessed Covenant; he was at 24 Oct. 1629, to his elder br., James GIBB,(a) of Knock; was sometime Clerk of the Signet; was Groom of the Bedchamber to Henry, Prince of Wales, and subsequently to James I and Charles I, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], the patent being sealed 4 July 1634(b), though not recorded in the Great Seal Register [S.], with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, but apparently without any grant of territory in Nova Scotia.(c) He acquired property at Jarrow, co. Durham/ In 1645 he was on the Committee for Estates [S.], but, nevertheless, his own were sequestrated by Parl. 28 Aug. 1648. He m. firstly, 15 Feb. 1598, Katharine GRAY, said(d) to be a da. of the Hon. James GRAY, 2d s. of Patrick, LORD GRAY [S.] He m. secondly, in or before 1622 (a post nuptial settlement dat. 3 Aug. 1631), Anne, 3d da. of Sir Ralph GIBBS, of Honiton, co. Warwick, by Gertrude, da. of Sir Thomas WROUGHTON, of Broad Hinton, Wilts. He d. s.p.m.(e) 8 April 1650 at Falkland, and was buried at Kilgour. Admon. as "of St. Martin's in the Fields, Midx.," 18 Nov. 1650, and again 24 Nov. 1676. His widow d. 30 May and was bur. 1 June 1658, at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, London, in her 54th year. Will dat. 25 Feb. 1655, pr. 21 June 1658.

The assumption of the title and the right thereto, after 1650, is said(f) to be as below.

II. 1660? SIR JOHN GIBB, Baronet(f) [S. 1634], of Linlithgow, cousin and h. male, being s. and h. of Robert GIBB, of Kersiebank in Linlithgow, Burgess of that town, by (—), his wife, which Robert was s. and h. of Patrick GIBB, of Bearcrofts, co. Stirling, also a Burgess of Linlithgow, next br. to Sir John GIBB, of Knock, the father of the 1st Baronet. He was bap. 13 Aug. 1618, at Linlithgow, and assumed the Baronetcy,(f) after the Restoration, but is said to have "abandoned it when he got into trouble."(f) He fought on the side of the Covenant at Bothwell Muir, 22 June 1679. He m., late in life, (—). He d. 1703, aged 84, at Dairsie or Cupar Fife, and was bur. there.

Bothwell Muir in 1679; settled at Cupar Fife; married late, and had children named John and Christian. His grandson, Thomas, married Euphem Brydie, of Leven." It is to be observed that the writer of the memorandum makes no mention of any Baronetcy, though, according to Sir G. D. Gibb's abovementioned work, he himself was entitled to it, and his father, possibly, and grandfather, certainly, assumed it.

(a) This James is called the last Gibb of Caribber, which estate he disponed 7 March 1640, to James Menteith. He died s.p.m. at Dunfermline, presumably before his brother, Henry, whom else he would have succeeded in the Baronetcy. Janet, his da. and h., m. in 1633, Adam French, of Thorndikes.

(b) See page 403, note "a."

(c) No such grant appears in Banks's Lists.

(d) Query if legitimate. Her father's marriage is ignored in Wood's Douglas Peerage [S.].

(e) Of his two surviving daughters and coheirs by his second wife, (1) Elizabeth, b. 1622, m. before 1653, as his 1st wife, Sir Richard Everard, 2d Baronet [1629], and d. before 1676; (2) Frances, b. 1626, m. firstly, about 1654, William Glanville, of Broad Hinton, Wilts (who d. 11 Oct. 1680, aged 78), and secondly, John Stone, of Baldwin Brightwell, Oxon, who d. 30 Oct. 1704, aged 78. She d. 6 March 1714/5, aged 89, and was bur. at Broad Hinton. There was a son, Charles, bap. 19 Dec. 1624, and bur. 19 Feb. 1630.

(f) The assumption or non-assumption of this Baronetcy, after the death of the grantee, is, in all cases, given on the sole authority of Sir G. D. Gibb's work [see note "b" above]. It is to be observed, however, that the proceedings taken to establish the right to the dignity at the court of Lyon King of Arms in 1868 were unsuccessful. In a letter dated 27 May 1867, signed "George Duncan Gibb, Bart.," that gentleman writes to R. R. Stodart, the then Lyon Clerk Depute, "I have established my claim to the Baronetcy as the nearest lawful heir male whatsoever and on 30 April by the advice of my Council, including the

III. 1703. JOHN GIBB, of Dairsie aforesaid, s. and h.; possibly, for some short period, assumed the Baronetcy(?). He m. (—). He d. near Dairsie 1734.

IV. 1734. THOMAS GIBB, s. and h., suc. his father in 1734, but did not assume the Baronetcy.(a) He, being then of Wickham, in England, m. 4 Oct. 1740, at Leven, Euphemia, da. of James BRYDIE, of Scoome, co. Fife. He d. in London, 1777 or 1778. His widow d. there 1782.

V. 1777? BENAIAH GIBB, of Montreal, in Canada, 1st surv. s. and h., b. 1756; emigrated to Montreal, 27 May 1774; suc. his father in 1777 or 1778, but did not assume the Baronetcy.(a) He was a "Knight of Portugal." He m. firstly, in or before 1793, Catharine, 4th da. of Moses CAMPBELL, 42d Highlanders, by Elizabeth COOMBS, of Albany, in North America. She d. Jan. 1804. He m. secondly, Eleanor Leech, da. of Abraham Leech PASTORIUS. She d. Dec. 1821. He d. at Montreal 18 March 1826, aged 70.

VI. 1826. THOMAS GIBB, s. and h. by 1st wife, b. Aug. 1793; a Captain in the Army; suc. his father 18 March 1826, but did not assume the Baronetcy.(a) He m. (his 2d cousin) Magdalen, da. of James Ellice CAMPBELL, of Hochelaga, in Canada, by Elizabeth, da. of Capt. Joseph THURBER. He d. of cholera, 7 Aug. 1832, aged 39. His widow, who was b. July 1799, d. March 1845.

VII. 1832, or 1867, to 1876. SIR GEORGE DUNCAN GIBB, Baronet(a) [S. 1634], s. and h., b. 25 Dec. 1821, at Montreal; suc. his father 7 Aug. 1832, but did not assume the Baronetcy(?) till thirty-five years later; was ed. at MacGill College; M.D. there 1846; L.R.C.S., Dublin, 1848; practised as a Physician at Montreal, 1849-53; and was President of the Pathological Society there, 1853; settled in London, 1853; M.R.C.P., London, 1859, and Assistant Physician to Westminster Hospital. On 30 April 1867 he assumed the Baronetcy(a), and in June 1874 (in a roll pedigree of the Gibb family, compiled by himself) he styles himself "7th Baronet, of Solicitor Gen., Sir J. B. Karslake, I assumed the title, a record of which with my genealogy is recorded in the Court of Chancery, London. I shall be obliged if you will kindly inform me what steps must be taken to record my succession as the 3d Baronet in the Lyon office. The last Baronet died 1703." It must be observed, however, that the writer does not say where this claim was "established." The Sheriff of the county where the grantee was domiciled, or the Sheriff Court of Chancery at Edinburgh, were the two processes substituted by the Act 10 and 11 Vict. (1847-48) for the old "brieve," with its attendant "retour" by a jury. See N. & Q., 3d S., vol. xii (passim), and 4th S., vol. i, p. 37, where Sir Duncan's "agent" mentions the quantity of "the evidence on which Sir Duncan relies" as "filling several volumes," but says nothing as to the quality thereof. In a subsequent letter, dat. 5 Dec. 1867, Sir Duncan writes "My petition for service in the Sheriff's Court is in abeyance" owing to "the destruction of a large part of the ancient borough records of Linlithgow." He adds also "with regard to the 2d Baronet, Sir John Gibb, my direct ancestor, no proof from the public records has been found that the title was recognised by the Crown. It was therefore left out in my petition for service. He assumed the title and abandoned it when he got into trouble."

Perth; and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 5 Jan. 1635[e], the patent however, not being entered in the Great Seal Register [S.], with probably (at that date) rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, of which he never had seizin[a]. He m. Margaret, 1st da. of William HAMILTON, of Udston, by Margaret, da. of (—) HAMILTON, of Longhermiston. He m. secondly Jean HAMILTON, spinster, heiress of Parkhead. [a] The "last Gibb of Caribber" had, however, apparently died before 1650. See p. 404, note "a."

[b] In Foster's Baronetage for 1883, this Baronetcy is (in the "Chaos" of that work) assigned to the eldest s. and h. of Sir G. D. Gibb, the late holder, viz: "SIR JAMES CAMPBELL GIBB, formerly in the Crown lands department, Canada, and late Capt. Federal army, U.S.," of whom however no further particulars are known.

dormant, or extinct, 11 Feb. 1810.

I. 1635. JOHN GASCOIGNE, of Barnbow, Lasingcroft and Parlington, co. He entered his pedigree in the Heralds' Visitation of Yorkshire, 1666, being then aged 70. He was tried for high treason, but acquitted 24 Jan. 1679/80, (being then in his 85th year) by the court of King's Bench. (a) Laing's List only, where the date "8 June" is put within brackets.

(b) This appears to be the first of a series of English gentry, not connected with Scotland, on whom a Baronetcy of that kingdom was conferred. In Wotton's Baronetage, 1741, is "an account of such Nova Scotia Baronets as are of English families and resident in England: numbered according, to their order as Nova Scotia Baronets." These are as follow:—"71, Gascoigne, of Barnbow, Yorkshire, [1635]; 73, Pilkington, of Stainley, Yorkshire, 1635; 87, Slingsby, of Scriven, Yorkshire, [1638]; 91, Pickering, of Titchmarsh, Northamptonshire, [1638]; 92, Longueville, of Wolverton, Buckinghamshire, 1638; 95, Musgrave, of Hayton Castle, Cumberland, 1638; 96, Meredith, of Ashley Castle, Cheshire, 1639." To these may be added (1) Norton, of Cheston, co. Suffolk, 1635; (2) Widdrington, of Cairtington, co. Northumberland, 1635; (3) Bolles, of Osberton, Notts, 1635; (4) Rayney, of Wrotham, co. Kent, 1635; (5) Fortescue, of Salden, Bucks, 1635; (6) Moir, or More, of Longford, Notts, 1636; (7) Curzon, of Kedleston, co. Derby, 1636; and (8) Piers, of Stonepit, in Sele, co. Kent, 1638. The grantee of the Baronetcy [S.], of Thomson, cr. 20 Feb. 1635/6, is erroneously said, in Walkley's List, to have been "English." Certain Irish Gentry, not apparently in any way connected with Scotland, were likewise so honoured, as, for instance, the two Baronetcies granted in 1630 to the name of Crosby; in 1634, the Baronetcy of Bingham; in 1636, that of Browne of the Neale; also the three granted to the name of Bourke, the one to Macarthy, etc.

[d] The funeral entry in Ulster's Office of "Lady Hay," who d. 30 March and was bur. 2 April 1677 in St. Bride's Church, London, may refer to her, but as it is added that "she was married to Sir James Hay, Baronet of Scotland," it looks as if her husband was then living, in which case she might be a 1st wife of Sir James, the 3d Baronet, who a year after this date m. Grace Clavering. The arms entered for her are those of LAXTON, impaled with HAY. [Ex inform. G. D. Burtchaell, Office of Arms, Ireland.]

[b] Laing's List, but not in Milne's List. In Walkley's List the 95th and last creation therein given is "Sir William [sic] Witherington, English," but as there is no Sir Edward Widdrington in that List, the christian name of William is probably a mistake.

[c] See p. 408, note "d" under "Norton."

[d] Banks's Lists, in which however "Sir Edward" is [incorrectly] said to have been "afterwards Lord Widdrington."

[f] This is the only case of a Baronetcy having been conferred on a female, or even enjoyed suo jure, by one. The rank of the widow of a Baronet has occasionally been conferred, as was the case in the Baronetcy of Speelman, 9 Sep. 1686, where the mother of the grantee was so honoured.

[g] In Walkley's List the grantee is described as "Dame Mary Bolles, of Ardworth, English." She is sometimes called "of Cudworth, co. York," the residence of her 1st husband.

[h] J. C. Brooke (Somerset Herald, 1778-94), states in his Yorkshire collections ("I.C.B. vol. 1, p. 408, Coll. of Arms) that she purchased her title. He adds that there is a tradition, that, after her death "she haunted her house at Heath and parts adjacent till such time as she was conjured into a certain deep place in the river Calder, near that town [i.e. Wakefield], called from thence Lady Bolles's Pit."

cr. 21 June 1636;[a]

afterwards, since 1789, BARONS KILMAINE [I.]

I. 1636. JOHN BROWNE, of the Neale, near Ballinrobe, co. Mayo,[b] s. and h. ap. of Josias BROWNE, of the same, by Joan, da. of Edward BIRMINGHAM, of Carrick, co. Kildare, was cr. a Baronet [S.], 21 June 1636,[a] the patent not being recorded in the Registrum Preceptorum Cartarum pro Baronettis Noræ Scotiæ, and the limitation being unknown, but, probably (at that date), being to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia,[c] but no record of such grant, nor any seizin of such lands is known.[d] Possibly owing to this cause it may have been considered that the grant of the Baronetcy was not valid,[e] as he did not assume the title, neither did any of his descendants, till about the year 1762. He suc. his father, in Dec. 1634 (who was bur. at Kilmaine, aged 55); was excepted from pardon for life and estate by Ordinance, 1652, but restored to his estate at the Restoration. He m., in 1626, Mary, da. of Sir Dominick BROWNE, of Carra Browne, co. Galway and Castle Margarett, co. Mayo, by Anastacia, da. of James DARCY. He d. Whitsunday 1670, and was bur. in Ross Abbey, co. Galway. Funeral certif.

II. 1670. GEORGE BROWNE, of the Neale aforesaid, 1st s. and h.;[f] suc. his father in 1670, but never assumed the Baronetcy. He, in Nov. 1684, had a regrant of the Neale; was Sheriff of co. Mayo, 1690; had pardon for himself and son in June 1693, reciting that he himself had served as Sheriff, and that neither had ever been indicted or outlawed. He m. Alicia, only da. of Sir Henry BINGHAM, 1st Baronet [S. 1634] of Castlebar, co. Mayo, by Catherine, da. of John BYRNE, of Ballinclough. He d. May 1698. His wife survived him.

III. 1698. JOHN BROWNE, of the Neale aforesaid, s and h. He was sometime Captain in the Irish Army of James II, and was taken prisoner, 6 May 1689, at the siege of Derry. He suc. his father in May 1698, but never assumed the Baronetcy. He m. firstly (settl. 27 and 28 May 1680), Anne, 1st da. of George (HAMILTON), 3d BARON STRABANE [I.], by Elizabeth, da. of Christopher FAGAN. She d. s.p. 14 and was bur. 17 Aug. 1680, "in the country." Funeral certif. He m. secondly, Juliana, 3d da. of Sir Patrick BELLEW, 1st Baronet [I. 1688] of Barmeath, by Elizabeth, 4th da. of Sir Richard BARNEWALL, 2d Baronet [I. 1622]. His will dat. 11 Sep. 1700, pr. 21 Nov. 1712 in the Prerog. Court [I.]. The will of his widow dat. 15 Nov. 1728, pr. there 10 May 1729.

(a) This creation is not in Milne's, Walkley's or Ulster's Lists, but it is in that of Laing, under the date of 17 [sic] June 1636, and is there stated to be given "on the authority of former Lists." There is a letter, dated 19 Dec. 1776, from the then Baronet, Sir John Browne, to Lord Charlemont, in which he writes "The date of my patent is June 21 1632 [sic], so I shall be pretty forward on the bench of Baronets, if any there be." See, however, the correct date, 21 June 1636, in the copy of the patent in Lodge's Irish Peerage, [1789], vol. iii, p. 271.

(b) See p. 407, note "b," circa finem, sub. Gascoigne.

(c) About this date "the French, by the construction of the treaty of St. Germain [made 29 March 1632] between them and King Charles, entered upon Nova Scotia as included therein" [Banks's Baronia Anglica Concentrata, vol. ii, p. 218, and app. 45]. After the year 1637 no seizin took place of lands granted in Nova Scotia, save one in Nov. 1640, viz., that of "Sir Robert Campbell."

(d) No mention of such occurs in Banks's Lists.

(e) Such, however, was not the case with the kindred family of Bingham, who were similarly situated, and who certainly assumed the Baronetcy [S.] granted to them.

(f) His next br., John Browne, Col. in the Irish Army of James II, and one of the capitulators of Limerick, was grandfather of John Browne, cr. Baron Monteagle [I.], 1760; Viscount Westport [I.], 1768; and Earl of Altamont [I.], 1771, whose grandson, the 3d Earl, was cr. Marquess of Sligo [I.] in 1800.

IV. 1712? GEORGE BROWNE, of the Neale aforesaid, s. and h., suc. his father about 1712, but never assumed the Baronetcy; was M.P. [I.] for Castlebar, 1713-14. He m., in 1709, his cousin Bridget, da. of Edward (BERMINGHAM), LORD ATHENRY [I.], by his 2d wife, Bridget, da. of Col. John BROWNE, of Westport, co. Sligo, 2d s. of the 1st Baronet. He d. s.p. 8 May 1737, at the Neale. Will dat. 6 April 1737, pr. 4 March 1737/8 at the Prerog. Court [I.]. His widow d. 25 Sep. 1747.

V. 1737. JOHN BROWNE, of the Neale aforesaid, and formerly of Rahins, co. Mayo, br. and h.; Sheriff of co. Mayo, 1731; suc. his brother 8 May 1737, but never assumed the Baronetcy; was M.P. [I.] for Castlebar (vice Henry Bingham) from, probably, about 1740 to 1760. He m. firstly, 30 June 1722, Margaret, 1st da. and coheir of Henry DODWELL, of Athlone, by his 2d wife Catharine, da. of Arthur ORMSBY, of Ballyvenose, co. Limerick. She d. 23 April 1739, and was bur. in Kildare cathedral. Admon. 11 June 1741, in Prerog. Court [I.] He m. secondly, Catherine, widow of Denis DALY, of Carrownakelly, da. of Sir Walter BLAKE, 6th Baronet [I. 1622], of Menlo, by his 2d wife, Agnes, da. of John BLAKE. He d. 2 Oct. 1762. His 2d wife, by whom he had no issue, survived him.

VI. 1762. SIR GEORGE BROWNE, Baronet [S. 1636], of the Neale aforesaid, 1st s. and h. by 1st wife, b. in or before 1725; Sheriff of co. Mayo, 1747; suc. his father 2 Oct. 1762, and assumed the Baronetcy at that date, being the first of his family who did so. He m. Oct. 1761, Anastacia, 1st da. of Denis DALY, of Raford, co. Galway, by Anne, da. of Michael (DE BURGH), EARL OF CLANRICARDE [I.] He d. s.p. 9 Sep. 1765.

VII. 1765. SIR JOHN BROWNE, Baronet [S. 1636], of the Neale aforesaid, br. of the whole blood and h; b. 20 May 1726; suc. to the Baronetcy, 9 Sep. 1765, and registered his pedigree in Ulster's office, Ireland, as such 28 Feb. 1777, and in the Lyon office, Scotland, 7 April 1777; was M.P. [I.], for Newtown, 1777-83, and for Carlow, 1783-89; Sheriff of. co. Mayo, 1778 and 1788; purchased the estate of Gaulston, co. Westmeath. Chester, was b. about 1610; suc. his father about 1632, and was cr. a Baronet [S.], 18 June 1636[b], the patent not being in the Great Seal Register [S.], with, it is supposed, rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000

[b] Laing's List. In the copy of Milne's List in Foster's Baronetage for 1883, the date is given as 18 Feb. 1636, but it is there marked as being in Laing's List only, where the date is 18 June 1636.

SINCLAIR:

afterwards, since 1899, SINCLAIR-LOCKHART;

cr. 18 June 1636.[c]

I. 1636. JOHN SINCLAIR, of Stevenston, co. Haddington, s. and h. of George SINCLAIR[d] (who d. about 1670), having acquired a considerable fortune as a merchant at Edinburgh, purchased in 1624 the Barony of Stevenston and lands at Wester Pencaithland, Easter Winsheills, etc., in the counties of Edinburgh, Haddington, and Berwick, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] 18 June 1636, the patent, not, however, being recorded in the Great Seal Register [S.] with rem. to heirs male whatsoever, and with a grant of, presumably, 16,000 acres in Nova Scotia, called the Barony of Stevenston and Murkle, of which he had seizin in July 1636.[a] He m. Margaret, da. of (—) MACMATH, probably of Newbyres, but sometimes called a da. of Sir John MACMATH, "of that ilk." He d. 1648/9.

II. 1649. SIR JOHN SINCLAIR, Baronet [S. 1636], of Stevenston aforesaid, grandson and h., being 1st s. and h. of John SINCLAIR, by Isabel, da. of Robert (BOYD), 6th LORD BOYD [S.], which John was only s. and h. ap. of the 1st Baronet, bnt d. v.p. in 1643. He was b. 26 July 1642, and suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his grandfather, to whom he was served heir 24 May 1650. He d. unm. before July 1652.

III. 1652. Haddington, 1689; M.P. [S.] for Haddington Constabulary, 1689-1702; P.C. and a Lord of the Exchequer [S.] 1690; nominated a Lord of Session [S.], but declined to act; P.C. [S.] again, 1703. He m. firstly, 10 Sep. 1663, at the Chapel of Holyrood, Helen, da. of John (LINDSAY), EARL OF CRAWFORD [S.], by Margaret, da. of James (HAMILTON), 2d MARQUESS OF HAMILTON [S.] He m. secondly, Anne, widow of Sir Daniel CARMICHAEL, of Hyndford, da. of Sir William SCOTT, of Ardross. He d. July 1713.

(a) Banks's Lists.

(b) John Moore of Kirtlington, Notts, aged 47 in the Visit. of 1662, was his next br. and h. male, but appears never to have assumed the Baronetcy.

(c) Laing's List; as also, but with the Christian name given (erroneously) as "James," in Milne's List.

(d) It seems hardly likely that the family are descended, as is often alleged, in the male line from the old race of Sinclair of Longformacus, and the arms (a saltire charged with bezants) assigned to them in 1672, were thought by R. R. Stodart (Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86), to indicate an unknown origin. In the funeral escutcheon in 1713 of the 3d Baronet, his grandfather the 1st Baronet, is, however, called a son of Sir Matthew Sinclair, of Longformacus, but on the other hand, in that of the 4th Baronet in 1726, it is the mother (not father) of the 1st Baronet who is said to be of the family of Longformacus. Father Hay, a well-known genealogist (b. about 1650) says that the grandfather of the 1st Baronet was "a famous brewer of Leith," where "Sinclair's Society is yet extant," and that upon him the song of the "Clouting of the Caldron" was written. [Ex inform. Sir J. Balfour Paul, Lyon King of Arms.]

IV. 1713. Sir John Sinclair, Baronet [S. 1636], of Stevenson aforesaid, s. and h., by 1st wife; M.P. [S.] for Lanarkshire, 1702-07, and an opposer of the Scotch Union; suc. to the Baronetcy, July 1713; was a staunch supporter of the Hanoverian Succession. He m. in 1698, Martha, widow of Cromwell Lockhart, of Lee, co. Lanark, da. and eventually sole heir (on the death of her brother) of Sir John Lockhart, of Castlehill, in that county, a Lord of Session [S.], under the title of Lord Castlehill, He d. 1726. His widow d. at Stevenson, 15 May 1752.

V. 1726. Sir Robert Sinclair, Baronet [S. 1636], of Stevenson aforesaid, 1st s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1726. He m. Sep. 1733, Isabella, only da. of da. of James Kerr, Col. 3rd Foot Guards. He d. 25 Oct. 1754.

VI. 1754. Sir John Sinclair, Baronet [S. 1636], of Stevenson, aforesaid, 1st s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy, 25 Oct. 1754. He, on the death, 9 Dec. 1765, of Alexander (Sinclair), Earl of Caithness [S.], suc. to the estate of Murchill or Murkley, co. Caithness, and other lands, under a deed executed in 1761 by that Earl. He d. 4 Aug. 1795, at Fort St. George. His widow m., 25 Nov. 1805, at Kimbolton Castle, Charles Fysche Palmer, of Luckley Park, Berks, who d. Jan. 1843. She, who, on 28 May 1836, became coheir to her brother George, 5th Duke of Gordon [S.], d. 1 June 1847, in Chapel street, Grosvenor place, aged 75.

VIII. 1795. [a] Banks's Lists, it being the last entry therein of the seizins, save the somewhat unintelligble one, in Nov. 1640, of "Sir Robert Campbell, of one part of Nova Scotia." who, possibly, may have been the successor of a grantee, and not a grantee himself.

[b] See Lamont's Diary as to this match.

[c] The widow of the 2d Baronet is, probably, the "Lady Greenhead" who was fined 16,000 Scots, 4 Sep. 1684, for her adherence to the Covenant, but possibly the reference is to Jean, wife of the 3d Baronet. This "Jean Cockburn" was not improbably a daughter of Sir James Cockburn, of Ryslaw, by his 2d wife, Jean, daughter of Andrew Kerr, of Lintoun.

[d] His two sisters, both of whom d. unm., were served heirs portioners general to their cousin, the 7th Baronet, 26 Jan. 1779, but seem to have inherited no landed property. Agnes, the survivor, d. 1 March 1785, at a great age.

VII. 1755, to 1776. Sir Robert Kerr, Baronet [S. 1637], only br. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy, but to none of the estates, 8 Dec. 1755. He was served heir general to Gilbert Kerr, his maternal grandfather, 27 Sep. 1768. He resided in the town of Kelso. He d. s.p. 16 Aug. 1776, when the male issue of the grantee became extinct, and when the Baronetcy (no one having proved any descent in the male line from a common ancestor of the grantee) became (rightfully) dormant.

VIII. 1776. Sir William Carr, Baronet[a] [S. 1637], of Etall, co. Northumberland, calling himself cousin and h. male, but whose pedigree as such is unknown.[b] He was s. of (—) by (—). He, who was b. about 1705,[c] assumed the Baronetcy 16 April 1776. He m. in or before 1742 (—). He d. s.p.m.[d] 11 April 1777. Will dat. 19 Oct. 1776 to 20 Jan. 1777.

IX. 1777, to 1791. Sir Robert Carr, Baronet[a] [S. 1637], br. and h. male, b. about 1707; was sometime a Mercer on Ludgate Hill, London, and was subsequently of Hampton, co. Midx.; suc. to the Baronetcy[a] but not to the family estates, 11 April 1777. He m. firstly, Grace, da. of Thomas Bigge, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, by Elizabeth, da. of Edward Hindmarsh. He m. secondly, Mary, da. of (—) Little. He d. s.p.m.[e] 6 March 1791, in his 85th year, and was bur. at Hampton aforesaid. M.I. Will pr. March 1790. After his death the assumption of this Baronetcy ceased. His widow d. 7 Jan. 1823, and was bur. at Dawlish, Devon. M.I.

(a) According to the assumption of the Baronetcy in 1776.

(b) He was descended from Col. Sir Robert Carr, of Etal aforesaid (presumably of Scottish descent), who obtained in 1647 two warrants of Baronetcies, of which, owing to the Civil War, he was unable to make any use. On 8 Aug. 1661, however, Charles II, on his petition, allowed their renewal, provided "he nominate two meete persons to His Majestie capable for their extraction and estates of the dignity and honour of a Knight Baronett." Whether he ever did nominate anyone is unknown, but he "certainly seems not to have thought of appropriating one of the titles at his disposal to himself as he always styles himself, and was styled by others, Knight." [See R. R. Stodart's "Notes on the traffic in Baronetcies," in The Genealogist, O.S., vol. iii, pp. 65-68.] One of the six yr. brothers of the 1st Baronet is there "said" to have been "ancestor of the Carrs of Etall" in Stodart's article on the family, as on p. 427, note "c."

(c) As to this assumption he shewed "a scruplelousness worthy of all praise," inasmuch as though in his will, dat. 19 Oct. 1776, he designs himself "Sir William Carr, of Etal, Baronet," he explains in a codicil of 20 Jan. following, as under:— "I did apprehend I was warranted in taking the title of Baronet, but as I do not find that I can, by indisputable evidence, satisfie myself that I have undoubted right to, and [sic] therefore I have declined that title." [See p. 427, note "c."]

(d) Of his two daughters and coheirs, Isabel, the eldest (b. 31 March 1742), and the only one that left issue (inheritors of the estate of Etall), m. 3 Aug. 1762, at Ford, co. Northumberland, James (Hay, formerly Boyd), Earl of Erroll [S.], and d. 3 Nov. 1808.

(e) Of his two daughters and coheirs, Elizabeth, only child of the 1st wife, m. in March 1754, Sir Richard Glyn, 1st Baronet [1759], of Ewell.

Memorandum.—In and after 1638 no seizin of any land in Nova Scotia is recorded, though, apparently, five Baronets (Slingsby, Piers, Musgrave, Longueville, and Meredith, who were created from March 1637/8 to Jan. 1638/9) had grants of land there.[a] After Jan. 1638/9, however, no such grants seem to have been made.

SLINGSBY:

cr. 2 March 1637/8;[b]

dormant since 4 Feb. 1869.

I. 1638. HENRY SLINGSBY, of Scriven, near Knaresborough, co. York, 2d but 1st surv. s. and h. of Sir Henry SLINGSBY, of Scriven aforesaid, and of the Red House, near Marston Moor, in that county (d. 17 Dec. 1634, aged 74), by Frances, da. of William VAVASOUR, of Weston, co. York, was b. 14 Jan. 1601/2; sometime (1619-21) of Queen's Coll., Cambridge, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] by patent dat. at Stirling, 2 March 1637/8,[b] not, however, recorded in the Great Seal Register [S.] with rem. to "heirs male," and with presumably a grant of land in Nova Scotia, of which, however, he appears to have never had seizin.[a] He had shortly before entertained the King at Red House, in whose service he was a Colonel, and to whose cause he stedfastly adhered. He was M.P. or Knaresborough, 1625, April to May 1640, and again 1640 (Long Parliament), till disabled in Dec. 1642, and was one of the fifty-nine members who opposed the attainder of the Earl of Strafford. He refused to compound, and in 1651 his estate was ordered to be sold. In 1655, being implicated in a Royalist rising, he was imprisoned at Hull. He m. 7 July 1631, at Kensington, Barbara, 1st da. of Thomas (BELASYSE), 1st VISCOUNT FANCONBERG, by Barbara, da. of Sir Henry CHOLMLEY, of Roxby, co. York. She, who was bap. 11 Oct. 1609, at Coxwold, in that county, d. in London, 31 Dec. 1641, and was bur. at St. Martin's in the Fields. He, having entered into a scheme for the landing of Charles II. at Hull, was executed by the then Government, 8 June 1658, on Tower Hill, being, however, bur. with his ancestors, at Knaresborough.[c]

II. 1658. SIR THOMAS SLINGSBY, Baronet [S. 1638], of Scriven and Red House aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. 15 June 1636; suc. to the Baronetcy, 8 June 1658. Sheriff of Yorkshire, 1660-61; Governor of Scarborough Castle, 1670; M.P. for co. York, Nov. 1670 to 1678; for Knaresborough (three Parls.), 1679-81; for Scarborough, 1685-87. He d. at St. Martin's in the Fields, and was bur. 1 March 1687/8, at Knaresborough. Admon. 10 April 1688 and 26 March 1692. Admon. at York 15 June 1692.

III. 1688. SIR HENRY SLINGSBY, Baronet [S. 1638], of Scriven and Red House aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. about 1660, being aged 4 years and 6 months at the Visit. of Yorkshire, 23 March 1665; was M.P. for Knaresborough 1685-87, and 1690 till void same year; suc. to the Baronetcy in Feb. 1687/8. He d. unm. and was bur. 15 Sep. 1691, at Knaresborough. Admon. 19 March 1691/2.

(a) Banks's Lists. The creations of Slingsby, Piers, Musgrave, Longueville, and Meredith are the last in the list of those Baronets [S.], who are said to have "obtained charters of land in Nova Scotia, which do not appear to have been followed by seisins."

(b) Laing's List, but not in that of Milne.

(c) His diary is a most valuable account of the Civil War, 1638-1648, as far as it concerned Yorkshire.

IV. 1691. Sir Thomas Slingsby, Baronet [S. 1638], of Scriven and Red House aforesaid, br. and h., b. probably about 1668; suc. to the Baronetcy in Sep. 1691. VII. 1765. Sir Savile Slingsby, Baronet [S. 1638], of Scriven and Red House aforesaid, br. and h., b. about 1698; suc. to the Baronetcy, 18 Jan. 1765. He d. unm. Nov. 1780, aged 82. Will pr. Dec. 1780.

V. 1749? Sir Gilbert Pickering, Baronet[c]) [S. 1638], assumed the Baronetcy, presumably in 1749 but certainly before Oct. 1762, as heir male of the grantee. He is said[d]) to have been s. of John Pickering, which John is said[d]) to have been s. of Gilbert Pickering (by Elizabeth Pinchon, his wife), the 2d s. of the 1st Baronet.[e]) It is, however, much more likely that the 5th Baronet[c]) was identical with the Gilbert Pickering, b. after 1681 and before 1697, when he was

(e) The Visitation of Northamptonshire in 1681 sets out the male issue of the 1st Baronet, moreover a very full account of such of his descendants as were living 30 March 1697, is given in the will of that date (proved 21 Oct. 1699) of his brother, Edward Pickering. From these and other sources it can be gathered that of the six younger sons of the 1st Baronet who survived infancy (1), Gilbert, m. 30 Sep. 1666, at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch (he 21 and she 26, Lic. Vic. Gen.),

Elizabeth Pinchon, widow, both of whom were living in 1681, with a da., Elizabeth, aged 12. Gilbert, however, had subsequently a son, Gilbert, living 1697, who presumably is the Gilbert who, 1749-62, assumed the Baronetcy. (2), Sydney, b. about 1647, m. (Lic. Vic. Gen., 19 Nov. 1673) his cousin, Honor Pickering, of Whaddon. He had a son, Sydney, living 1697. (3), Oliver, d. unm. before 1681. He himself was bur. at Woburn, 1 April 1694. (5), Francis, a merchant of Oporto, unm. 1681, but living 1697 with two sons, Francis and Edward. (6), Theophilus Pickering, D.D., b. at Tichmarsh, who d. unm. 20 March 1710, aged 48. M.I. there. It will thus be seen that there is no lack of persons who themselves or whose issue male were in remainder to this Baronetcy. In Burke's Commoners (edit. 1837, vol. ii, p. 194) is a pedigree of Pickering, of Clapham, Surrey, deducing that family in the male line from Edward Pickering, said to be a son of Gilbert, the 2d s. of the 1st Baronet, and to have had for a mother Mary, da. of John Creed, of Tichmarsh. The existence of such Mary, however, is doubtful (see M.I. to John Creed in Bridges's Northamptonshire, vol. ii, p. 386), and that of such Edward as son of the said Gilbert, is still more so. If the pedigree there given could be established the Baronetcy of Pickering would presumably be in that family.

[b] An article by "Y. S. M." in Notes and Queries [4th S., vi, p. 47] gives many particulars as to the Baronets of this race in Ireland, among others that of the death of "the Lady of Sir Gilbert Pickering," 16 Oct. 1762, a description which implies that her husband was then living.

(b) The printed pedigrees and references to this family are very numerous (see N. & Q., 8th S., iv, 215), the fullest are those in Baker's Northamptonshire, vol. i, p. 27, vol. ii, p. 131, and in the Her. & Gen., vol. vi, pp. 49-53.

(c) In Ormerod's Cheshire, under "Henbury," is a well worked up pedigree of this family, which is the last of the "Nova Scotia Baronets of English families and resident in England" (viz. Gascoigne, Pilkington, Slingsby, Pickering, Longueville, Musgrave and Meredith) of which an account is given in Wotton's Baronetage (1741) and in that of Kimber (1771).

He m. secondly, Elizabeth, widow of Woolley LEIGH, of Addington and Thorpe, co. Surrey (d. 23 Dec. 1644), sister of Sir Ralph HARE, 1st Baronet [1641], da. of Sir John HARE, of Stow Bardolph, co. II. 1675. SIR JOHN LOWTHER, Baronet [S. 1638 ?], of Lowther aforesaid, grandson and h., being s. and h. of Col. John LOWTHER, of Hackthorpe and Mauds Meaburn, by his 1st wife, Elizabeth (m. in or before 1655), da. and [1650] coheir of Sir Henry BELLINGHAM, 1st Baronet [1620] of Hilsington, co. Westmorland, which John (who was M.P. for Appleby, 1661, till his death in or shortly before March 1667/8), d. v.p. He was b. 25 April 1655, at Hackthorpe Hall, in Lowther ; was ed. at Kendal and Jedburgh ; matric. at Oxford (Queen's Coll.), 12 Nov. 1670 ; suc. to the Baronetcy, on the death of his grandfather, 30 Nov. 1675 ; Barrister (Inner Temple), 1677 ; M.P. for Westmorland (seven Parls.), 1677-96, and was a zealous promoter of the Revolution ; P.C., 19 Feb. 1688/9 ; Vice Chamberlain of the Household, 1689-90 ; L. } See fuller particulars in Peerage.

(a) The limitation is not known. The creation is not in Milne's or Laing's List, but is in that of Walkley, being among the last entries therein. That most useful list, published in 1642, and containing, in all, ninety-five Baronetcies [S.], has (with this article) been now exhausted, though (no dates being therein given) the order of it has not in this work been strictly followed, the last ten entries therein being Slingsby, Cowper, Sinclair, Lowther, Pickering, Longueville, Piers, Musgrave, and Witherington.

(b) The second son, Christopher Lowther, of Whitehaven, was cr. a Baronet [E.] 11 June 1642, a dignity which became extinct 2 Jan. 1755.

V. 1751. SIR JAMES LOWTHER, Baronet [S. 1638?], of Lowther aforesaid, cousin and h. male, being 2d but 1st surv. s. and h. of Robert LOWTHER, of Mauds Meaburn, co. Westmorland, Gov. of Barbadoes, by Catharine, da. of Sir Joseph PENNINGTON, 2d Baronet [1676], of Muncaster, and Margaret his wife, sister to Henry (LOWTHER), 3d Viscount LONSDALE abovenamed, which Robert (who d. Sep. 1745, aged 63) was s. and h. of Richard LOWTHER, of Mauds Meaburn aforesaid (b. 1638), who was 2d surv. s. of the 1st Baronet. He was b. 5 Aug. and bap. 6 Sep. 1736, at St. George's Bloomsbury; suc. to the Baronetcy, 12 March 1750/1, on the death of his 2d cousin and great uncle, Henry, Viscount LONSDALE, abovenamed, whose vast estates he also inherited, as subsequently, 2 Jan. 1755, he did the valuable estate of Whitehaven and about £2,000,000 on the death of his cousin, Sir James LOWTHER, 4th and last Baronet [1642], of Whitehaven. He was ed. at Cambridge; was M.P. for Cumberland, 1757-61; for Westmorland, 1761-63; for Cumberland (again), 1763-68; for Cockermouth, 1769-74; and for Cumberland (the 3d term), 1774-84. He m. 7 Sep. 1761, at St. Geo. Han. sq., Mary, 1st da. of John (STUART), 3d EARL OF BUTE [S.], by Mary, da. of Edward WORTLEY-MONTAGU. She, who was b. 20 Jan. 1738, was living when he was cr., 24 May 1784, EARL OF LONSDALE, etc. He was subsequently cr., 26 Oct. 1797, VISCOUNT LOWTHER OF WHITEHAVEN, with a spec. rem. in favour of his distant kinsman, Sir William LOWTHER, of Swillington. In these peerages this Baronetcy then merged till on his death s.p., 24 May 1806, aged 65, the peerage of 1797 devolved according to the spec. remainder, but that of 1784 became extinct, and the issue male of the grantee of this Baronetcy having failed, the Baronetcy became either extinct or dormant.

MACCARTY:

cr. about 1638; [a]

afterwards, 1640-91, VISCOUNTS MUSKERRY [I.]; and subsequently, 1658-91, EARLS of CLANCARTY [I.]; forfeited 11 May 1691.

I. 1638? DONOGH MACCARTY, 2d but 1st surv. s. and h. ap. of Cormac Oge (MACCARTY), 1st VISCOUNT MUSKERRY [I.], by his 1st wife, Margaret, da. of Donogh (O'BRIEN), was b. 1594, was Knighted before 1634, being (as a Knight) M.P. [I.] for co. Cork 1634-35 and 1639-40, and was cr. a Baronet [S.] probably about 1638,[a] but there is no record thereof in the Great Seal Register [S.], and the limitation is unknown; suc. his father, 20 Feb. 1640, as VISCOUNT MUSKERRY [I.], and was cr. 27 Nov. 1658, EARL OF CLANCARTY [I.], in which peerages this Baronetcy consequently merged, till it and the peerage honours became forfeited, 11 May 1691, on the attainder of the 4th Earl. See Peerage.

WALLACE:

cr. about 1638[b];

resigned 1659.

I. 1638? to 1659. SIR HUGH WALLACE, of Craigie Wallace and Newton, both in co. Ayr, s. and h. of John WALLACE, of the same, by Margaret, da. of John (MAXWELL), LORD MAXWELL [S.], and at one time EARL OF MORTON [S.], was b. about 1600; suc. his father before July 1614; sold the office of Heritable Baillie of Kyle in 1626, for

[a] Milne's List, but without the date of creation; not, however, in the lists of Laing or Walkley, but in that of Ulster, shewing thereby the date of creation to be previous to 1643, the date of the death of its compiler, Thomas Preston, Ulster King of Arms, 1633-43.

[b] This creation is not in the List of Laing or Walkley, nor in that of Milne,

£10,000; is styled "Sir Hugh" in 1631, having possibly been, at or before that date, cr. a Baronet [S.], as certainly he was before 1642, and as he is styled in 1649 in certain pleadings before Parliament. He was taken prisoner, fighting in the Royal cause, 1645. He m. Hester, da. of John KER, of Littledean, co. Roxburgh. She was an Anabaptist, and was, in 1653, "dipped" by the English in the Leith. In 1649 he accused his two sons, Hugh[a] and William, of robbing and endeavouring to murder him. He accordingly disinherited his children in favour of his cousin, Thomas Wallace, and executed a resignation of the Baronetcy in his favour.[b] He was alive 1659, but d. before 8 March 1660.[c]

HOME, or HUME:

forfeited about 1716.

I. 1638? SIR DAVID[e] HOME, or HUME, of Wedderburn, only s. and h. of SIR George HOME, of the same, by Jean, da. of John HALDANE, of Gleneagles; suc. his father in Nov. 1616, being retoured heir special 10 April 1617, and was, presumably, cr. a Baronet [S.] apparently about 1638,[d] but there is no entry in the Great Seal Register [S.], and no particulars of the creation are known. He was M.P. [S.] for Berwickshire, 1639, 1640-41, 1645-46 and 1649-50, being, however, always styled "Knight." He m. Margaret, widow of Sir Mark KER, of Dolphinston, da. of Sir John HOME, of Coldingknows. He, with his eldest son, George, was slain fighting for the Royal cause, 3 Sep. 1650, at the battle of Dunbar.

II. 1650, to 1716? GEORGE HOME, or HUME, of Wedderburn aforesaid, grandson and h., being s. and h. of George HOME, or HUME, by Katharine (mar. lic. 16 Aug. 1635), da. of Alexander MORISON, of Preston Grange, a Lord of Session [S.] 1626-32, which George (who was M.P. [S.] for North Berwick, three Parls., 1639-45) was s. and h. of Sir David HOME abovenamed, and was slain with him 3 Sep. 1650, as above stated. He was b. 1641, and suc., presumably, to the Baronetcy, 3 Sep. 1650, but does not appear to have ever assumed the same. He m. Isobel, da. of Sir Francis LIDDELL, of Ravensworth. He d. about 1716, when the Baronetcy or the right thereto, devolved on George HOME,[f] his 1st s. and h., who had been convicted of high treason for taking part in the rising of 1715, and became consequently forfeited.

save that, under the patent, 8 March 1670, to Sir Thomas Wallace, it is there incidentally mentioned that "He seems to have a former patent disponed to him by the last Sir Hewgh Wallace, which is ratifyed, 8 March 1670, but maketh him not to take place conforme to date of the said patent." The name, of "Sir Hugh Wallace of Cragie Wallace" appears 7th in Ulster's List of Scotch Baronets, made before 1643.

(a) This Hugh mentions that, owing to his father's treatment, he had for a time become deranged and had fled with his wife to Ireland, where he was in such a state of poverty as to be unable to maintain his children. It is not known what became of him or of his brothers William and John.

(b) The creation of 1670, as it did not convey the precedence of this one (see p. 441, note "b") must be considered as a new one, and is accordingly dealt with under the date of 1670, being that of its grant.

(c) Much of the information in this article was supplied by R. R. Stodart, Lyon Clerk Depute (1863-86).

(d) See p. 441, note "a."

(e) He is, however, called "Sir James Home, of Wedderburn," in Ulster's List, apparently by mistake.

(f) This George d. at Wedderburn 1720, leaving issue. Some account of this family is in Wood's Douglas' Peerage [S.], vol. ii, pp. 175-176, under "Marchmont," but there is no mention therein of the grant or assumption of any Baronetcy.

HOME, or HUME:

cr. about 1638;[a]

extinct or dormant April 1747.

I. 1638? GEORGE HOME, or HUME, of North Berwick, in Scotland, s. and h. ap. of Sir John HOME, of North Berwick aforesaid (which estate he sold in 1633), and of Ardgorte, co. Fermanagh. M.P. [I.] for that county,[b] was cr. a Baronet [S.], apparently about 1638 (possibly, however, before 1633, the date of the sale of the North Berwick estate), but there is no entry of such creation in the Great Seal Register [S.], and no particulars of it are known. He suc. his father (who was bur. at St. Michan's, Dublin) 26 Sep. 1639, in whose inq. p. mortem, 23 March 1639/40, he is styled "Baronet" and to whom he was served heir, 10 Feb. 1642. He obtained in 1641 a grant of the manor of Tully, co. Fermanagh, and is consequently spoken of as being of Castle Tully. He m. Mary, 1st da. of Sir William MAYNARD, of Curriglasse, co. Cork, by Mary, da. of Samuel NEWCE, of Brickendbury, Serj.-at-arms of the province of Munster. He d. in Edinburgh intestate in or about 1657, before 15 June 1657. The will of his widow, dat. 30 Aug. 1699, pr. 12 July 1705 [I.].

II. 1657? SIR JOHN HUME, Baronet [S. 1638?], of Castle Hume, presumably the same as Castle Tully aforesaid, s. and h., suc. to the Baronetcy on the death of his father; was Sheriff of co Fermanagh 1662, and Governor thereof during the wars of 1689, and, being a zealous partizan of King William, was attainted in the Irish parl. of James II. He m. Sidney, yr. da. and coheir of James HAMILTON, of Manor Hamilton, co Leitrim, by Catharine, da. of Claud (HAMILTON), 1st BARON STRABANE [I.]. She, by whom he had ten children, d. 10 and was bur. 23 Jan. 1685 in St. Michael's [sic., but probably St. Michan's], Dublin. Funeral certificate [I.]. He d. Midsummer eve 1695. Will dat. 12 June 1690, pr. 1695 [I.].

III. 1695. SIR GUSTAVUS HUME, Baronet [S. 1638?], of Castle Hume aforesaid, 3d but only surv. s. and h.,[c] b. about 1670; suc. to the Baronetcy, 23 June 1695; was Sheriff for co. Fermanagh, 1701; M.P. [I.] thereof 1713-14, 1715-27 and 1727 till his death; P.C. [I.] to George I, 1714. He m. 11 Sep. 1697, at St. Michan's, Dublin (Lic. dat. 10 Sep. 1697), Alice, 1st da. of Henry (MOORE) 3d EARL OF DROGHEDA [I.], by Mary, da. of Sir John COLE, 1st Baronet [I. 1660], of Newland, co. Dublin. He d. s.p.m.s.[d] 25 Oct. 1731. Will dat. 18 Aug. 1729, pr. 21 Feb. 1731/2 [I.], and 1732 [E.] His widow, who was bap. 29 Dec. 1679, d. at Dublin 13 April 1750. Will dat. 18 April 1740, pr. 20 April 1750 [I.].

IV. 1731, to 1747. SIR CHARLES HUME, Baronet [S. 1638?], cousin and h. male, being only surv. s. of the Rev. George HUME, of Tully, co. Fermanagh, by Dorothy, his wife, which George (whose admon. [I.] was dated 6 May 1699) was 2d son of the 1st Baronet. He suc. to the Baronetcy, 25 Oct. 1731. He d. s.p. April 1747 (Pue's Occurrences), when the Baronetcy became extinct or dormant.

[a] See p. 441, note "a."

[b] G. W. Burtchaell, of the Office of Arms, Dublin, has kindly supplied most of the information in this article. The estate of North Berwick devolved on the Baronet's father, Sir John Home, on the death of Alexander Home, uncle of the said John, in or before Sep. 1608. See Wood's Douglas Peerage [S.], vol. ii, p. 178.

[c] Of his two brothers, James d. 1689, and John, who ent. Trin. Coll., Dublin, 30 May 1685, aged 18, d. 1690.

[d] An account of his six children, his three brothers (who all d. unm.), and six sisters is given in Archall's Lodge's Peerage [I.], vol. ii, p. 112, under "Drogheda." To this it may be added that Moore, the 1st son, ent. Trin Coll., Dublin, 28 Oct. 1721, aged 17.

BOURKE, Viscount Mayo [I.]:
cr. about 1638;(a)
extinct or dormant 12 Jan. 1767.

I. 1638? Miles (Bourke), Viscount Mayo [I.], who succeeded to that title (cr. 21 June 1627) as 2d Viscount 13 June 1629, was (apparently on the same date as was his s. and h. ap.) cr. a Baronet [S.], probably about 1630,(a) but there is no record of such creation in the Great Seal Register [S.], and the limitation is unknown. In the abovenamed peerage this Baronetcy continued merged, till on the death of the 8th Viscount and 7th Baronet, 12 Jan. 1767, both became extinct or dormant. See Peerage.

BOURKE:
cr. about 1638;(a) afterwards, 1649-1767, Viscounts Mayo [I.];
extinct or dormant 12 Jan. 1767.

I. 1638? The Hon. Theobald Bourke, s. and h. ap. of Miles (Bourke) 2d Viscount Mayo [I.] next abovenamed, by his 2d wife Elizabeth, da. of (—) Freke, was v.p. (apparently on the same date as was his said father), cr. a Baronet [S], probably about 1638,(a) but there is no record of such creation in the Great Seal Register [S.], and the limitation is unknown. The date was certainly before 1639 when, as "Knt. and Baronet," he was M.P. [I.] for co. Mayo. He m. firstly, Elizabeth (b. 1613), widow of Thomas Lewis, of Marr, co. York, da. and coheir of Thomas Talbot, of Bashall, in that county, by Anne, sister of John Rushworth. She d. s.p. He m. secondly, Eleanor, da. of Sir Luke Fitz-Gerald, of Tecroghan, co. Meath. This marriage was presumably before 1649, when he suc. to his father's honours becoming thus the 3d VISCOUNT MAYO [I.]. In that peerage this Baronetcy then merged, and so continued till on the death of the 8th Viscount, 12 Jan. 1767, both became extinct or dormant. See Peerage.

Memorandum.—Each successive eldest son and heir ap. of these Viscounts appears to have been, anomalously, considered as entitled to the style of a Baronet in his father's lifetime; on the ground, apparently, of such son of the 2d Viscount having been created a Baronet in the lifetime of his father.(b) In some instances it probably was, for various reasons, not assumed, but it is as well to set out each of the five cases in which it was or might have been so assumed.

(1) Theobald Bourke, a minor when he suc. his father, 12 Jan. 1652/3, as 4th Viscount Mayo [I.].

(a) See p. 441, note "a."

(b) The fact that the father having (though a Viscount) been cr. a Baronet (as well as, and probably at the same time as the son) may possibly have somewhat contributed to this extraordinary opinion. In Archdall's Lodge's Peerage [I.], vol. iv, 236, note, it is stated that "Mr. Lodge" (after stating that the creation by Charles I. of this Baronetcy must have been after that of the Viscountcy) says "certain it is that the eldest son of the Viscount Mayo enjoys the title of Baronet, and is stiled Sir, during his father's lifetime." The notion that the son and heir ap. of a Peer, who was also a Baronet, was entitled v.p. to his father's Baronetcy, was apparently held by Francis Holles, who was cr. a Baronet, 27 June 1660, and who subsequently, 17 Feb. 1679/80, suc. his father as the 2d Baron Holles of Ifield. He, in his will, dat. 3 Sep. 1680, speaks of his only surv. son (who, subsequently, 1 March 1689/90, succeeded to his titles) as being "called Sir Denzell Holles, Baronet." See Complete Peerage, by G. E. C., vol. iv, p. 245, note "c."

(2) Miles Bourke, br. and h. to the above, who, having been in his brother's lifetime heir presumptive (not apparent), is not likely to have assumed the Baronetcy before he suc. to the peerage, as 5th Viscount, 5 June 1676.

(3) Theobald Bourke, only s. and h. of the above; b. 6 Jan. 1681, who but three months later, in March 1681, suc. to his father's dignities as 6th Viscount.

(4) Theobald Bourke, 1st s. of the above; b. probably in or shortly after 1703. He was unquestionably styled Baronet[a] in his father's lifetime, to which title as also to the peerage he suc. 25 June 1741, as 7th Viscount.

(5) John Bourke, br. and h. to the above, to whom the same remark applies as to Miles, the 5th Viscount. He suc. to his brother's titles 7 Jan. 1741/2, but d. s.p.m.s., 12 Jan. 1767, when they became extinct or dormant.

BOURKE:

cr. about 1638: [b]

subsequently BARONS BOURKE OF BRITTAS [I.];

forfeited 1691.

I. 1638? THE HON. JOHN BOURKE, s. and h. ap. of Theobald (BOURKE), 1st BARON BOURKE OF BRITTAS [I.], by Margaret, da. of Richard (BOURKE) 2d EARL OF CLANRICARDE [I.]; was v.p. cr. a Baronet [S.], probably about 1638,[b] but there is no record of such creation in the Great Seal Register [S.], and the limitation is unknown. He m. in or after 1638, Margaret, widow of Walter BERMINGHAM (who d. 13 June 1638), da. of Thomas (FITZMAURICE), LORD KERRY [I.], by his 2d wife, Gillies, da. of Richard (POWER) BARON POWER OF CURRAGHMORE. He suc. his father in 1654 as the 2d BARON BOURKE OF BRITTAS [I.], in which peerage this Baronetcy then merged, and became forfeited therewith in 1691, on the attainder of his successor, the 3d Baron. See Peerage.

COOPER, or COUPER:

stated to be a Baronetcy [S.]; [c] created about 1638, or 1646. [d]

I. 1638? JOHN COOPER, or COUPER, of Gogar, co. Midlothian, only s. and h. of Adam COOPER, Clerk of Session [S.], by Katharine DENNISTOUN, his wife, suc. his father (who had purchased the estate of Gogar in or shortly before 1601) in 1608, and is said to have been cr. a Baronet [S.],[c] probably about 1638,[1] but "no patent is entered in the Great Seal Register, and it does not seem anywhere to be asserted that the original exists."[c] He m. in or before 1620, Helen SKENE, said to have been da. of Robert SKENE, of Halyards. He d. 30 Aug. 1640, at the blowing up of Dunglas Castle. His testament (Comm. Reg. Edinburgh) describes him as "John Coupar, of Gogar," the cautioner for the widow being "David Gray, Tailor, Burgess of Edinburgh." His widow, "Helen Skene, widow of John Coupar, of Gogar," was bur. 21 July 1667, at the Greyfriars, Edinburgh.

He d. s.p.m.,[e] in or shortly after 1686, when the estate of Gogar was sold to pay his debts.

III.[f] 1775. SIR GREY COOPER, Baronet [S. 1638?],[g] claiming to be cousin and h. male. He was s. and h. of William GREY, M.D., who practised as a physician at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, by Mary (m. in or before 1726), da. of Edward GREY, of Alnwick, which William[h] (who d. 5 May 1758), was only s. of another William COOPER,[h] M.D., who practised as a Physician at Berwick-upon-Tweed, who was s. of the Rev. James COOPER,[h] Minister of Wigton, 1664; of Mochrum, 1666; and of Humbie 1681, till deprived as a non juror in 1695, when he became Curate of Holyisland, near Berwick (where he died early in 1701), which James (though not licensed as a minister[i] till 16 Feb. 1663) is stated[g] to be identical with James (seemingly[i] born 1622), 2d s. of the 1st Baronet.[k] He was b. about 1726 at Newcastle-upon-Tyne; was admitted Theobald [afterwards 7th Viscount], 1st s. and h. of Theobald, 6th Viscount Mayo. This marriage licence, however, has never been noticed in any peerage. Certain it is that [the future 7th Viscount] Theobald Bourke, of Ballintubber, co. Mayo, Baronet, is so described in his mar. lic. with Ellis Agar, of Gowran, co. Kilkenny, spinster, 18 March 1726." [G. D. Burtchaell, Ulster's office].

[c] An article on "Cooper of Gogar," by "S," in The Genealogist [O.S., vol i, pp. 257-266 and 334], supplementing one in the Her. and Gen. [vol. viii, p. 193], deals fully with this family, and "furnishes a negative reply" to the two questions—(1), "Was a Baronetcy ever conferred on a Cooper, of Gogar?" and (2), "Is Mr. [William] Cooper, of Failford [in 1876], the heir male of the Gogar family?"

[d] The date of 1638 and the remainder to heirs male, are given in Playfair's Baronetage [S.]. In Paterson's Ayrshire, it is stated that the first Baronet "does not appear to have assumed the title. It is, however, sometimes alleged that the Baronetcy was not created till 1646 in the person of the son.". This date, "1646," is the one given in Edmondson's List of Scotch Baronetcies.

[e] He left two daughters and coheirs, viz., (1), Mary, who m. Thomas Chalmers, and had issue; and (2), Margaret, m. 28 Oct. 1680, Archibald Graham, Bishop of the Isles, by whom she had two daughters and coheirs.

[f] This numbering is exclusive of any who might have had a right to the (supposed) Baronetcy, after the death, about 1686, of Sir John Cooper, the s. and h. of John, the presumed grantee.

[g] According to the service of 1 Aug. 1775.

[h] None of these three persons assumed the Baronetcy, which, in the case of James, who for many years survived the 2d Baronet (said to be his brother), is (to say the least of it) very remarkable.

[i] See note "c" above.

[k] "One would expect to find the son of a gentleman, who had a residence in the town of Edinburgh, and whose estate was only at a distance of five miles, a graduate of the University there, but the name of this James is not on the list. Then he was not licensed till 16 Feb. 1663, when James, the son of Gogar, would have been over 40 years. It is not impossible that [James] the clergyman, was the James, yr. br. of Sir John, but it seems unlikely, and one would like to see the proofs that satisfied the jury." [See note "c" above].

to the Temple, and became a Barrister; was M.P. for Rochester, 1765-68; for Grampound, 1768-74; for Saltash, 1774-84; and for Richmond, 1786-90; was a zealous supporter of the Rockingham Ministry [1765-66], and was Joint Sec. of the Treasury (under three Ministries), 1765-82; was a Lord of the Treasury, April to Dec. 1783; P.C., 29 April 1796. Having suc. his father 5 May 1758, he was, 1 Aug. 1775, served heir male to Sir John Cooper, of Gogar, called the 2d Baronet and stated to have been brother of his great grandfather, James Cooper, by a service before the Sheriff of Edinburgh, which was, however, "never retoured to Chancery, and [even] if it had been, could have conveyed no right to a title which had no existence."(a) He accordingly after that date assumed the Baronetcy, that was ascribed in that service to the family of Cooper, of Gogar. He m. firstly, 5 Oct. 1753, Margaret, sister of Charles, 1st Earl Grey, da. of Sir Henry Grey, 1st Baronet [1746] of Howick, by Hannah, da. of Thomas Wood, of Falloden, co. Northumberland. She, who was bap. 8 Dec. 1726, d. s.p. in 1755. He m. secondly, 19 July 1762, Elizabeth, da. of (—) Kennedy, of Newcastle-upon-Tyne. He d., suddenly, 30 July 1801 at his seat at Worlington, co. Suffolk, aged 75, and was bur. in the church there. M.I. Will pr. 1801. His widow d. there, 3 Nov. 1809, aged (also) 75.

IV.(b) 1801. Sir William Henry Cooper, Baronet [S. 1638?].(c) 1st s. and h. by 2d wife; b. 29 May 1766; took Holy Orders; was a Prebend of Rochester Cathedral, 1793-97; suc. to the Baronetcy,(c) 30 July 1801, was sometime detained prisoner in France by Napoleon. He m., 21 May 1787, Isabella Ball, only da. of Moses Franks, of Teddington, co. Midx. He d. ~~about 1834.~~ Will pr. Jan. 1835. His widow d. 27 Jan. 1855, at Isleworth House, ~~co. Midx.~~, aged 85. Will pr. Feb. 1855.

V.(b) 1834? Sir William Henry Cooper, Baronet [S. 1638?],(c) only s. and h., b. 28 March 1788; suc. to the Baronetcy,(c) about 1834. He m. 10 April 1827, at St. Geo., Han. sq., Anne, 1st da. of Charles Kemeys-Tynte, of Kevenmably, co. Glamorgan, by Anne, da. of the Rev. Thomas Leyson, Vicar of Bossaleg, co. Monmouth. He d., s.p.s., 14 Jan. 1836, at Chilton Lodge (near Andover), Berks, aged 47. Will pr. Feb. 1836. His widow d. 17 Sep. 1880, at Leversdown, Bridgwater.

VI.(b) 1836. Sir Frederick Grey Cooper, Baronet [S. 1638?],(c) uncle and h.; b. 19 March 1769; was a "Colonel" before 1805; suc. to the Baronetcy,(c) 14 Jan. 1836. He m. 7 Jan. 1805, at St. Geo., Han. sq., Charlotte Dorothea (then a minor), 2d da. of Sir John Honywood, 4th Baronet [1660], by Frances, da. of William (Courtenay), 2d Viscount Courtenay of Powderham. She d. July 1811. He d. 23 Feb. 1840, at Barton Grange, Somerset, aged 71. Will pr. April 1840.

VII.(b) 1840, to 1850. Sir Frederick Cooper, Baronet [S. 1638?],(c) only s. and h., b. probably about 1808; suc. to the Baronetcy,(c) 23 Feb. 1840. He d. unm. 1850, when the issue male of his grandfather, Grey Cooper, became extinct, and the assumption of the Baronetcy(c) (commenced by his said grandfather in 1775) ceased.(d)

(d) The notice in Debrett's Baronetage for 1870, that William Cooper, of Failford, co. Ayr, claims this Baronetcy "as representative of the 3d son of the 1st Baronet," is not correct as far as such claim goes, though apparently the pedigree is correct. The matter is very fully discussed in The Genealogist [O.S., vol. i, pp. 257-266, corrected by p. 334], and in the Her. and Gen. [vol. viii. pp. 193-196], where is a quotation that the Rev. John Cooper, formerly Couper (who stated to be a Baronetcy [S.] ; (a) created about 1638, 1642, or 1646.

I. 1638? Sir William Dick, of Braid, co. Edinburgh,(b) s. of John Dick, Merchant Burgess of Edinburgh, by Margaret, da. of William Stewart, of Edinburgh, Writer, was b. 1580, and acquired a considerable fortune (estimated in 1642, at £222,166) as a merchant and Banker in that city; was Provost thereof, 1638-39; was a zealous Covenanter, advancing enormous sums for that cause, as, on the other hand, did he, in 1641, for Charles I, and subsequently, in 1650 (to the extent of £20,000), for Charles II. He was Knighted between 10 Aug. and 17 Nov. 1641, and is (apparently in error) supposed to have been cr. a Baronet [S.] about 1638, 1642 or 1646.(a) He was a member of the Committee of Estates, 1644-51, but, having incurred the displeasure of the then Government, was fined £64,934, and reduced to poverty. He m. Elizabeth, da. of John Morison, of Preston Grange. He d. at his lodgings (according to some, in the debtor's prison) in Westminster, 19 Dec. 1655, aged 75.

II. 1655. William Dick, of Braid aforesaid, grandson and h., being s. and h. of John Dick, "fiar of Braid" and (1628), Sheriff-Depute of Orkney, by Nicholas, da. of Sir George Bruce, of Carnock, which John was s. and h., ap. of Sir William abovenamed, but d., v.p., 1642. He suc. his grandfather, 19 Dec. 1655, but never styled himself a Baronet, which he undoubtedly would have done, after the Restoration, had such title ever been conferred. He, who was bap. 10 Aug. 1631, sold the estate of Braid in 1676, and, in a petition, dated 1681, states he had sacrificed £8,000, for payment of his grandfather's creditors. He m., in 1678, Elizabeth Duncan. He d. in or before 1695, when his widow was living. Her will (as Elizabeth Duncan, widow of Mr. William Dick, of Braid) pr. 24 April 1697, in the Edinburgh Commissariat Court.

III. 1695? William Dick, s. and h., aged 16 in 1695, being the son of "a poor widow"; was in 1707 an Ensign in the Foot Guards; was at the battle of Almanza; but afterwards settled in America, and was styled "Captain in the independant army of the State of New York." He is stated, as heir male of his great grandfather, to have assumed the title of Baronet, but such "is not the case."(b) He m. (—), widow of Capt. Foulis, but d. s.p.m., in 1733, his only child, Agnes, being served his heir general.

died s.p. 1789, aged 80), "considered himself entitled to the Baronetcy of Gogar, and was proceeding to claim it, but desisted therefrom on the appearance of Sir Grey Cooper, claiming descent from an elder branch." This John was elder brother to William Cooper, formerly Couper, of Curries' Close, High Street, Glasgow, merchant, who, in 1786, purchased the estate of Failford, which his descendants still hold.

(a) In Milne's List it is given without any date, and as "only in ane old list." In Beatson's List the date is 1638; in Debrett's Baronetage (1873) it is 1642; and in Dod's (1876) it is 1646.

(b) An accurate and very full account of this family and of "the pretensions to a Baronetcy" by the descendants of Sir William Dick, of Braid, is given by "S," [i.e., R. R. Stodart, Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86], in the Her. and Gen., vol. viii, pp. 257-269. The singular career of this Sir William is mentioned in Scott's Heart of Mid-Lothian. See also The Grange of St. Giles, by Mrs. J. Stewart Smith [Edinburgh, 1898].

IV. 1733. ROBERT DICK, of Frackafield, near Lerwick in Shetland, cousin and h. male. He was s. and h. of William DICK, of Frackafield aforesaid (bap. 5 Nov. 1679, at Kirkwall) who was s. of Capt. Andrew DICK, M.P. [S.], for the Orkney and Zetland Stewartry, 1678 (bap. 12 Dec. 1637, and living 1700), who was yr. br. to William DICK, of Braid. He became the "head of the family"[a] in 1733, but never assumed the title of Baronet. He m., in or before 1738, Jane DICKSON. He d. a bankrupt in 1743.

V. 1743. CHARLES DICK, of Frackafield aforesaid, s. and h., bap. 13 Oct. 1736. He never made up any title to the estate (which was sold by the creditors in 1770), and never assumed the title of Baronet, though in consequence of the assumption thereof in 1768 by his cousin (as below mentioned), he took steps to prove his position as heir male to Sir William DICK, of Braid, his grandfather's grandfather's father. He m. 11 Oct. 1760, Martha MONTGOMERIE. He was living in London 1805.

* * * * * * *

V bis. 1768, to 1804. SIR JOHN DICK, Baronet [S. 1638?],[b] after having been served, 14 or 21 March 1768, by a Jury in Edinburgh, heir male to Sir William DICK, of Braid, abovenamed, assumed the style of a Baronet,[c] on the supposition that such dignity had been granted to the abovenamed William, and that he himself was the heir male of the said grantee's body. He was 2d but 1st surv. s. and h. of Andrew DICK, of West Newton, co. Northumberland, by Janet, da. of Roger DURHAM, of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, which Andrew (who d. 1744, in his 68th year) was s. of Andrew DICK, of Newton aforesaid, s. of Louis DICK, 5th and yst. s. of Sir William DICK abovenamed. He was b. 1720; was a merchant residing in Holland in or soon after 1739; was British Consul at Leghorn, 1754 to 1771 and probably later, when for his services there to the Russian fleet, the Empress Catherine made him a Knight of the Russian Order of St. Alexander Newski.[d] He finally obtained the lucrative post of Head Auditor and Comptroller of the Army Accounts in London. He m. Anne, sister of General BRAGG, and da. of Joseph BRAGG, of Somerset. She, who was b. 13 Oct. 1720, d. 31 Jan. 1781. He d. s.p. 3 Dec. 1804, at Mount Clare, Roehampton, co. Surrey, in his 85th year. M.I. at Eastham, Essex. He left no portion of his fortune (above £70,000) to any of his relatives.[e] Will pr. Dec. 1804.

[a] See p. 448, note "b."

[b] According to the service of 14 March 1768.

[c] He was a descendant, but certainly not the heir male of Sir William Dick, of Braid. See p. 448, note "b."

[d] This, presumably, is the reason why he is stated in Playfair's Baronetage [S]. (appendix ccxviii) to have obtained from George III "the distinguished honour of Knight of the Bath," an honour which he certainly did not obtain.

[e] Annual Register, 1804, where the residuary legatees, in four equal divisions, are stated to be (1), Mr. Carr; (2), Mr. Simons, of Carlisle street, Soho, testator's apothecary; (3), the Rev. Mr. Cleaver; and (4), Dr. Vaughan, testator's physician. Playfair (as in note "d" above) writes that "Sir John's nearest relations and heirs were the Prestonfield family [i.e., the descendants of Sir James Dick, 1st Baronet (S. 1677) of Prestonfield, son of Alexander, 4th s. of Sir William Dick, of Braid], who would have succeeded to a large fortune, but Sir John was induced in his old age to leave almost the whole to a stranger and three of that stranger's friends."

VI. 1810? 1821. Sir William Dick Baronet [S. 1638?],[a] 1st s. and h. of Charles Dick, of Frackafield and Martha his wife, both abovenamed; b. 8 Dec. 1765; was sometime a Major in the East India Company's Service; suc. his father between 1805 and 1820; and was 15 Jan. 1821, served heir male of his lineal ancestor, Sir William Dick, of Braid, abovenamed, when he assumed the Baronetcy,[a] supposed to have been conferred on the said Sir William. He m., 27 April 1821, Caroline, widow of Lieut.-Col. Alexander Fraser (76th Regiment), da. of John Kingston, of Rickmansworth, Herts. He d., s.p.m., 17 Dec. 1840. The will of his widow (who d. at Bath), pr. Jan. 1843.

VII. 1840. Sir Page Keble Dick, Baronet [S. 1638],[a] br. and h. male; b. 29 Sep. 1769; suc. his brother, 17 Dec. 1840, and assumed the presumed Baronetcy.[a] He was of Port Hall, near Brighton. He m., 1795, Nancy, da. of Richard Partridge, of Birmingham. She d. 1850. He d. in London, 27 July 1851, aged 81. Admon., Jan. 1852.

VIII. 1851. Sir Charles William Hockaday Dick, Baronet [S. 1638?],[a] only s. and h., b., 1802; suc. his father, 27 July 1851, and assumed the presumed Baronetcy.[a] He m., in 1835, Elizabeth, da. of George Chasserau, of Brighton. He d., in straightened circumstances,[b] 3 Dec. 1876, at his residence, 42 Elm Grove, Brighton, aged 74. His widow d., apparently, in 1880.

IX. 1876. Sir Henry Page Dick, Baronet [S. 1638?],[a] only s. and h., b. 1853; suc. his father 3 Dec 1876, and assumed the presumed Baronetcy[a]; was sometime in the London and County Bank. He m. in 1880, Eliza, da. of J. Hylden, of Brighton.( )

cr. 1638?

"Seton of Tough [i.e., Touch], now of Culbeg," is said in Beatson's List of Scotch Baronets to have been cr. a Baronet [S.] in 1638. No such creation, however, is known.[d]

---

[a] According to the service of 15 Jan. 1821, "The evidence in support of descent is satisfactory" [see p. 448, note "b"], but, of course, it could not convey the right to a title that had no existence.

[b] It is stated that "in extreme old age" he was "so entirely destitute" as to be "unable to do more than keep the sticks and umbrellas of visitors" at the Brighton Museum. Two pamphlets were published at Brighton in 1864, on "the claims of Sir Charles W. H. Dick, Baronet" (as to £52,418, £83,988, etc.), on Government, and it is remarked thereon (see p. 448, note "b"), that "surely Government could not be blamed if some provision were made, even at this date, for the descendant of one [Sir William Dick, of Braid], who was ruined by his trust in the good faith of the authorities of his time."

[c] On 30 March 1881 was born "a son and heir" of "Sir Henry Dick, Baronet," at Islip street, Kentish Town. He received the name of Charles Henry Chasserau.

[d] Walter Seton, of Abercorn, was cr. a Baronet [S.], 3 June 1663. His grandson, the 3d Baronet, on the death of James Seton, of Touch, became the representative of that family, whose son, the 4th Baronet, was of Culbeg.

PRETYMAN:

GUTHRIE:

date unknown. Qy. about 1638.

"Sir Harie Guthrie, of Kingsward" [Qy. King Edward, co. Banff], appears without date, in Milne's List of Scotch Baronets, but nothing is known of this creation.

GORDON:

cr. 13 Aug. 1642;[a]

afterwards, since 1682, Earls of Aberdeen [S.].

I. 1642. Sir John Gordon, of Haddo, only s. and h. of George Gordon, by Margaret, da. of Sir Alexander Bannerman, of Elsick, which George (who d. v.p. Oct. 1610) was 1st s. and h. ap. of James Gordon, of Methlic and Haddo, was b. early in 1610; suc. his grandfather in Nov. 1624; was next in command of the Royal forces to oppose the Covenanters, and was in the action at Turreff in 1639. He joined the King at Newark, and was by him cr. a Baronet [S.], 13 Aug. 1642,[a] with remainder to the heirs male of his body. In Oct. 1643 he protested against the Covenant; was besieged in his house at Kelly, and taken prisoner at its surrender, 8 May 1644; was found guilty of treason, and accordingly beheaded at Edinburgh, 19 July following, aged 34. He m., in 1630, Mary, da. of William Forbes, of Tolquhoun. She survived him.

II. 1644. Sir John Gordon, Baronet, [S. 1642], of Haddo aforesaid, 1st s. and h., b. about 1632; suc. to the Baronetcy, 19 July 1644, which was, however, owing to his father's attainder, under forfeiture till the Restoration in 1660. He m. Mary, only da. of Alexander (Forbes), 1st Lord Forbes of Pitsligo [S.], by Jean, da. of William (Keith), 5th Earl Marischal [S.]. He d. s.p.m. 1665.

III. 1665. Sir George Gordon, Baronet [S. 1642], of Haddo aforesaid, br. and h. male; b. 3 Oct. 1637; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1665. Advocate, 7 Feb. 1668; M.P. [S.] for co. Aberdeen, 1669-74, 1678 and 1681-82. P.C., 1678; one of the Lords of Session, 1 June 1680; President, 1 Nov. 1681. High Chancellor [S.], 1 May 1682. He m., Anne, 1st da. of George Lockhart, of Torbrecks, by Anne, da. of Sir James Lockhart, of Lee. She, who became, in 1672, heir to her br., William Lockhart, was living when her husband, six months after having been made High Chancellor [S.], was cr., 30 Nov. 1682, EARL OF ABERDEEN, etc. [S.] In that peerage this Baronetcy then merged, and still so continues. See Peerage.

TURING:

cr. about 1642.

I. 1642? Sir John Turing, of Foveran, co. Aberdeen, s. of James Turing,[b] of the same, was b. about 1595; espoused the royal cause, and, having previously been Knighted, obtained in, or shortly before, 1641

a warrant for the creation of a Baronet [S.], which warrant he on 7 Aug. 1641 held, "to bestow to the best advantage,"[a] though it is presumed that he not long afterwards nominated himself as such Baronet [S.].[b] He was taken prisoner by the Covenanters, 27 May 1639, by whom his house of Foveran was subsequently sacked. He fought on behalf of the young King at the battle of Worcester, 3 Sep. 1651. He m. about 1620, Barbara, da. of George Gordon, of Gight. She d. Feb. 1639. He d. 1662.

II. 1662. John Turing, of Foveran aforesaid, grandson and h., being s. and h. of George Turing, by Margaret (marr. contract, 18 June 1652), da. of John Forbes, of Leslie, which George was only s. and h. ap., of Sir John Turing abovenamed, but d., v.p., between 1652 and 14 Feb. 1657. He suc. his grandfather in 1662, but never assumed the Baronetcy, to which he was heir, presuming the said Sir John Turing to have nominated himself as a Baronet. He sold the estate of Foveran, and d. unm. in the Canongate of Edinburgh, Feb. 1682, when the Baronetcy remained dormant for about 100 years.

* * * * * * *

III. 1682. John Turing, 2d cousin and h. male, being s. of John Turing, by Janet Seaton, his wife, which John (b. 1650) was s. of Henry Turing, next br. to Sir John Turing (who d. 1662) first abovenamed, to whose male representation he succeeded in 1682, when possibly, though not probably, he assumed the Baronetcy.[c] He was b. 1680, was in Holy Orders, and was sometime, 1703-33, Minister of Drumblade. He m., Dec. 1700, Jean, da. of Rev. John Dunbar, of Forglen. He d. 1733.

IV. 1733. Alexander Turing, 1st s. and h., bap. 9 Aug. 1702; was in Holy Orders, and was sometime, 1729-82, Minister of Oyne; suc. his father in 1733, when possibly, but not probably, he assumed the Baronetcy.[c] He m., in 1740, Anna Brown. He d. 1782, aged 80.

V. 1782. Sir Inglis Turing, Baronet[c] [S. 1642?] 1st surv. s. and h.; bap. 4 Dec. 1743; suc. his father in 1782, when probably (as certainly he did subsequently) he assumed the Baronetcy.[c] He, also, was in Holy Orders, and was Rector of St. Thomas-in-the-Vale, Jamaica, where he d. unm. in 1791.

[a] See Genealogist (O.S., vol. iii., pp. 65-68), in an article by "S * * *" (i.e., R. R. Stodart, Lyon Clerk Depute, 1863-86), on the "Traffic in Baronetcies in the seventeenth century," where it is stated that Sir John Turing, of Foverne, for £180 paid him by John Turing, of Covent Garden, Midx., agrees on 7 Aug. 1641, to give half of any money that should be paid for the Baronetcy by his nominee, to the said John, with whom for security he "leaveth the patent for y^e^ said Knight Barronett until we both jointly can find a seasonable opportunity to bestow it to the best advantage." This is conclusive evidence that, as late as Aug. 1641, he had not nominated himself as a Baronet, though the date of 1638 is positively assigned to the creation in Mackenzie's "Lay of the Turings."

[b] In like manner Sir Robert Carr, of Etal, co. Northumb., had, in 1647, two warrants of Baronetcy [S.], which he still held in 1661, when he asks for and obtains their renewal. What however, was their ultimate fate is unknown. A like warrant was obtained for John Bannatine, Minister of Lanark, who sold it (1676?) to his parishioner, Carmichael of Bonnington, who and whose issue male, held the title without dispute, till their extinction in July 1738; see Genealogist, as in note "a" above.

[c] This is on the supposition that the grant of the Baronetcy was to heirs male whatsoever.

VI. 1791. Sir Robert Turing, Baronet(a) [S. 1642 ?], of Banff Castle, co. Banff, br. and h.; bap. 25 Dec. 1745; suc. to the Baronetcy(a) in 1791, as to which "a service was expede at Banff" 9 July 1792.(b) He, who had acquired a fortune in India, returned thence in 1792 and settled at Banff Castle. He m. 12 Oct. 1797, at Edinburgh, Anne, da. of Col. Donald Campbell, of Glensaddel. She d. 7 Dec. 1809. He d. s.p.m. 21 Oct. 1831.(c) Will pr. June 1832 and Nov. 1851.

VII. 1831. Sir James Henry Turing, Baronet(a) [S. 1642 ?], cousin and h. male, being s. and h. of John Turing, of Campvere in Zealand, Factor, by Margaret, da. of Smart Tennent, of Musselburgh, Scotland, which John (who d., 1798, aged 48), was s. of James Turing, also of Campvere, Factor, which James (who d., 1788, aged 74), was s. of the Rev. Walter Turing, Minister of Rayne, co. Aberdeen, yr. br. of John Turing (d., 1738, aged 58), numbered (above) as the 3d Baronet. He was b. 10 Dec. 1791; suc. to the Baronetcy,(a) 21 Oct. 1831; was British Consul at Rotterdam, 1845-60, having previously been Vice-Consul there. He m. in 1821, Antoinette, 3d da. of Sir Alexander Ferrier, K.H. British Consul for the Hague,(d) by Antoinette Jones his wife. He d. at Rotterdam, 13 Feb. 1860, aged 68. His widow d., 9 April 1884, at Rotterdam, aged 80.

VIII. 1860. HAMILTON:

cr. about 1646 (e)

I. 1646 ? Robert Hamilton, of Silvertonhill, co. Lanark, s. and h. ap. of Edward Hamilton, formerly of Balgray, but subsequently of Silvertonhill aforesaid, by Marion, da. of James Mure, of Caldwell, was a steady Loyalist, and is said to have been cr. a Baronet [S.], by Charles I about

---

(a) See p. 452, note "c."

(b) See Genealogist as on p. 452, note "a"; it being there added as to the statement that this Robert had been "served heir in 1792," that "no such service was retoured to Chancery, and no record of it exists in the Sheriff Court books of Banffshire where Sir Robert resided." This Robert appears as the "present [1811] Baronet" in Playfair's Baronetage [S.], where, however, its Editor adds that "we are totally unable to trace any of the intermediate generations" from the 1st Baronet to him.

(c) The title was claimed in 1831 by John Turing, who, however, gave up his claim to James Henry Turing. [Pall Mall Budget, 13 July 1878].

(d) He died at Rotterdam in 1845, aged 72.

(e) The date of 1646 is usually assigned for this creation, though 1642 is a more probable one. There is no entry thereof in the Great Seal Register, or, apparently, elsewhere; neither is it in Milne's List, or even in that of Beatson. The grantee, Robert Hamilton, in his service to his uncle, William, in 1655, is not given any title at all, and in his service to his father, Edward, in 1666, is simply called Dominus, with no addition of Miles or Miles Baronettus, which last is usual in the case of a Baronet. On the other hand, Sir Frederic Hamilton recorded arms in the Lyon office in 1790, being styled in the entry in the Register, grandson and heir of Sir Robert Hamilton, 4th Baronet, who was great grandson and representative of Sir Robert Hamilton, cr. a Baronet of Nova Scotia, by patent, anno 1646, under the great seal of Charles I. [ex inform., Sir J. Balfour Paul, Lyon King of arms]. The Baronetcy is omitted by Playfair in his existing Baronetage [S.] of 1811.

1646.[a] He suc. his father in 1649; sold the estate of Provan,[b] and burdened his other estates. He was M.P. [S.] for Lanarkshire, 1661-63, as (possibly) also 1678. He m. Anne, 2d da. of John (HAMILTON), 1st LORD BELHAVEN [S.] (who d. s.p.m., 17 June 1679) by Margaret, illegit. da. of James (HAMILTON), 2d MARQUESS OF HAMILTON [S.].

II. 1670? SIR ROBERT HAMILTON, Baronet[c] [S. 1646?], of Silverstonhill aforesaid, s. and h.; suc. to the Baronetcy[c] on the death of his father. He (or, possibly his father) was M.P. [S.] for Lanarkshire, 1678;[d] served in the army of Holland, under the Prince of Orange; was subsequently Capt. (1688) and Major (1700), in the Earl of Leven's Foot. He m. firstly in Holland, Aurelia Katharine VAN HETTINGEN, of Friesland. He m. secondly, Isabel, da. of John HAMILTON, of Boggs, in Scotland. He d. at Fort William, 1708.

III. 1708. SIR JOHN HAMILTON, Baronet[c] [S. 1646?], s. and h. by 1st wife; suc. to the Baronetcy in 1708.(c) He m. firstly, Mary, da. of (—) LEWERS. He m. secondly, Rachael, da. of (—) LEMPRIERE. He d. in Jersey in 1748. Admon., 21 Jan., 1748/9, to a creditor. His 2d wife survived him. Her will pr. 1751.

IV. 1748. SIR ROBERT HAMILTON, Baronet[c] [S. 1646?], s. and h. by 1st wife; suc. to the Baronetcy(c) in 1748; was an officer in the army, becoming eventually, 1777, Lieut.-Gen.; was sometime Col. of the 108th and subsequently, 1770, of the 40th Foot. He m. firstly, Louisa,[e] sister of Sir Hutchins WILLIAMS, 1st Baronet [1747], da. of William Peere WILLIAMS, Barrister, by Anne, da. of Sir George HUTCHINS. She d. 15 Jan. 1777. He m. secondly, 6 Feb. 1778, Anne, da. of Sir John HEATHCOTE, 2d Baronet [1733], of Normanton, by Bridget, da. of Thomas WHITE. He d. in Grosvenor street, 10 Aug. 1786. Will pr. Aug. 1786. The will of Dame Anne HAMILTON was pr. 1816.

V. 1786. SIR FREDERIC HAMILTON, Baronet[c] [S. 1646], grandson and h. being only s. and h. of John William HAMILTON, Capt. 54th Regiment, by Mary Anne, da. of Richard ST. GEORGE, of Kilrush, co. Kilkenny, which John William was 1st s. and h. ap., by his 1st wife, of the late Baronet, but d. v.p. He was b. 14 Dec. 1777, in Dublin; suc. to the Baronetcy,(c) 10 Aug. 1786, and was in the East India Company service, 1792-1833, being sometime Collector of Revenues for the district of Benares. He m., 20 Aug. 1800, Eliza Ducarel, yst. da. of John COLLIE, M.D., of Calcutta. She d. 11 Feb. 1841. He d. 14 Aug. 1853, aged 76. Will pr. Nov. 1853.

VI. 1853. SIR ROBERT NORTH COLLIE HAMILTON, Baronet [S. 1646?], 1st s. and h., b. at Benares aforesaid, 7 April 1802; was in the Bengal Civil Service, 1819-1860; Magistrate and Collector of Meerut, 1834; Civil and Session Judge of Delhi, 1837; Sec. to the Lieut. Gov. of the N.W. Provinces, 1841; suc. to the Baronetcy, 14 Aug. 1853; Agent to the Gov. Gen. in Central India, 1854; was thanked by Parl. for his services during the Indian mutiny, and made provisional member of the Council of the Gov. Gen. in 1859; K.C.B., 1860; Sheriff of Warwickshire, 1866. He m. 9 Oct. 1831, at St. Marylebone, his cousin, Constantia, 3d da. of Gen. Sir George ANSON, G.C.B., by Frances, sister of Sir Frederic HAMILTON, 5th Baronet [S.] abovenamed. She d. 28 Nov. 1842. He d. at Avoncliffe, near Stratford-on-Avon, co Warwick, 30 May 1887, in his 86th year. Will pr. 26 Sep. 1887, above £18,000.

VII. 1887. SIR FREDERIC HARDING ANSON HAMILTON, Baronet [S. 1646?], 2d but 1st. surv. s. and h., b. 24 Sep. 1836; ed. at Eton; sometime Major 60th Rifles; suc. to the Baronetcy, 30 May 1887. He m. 18 Sep. 1865, Mary Jane, da. of H. WILLAN.

(a) See p. 453, note "e."

(b) His grandmother, Elizabeth, wife of Sir Robert Hamilton, was da. and heir of Sir William Baillie, of Provan, President of the Court of Session.

(c) According to the entry in the Lyon office. See p. 453, note "e."

(d) Both in 1661 and 1678 the M.P. is styled "Knight" only.

(e) In Anderson's House of Hamilton she is called "Mary."

Supplemental Creations by Charles I.

A search, kindly made by J. Horace Round through the Signet office Docquet Books (vols. 12 and 13) from the beginning of the year 1642, discloses some creations of Baronetcies by Charles I, which are not in the list given in the "appendix to the 47th report of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records" or in the extracts from Black's Docquets[a] printed at the end thereof.[b] The date of the month is not given in these books.

These creations are eight in number, viz.,

1643, Oct. — "Edward Bathurst, of Lechlade, co. Gloucester, Esq." [See this creation set out on page 237.]

1643/4, Feb. — "Robert Dallison, of Greetwell, co. Lincoln, Esq." [As to this creation, which, apparently, is nowhere else noticed, see p. 456 below].

1644, April. — "Sir John Awbrey [Aubrey], of Llantrithed, co. Glamorgan, Knt." [See under 1660, in which year the grantee[b] obtained a patent of Baronetcy.]

1644, April. — "Francis Gamull, of Chester, co. Cheshire, Esq." [As to this creation, which, apparently, is nowhere else noticed, see p. 456 below.]

1644, April. — "Evan Lloyd, of Yale, co. Denbigh, Esq." [See this creation set out on page 246].

1644/5, Feb. — "William Courtnay [Courtenay], of Powderham, co. Devon, Esq." [See this creation set out on page 241, where, however, the date is given as "Feb. 1644," instead of "Feb. 1644/5."]

1644/5, March. — "Wolstan Dixie, of Market Bosworth, co Leicester." [See under 1660, in which year the grantee[b] obtained a patent of Baronetcy.]

1645, July. — "John Knightley, of Offchurch, co. Warwick, Esq." [See under 1660, in which year the grantee[b] obtained a patent of Baronetcy.]

"These creations are described as By warrant under His Majesties signe Manuall. procured by Mr. Secretary Nicholas, Lord Digby, or some other."

It may be noted that the creation of John Preston [of Furness co. Lancaster], given as 1 April 1644 in Black's Docquets occurs as early as May 1643 in the Signet Office Docquet Book, this being an earlier stage in the process of creation" [J. Horace Round].

[a] "The Ashmolean MS. from which Black's Docquets are printed has now been ascertained to be only the draft. The fair copy of it has been found in the Crown Office at the House of Lords" [J. Horace Round].

[b] Three Baronetcies, of which no patents exist, were conferred, as under, viz., 24 Nov. 1644, on John Acland, of Columb John, Devon; 5 Nov. 1644, on Henry Boothby, of Clattercote, Oxon: and 21 March 1644/5, on Thomas Edwards, of Grete, Salop; but though these grants were followed by patents from Charles II, such patent in each case was not to the original grantee, who had died before that event, but to his son. Those persons, therefore, that held that dignity before the patentee of Charles II (in the case of Acland these were as many as four) are dealt with in this Volume, pp. 236, 239, and 243.

DALLISON :

cr. Feb. 1643/4.

existing as late as April 1714.

I. 1644. Robert Dallison, of Greetwell, co. Lincoln, s. and h. of William Dallison, of the same, by Hester, da. and h. of George Blesby, of Blesby in that county, was admitted to Gray's Inn, 17 Aug. 1632, and, again, 23 June 1637; was aged 17 in 1634 (Visit. of Lincolnshire); matric. at Oxford (Christ Church), 20 May 1636, aged 18; raised a regiment of horse[a] at his own charge for the King, and was cr. a Baronet, the docquet being dated Feb. 1643/4 (see p. 455). He, with his father, was at the siege of Newark in March 1644, and both were living 1650, when discharged of their amercement. He was living after the Restoration.

II. 1670? Sir Robert Dallison, Baronet [1644], apparently s. and h., presumed to be identical with the "Sir Robert Dallyson, Baronet, of Greetwell,[b] co. Lincoln," who had lic. (Vic. Gen.) 17 April 1677 to marry at Swinderly, co. Lincoln, Mrs. Alice Andrewes, of Lincoln, widow.

III. 1680? Sir Thomas Dallison, Baronet [1644], apparently s. and h., presumed to be identical with "Sir Thomas Dallison, Baronet, of St. Paul's, Covent Garden, Midx., Bachelor," administration of whose goods was granted 25 June 1713, to a creditor, "Dame Alice Dallison," the mother of deceased, having renounced.

IV. 1713, to 1720? Sir James Dallison, Baronet [1644], possibly br. and h. male, supposed to be identical with "Sir James Dalyson, Baronet, of Chelsea, Midx., about 25 and a Bachelor" 13 April 1714, when he had lic. (Vic. Gen.) to marry Anne Symonds, of the same, aged 18, spinster, with consent of her mother, Anne, wife of John Symonds, then at Barbadoes.

GAMULL :

cr. April 1644;

ex. or dormant Nov. 1654.

I. 1644, to 1654. Francis Gamull, of Chester, s and h. of Thomas Gamull, Recorder of that city, by Alice, da. of Richard Bavand, was bap. at St. Oswald's, Chester, 25 Nov. 1606; suc. his father 11 Aug. 1613; was Knighted at Oxford, 25 April 1644, and was cr. a Baronet, the docquet bearing date that same month (see p. 455). He was Alderman of Chester; Mayor, 1634-35; and M.P. thereof 1640, till disabled 22 Jan. 1643/4. He was a Royalist delinquent, and fled the kingdom, his estate being sequestrated in July 1649. He m. firstly, Oct. 1624, at Eccleston, Christiana, da. of Sir Richard Grosvenor, 1st Baronet [1622] by his 2d wife, Lettice, da. of Sir Hugh Cholmondeley. She was bur. 11 June 1640, at St. Mary's, Chester. He m. secondly, Elizabeth, widow of Robert Ravenscroft, da. of Sir Randle

(a) See Mis. Her. & Gen., 2d S., Vol. ii, p. 289, in a petition (without date) to the King from "Sir Robert Dalyson, Baronet." At p. 259 thereof is an extract from "Lloyd's Memories," stating that besides "Sir Thomas Dallison, a Lancashire [Qy. Lincolnshire] gentleman . . . . whose loyalty cost him his life at Nazeby and £12,000 in his estate . . . . there were in the King's army three Colonels more of that name, viz., Sir Charles, Sir Robert, and Sir William, who spent £130,000 therein."

(b) The parish registers of Greetwell do not begin till 1723, after which date there are no Dallison entries in them.

MAINWARING, of Over Peover, by Jane, da. of Sir Thomas SMITH, of Hough, co. Chester. By her he had no issue. He d. 27 Nov. 1654, and was bur. at St. Mary's aforesaid, when the Baronetcy presumably became extinct, and certainly was never subsequently assumed.[a] Admon. 12 Dec. 1660 to his da., Sidney BREREWOOD, otherwise GAMULL. His widow d. at Chester, 13 Aug. 1661, and was bur. at Harden with her first husband.

[a] According to the pedigree in Ormerod's Cheshire (edit. 1882, vol. iii, p. 475), he had three sons, viz. (1), Thomas Gamull, slain in the Civil Wars, v.p., and bur. 12 June 1644 at St. Mary's, Chester; (2), Edward Gamull; and (3), Edmund, who died s.p. It is there stated that Edward, the 2d son, was bur. 16 Feb. 1663/4, at St. Mary's, in which case he would have been entitled to his father's Baronetcy during the ten years that he survived him. It is, however, not unlikely that the Edmund who died in 1664 was only a relation, not a son, of Sir Francis. See particulars as to the career and estates of this Francis in the Royalist Composition papers, where it is to be noted he is occasionally styled "Baronet."
